LOWELL LEGIONNAIRES TO ATTEND CONVENTION IN PITTSFIELD

Thousands of Veterans of World War Will Hit the Trail for Scene of Annual Meeting—Lowell to Fight for Representation in State Executive Board

All roads in Massachusetts will lead to Pittsfield tomorrow, when thousands of veterans of the World War move over the trails from every section of the state to attend the annual convention of the state department of the American Legion.

HEARING OF PERJURY CHARGE AGAINST FIRPO POSTPONED

Case Adjourned Until Sept. 20 at Request of Firpo's Counsel—Firpo's Fight With Harry Wills is Scheduled for Sept. 11

NEW YORK, August 19.—Federal Commissioner Hittchcock today postponed until September 20 the hearing of perjury charges made against Louis Angel Firpo, by Canon William S. Chase on behalf of the New York Civil League. Firpo's fight with Harry Wills is scheduled for September 11.

GROUP OF WHITE MEN AND WOMEN SERFS TO BLACK MASTERS

Tragic Fate of Unfortunate Whites Revealed in Report of South African Expedition—Whites Live in State of Subjection to Blacks

LONDON, August 19.—Out of the great African interior by way of Cape Town comes a pathetic story of a group of white men and women who are living in a state of subjection to blacks who exercise complete mastery over them.

NORTH BILLERICA MAN SOUNDS WARNING

John J. O'Brien of North Billerica, whose automobile was struck by a machine driven by John Yunkick in North Billerica, on August 6, informed a couple of hundred spectators in the district court this morning that "Lowell people can't get away with the stuff in Billerica that they think they can."

REAL ESTATE TRANSFER

DARING ROBBERY IN DORCHESTER

Two Armed Young Men Held Up Pair and Escaped With Loot of $1800

Used Ruse of Telegram To Deliver to Gain Entrance to House

BOSTON, August 19.—Using the ruse of a telegram to deliver to gain entrance, two young men armed with revolvers early this morning held up a house in the Dorchester district and escaped with loot valued at $1800.

Break at Winthrop
WINTHROP, Mass., August 19.—Burglars some time last night broke open the safe of the Metropolitan Coal company's office and stole $112. A patrolman discovered the break this morning.

FEAR THAT INJURIES WILL PROVE FATAL

A fall from a window in her home on the fourth floor of a tenement block at 38 Elm street to a picket fence yesterday afternoon, resulted in little Alice Rodriguez receiving injuries which it is believed will prove fatal.

FINED FOR SELLING NON-KICK BEER

An unusual complaint was filed in district court this morning when Geo. Corcoran of Bedford avenue was arraigned and found guilty of illegally keeping for sale a non-intoxicating beverage. He was fined $50.

EXPENSIVE TRIP FOR SALISBURY MAN

Frank Barber made a costly trip from Salisbury here to Lowell yesterday. His expenses, after paying a $10 fine for drunkenness in district court this morning, totaled $40, as he reported to the police last night that he had been "rolled" for $30 while sleeping in a Merrimack street house.

300 GIRLS SEEK JOBS DRIVING AIRPLANES OVER N. Y. CITY

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—More than 300 girls are willing to take jobs driving airplanes over New York City at night.

They have made their wishes known in answer to an advertisement appearing in a New York newspaper.

A corporation has started a novelty advertising plan, using electrically lighted airplanes to circle over Times Square at 11 p. m.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Autoist Fined $25 for Ignoring Police Officer's Signal to Stop

New Hampshire Man Charged With Attempting to Steal Auto—Other Cases

Refusal to stop when signalled by an officer cost Henry F. Maguire $25 in district court today. Officer Jeremiah Dooley testified that defendant Kent was going in his automobile when signalled to stop at the corner of Middlesex and School streets last Sunday.

MARTIAL LAW IN FORCE AT PORT SUDAN

CAIRO, Aug. 19.—Disturbances took place last night at Port Sudan and martial law was proclaimed, the newspaper Syassia declared today.

DRIVE TO ENFORCE PARKING RULES

During the enforced absence of Sgt. Edward Connors, traffic supervisor, who is confined to his home with illness, Sgt. Hugh Maguire is acting as temporary supervisor, and has started an intensive campaign to enforce the parking regulations, especially in Merrimack, Central and Prescott streets, where daily violations are reported.

PARENTS CLAIM BOY NEGLECTED

Death Was Due to "Post-Diphtherial Paralysis" of the Heart

Dr. Drury Says Diet Had Nothing to Do With Ultimate Death of Child

Hospital Superintendent and Wife Interviewed—Child Attended by Ward Maid

Dr. Pierre Brunelle, acting chairman of the board of health in the temporary absence from the city of Dr. Francis R. Mahony and Fisher H. Pearson, fellow-member of the board, this morning investigated, at the isolation hospital, conditions surrounding the death there Sunday morning of Edward Tremblay, 8 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Tremblay of 27 Fourth avenue.

The chief development of the investigation was the statement of Dr. John N. Drury, attending physician, that the cause of death was "post-diphtherial paralysis of the heart." This report had been made by the physician on the death certificate.

The father told of visiting the hospital and finding that his trained nurse was attending the child but that a ward maid had given it fish and canned peaches for supper on Thursday night. No change of diet was recorded on the chart, the investigation this morning showed.

Dr. Drury was notified by the parents that a ward maid rather than a nurse was attending the child. He told the board this morning that he went to the hospital Friday morning and left word for Dr. Smith or Mrs. Smith, neither of whom he could find, that a trained nurse should constantly be with the child. Despite this, the doctor stated, a male orderly spent the supper period with the child on both Friday and Saturday nights.

Dr. Smith and Mrs. Smith stated that there are insufficient nurses at the hospital while Dr. Drury maintained that there are a sufficient number of "exceptionally fine nurses, trained for emergency work" who could be made constantly available by a readjustment of working schedules.

SAYS FORGED TELEGRAM INDUCED EMPEROR TO DECLARE WAR

Col. Seliger Says Fake Message Which Stated 400 Soldiers Were Killed by Serbians When There Were But Four, Brought War Declaration

VIENNA, Aug. 19.—It was a forged telegram that induced Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary to declare war against Serbia in July, 1914, according to a statement by Colonel Seliger, who at the time the war began was chief of the press bureau of the Vienna war office.

Colonel Seliger says that a telephone message to the press bureau reported that Francis Joseph at last had signed the war declaration, but that he had been persuaded in doing so only after great difficulty. The actual signing did not take place, asserts the writer, until Count Berchtold, Austrian foreign minister, showed the emperor a telegram which stated that Serbians had raided Bosnian territory and in the fighting there had been some 400 soldiers killed.

It was the very next day, says the writer, that Count Kinsky, the famous courier, informed the press bureau chief that the telegram was a forgery and that actually there had been but four casualties in the fighting along the Bosnian frontier.

Just who it was who forged the telegram is not stated.

POLICE REPORT KID MCCOY, HELD IN DEATH CASE, BECAME MENTALLY UNBALANCED IN CELL TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, held on suspicion of murder in connection with the death last Tuesday night of Mrs. Theresa Morg, became mentally unbalanced in his cell here today, according to a police announcement.

HEAVY RAIN AT SCENE OF NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 19.—Rain threatened to dampen the notification ceremonies here tonight for Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential candidate.

Evans was drenched by an early morning thunder storm which resolved itself into a slow drizzle that kept decorations soaked and caused worried looks on the faces of those in charge of the notification ceremonies.

The weather bureau said that a temporary let-up in the storm was in sight late in the day, but the forecast was unable to guarantee that it would not rain tonight.

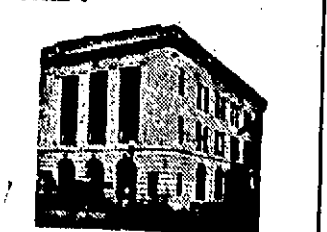

General Dawes and the committee in charge declared, however, that the ceremonies would be held "rain or shine," and preparations were made to spread a canopy over the speaker's stand in the event of rain.

BITTER FIGHTING IN TRANS-JORDANIA

JERUSALEM, August 19 (By the Associated Press.)—Bitter fighting took place yesterday between the Wahabists and government forces in Trans-Jordania, according to news which reached here today.

The Wahabists attacked and occupied several towns, including Tarsus. Then the government forces, under command of Khalid Bital and Arif, made a counter-attack and drove the invaders out of Tarsus. The government forces, assisted by local tribesmen, killed 200 Wahabists, took many prisoners and captured a number of camels and rifles.

MORIARTY WILL BE CANDIDATE

Daniel F. Moriarty announced yesterday that he would positively be a candidate for representative in the 15th district despite the fact of his nomination papers having reached the state house too late to have his name on the ballot. Mr. Moriarty said that he would run as an independent candidate at election time.

A Story Without Words

GIFT NIGHT TONIGHT
AT THE COMMODORE

Tonight will be known as "Gift Night" at the Commodore ballroom with check dancing throughout the evening. The admission will be 10 cents.

Manager Roane expects a shipment of "Alma dolls" which will be given to the lucky ladies attending tonight's affair, while valuable prizes have been selected for the gentlemen. Upon entering the hall each person is given a coupon and later in the evening the lucky individuals will be awarded the favors.

Wednesday evening will be "Old Times" night with Joe Hibbard's orchestra playing all the old favorite dance numbers of other days. While it is called old times night there will be several numbers for those who are partial to the modern dances. Last week's event was a big success and those present thoroughly enjoyed the evening's entertainment, so much so that another affair of its kind was requested by several of the patrons. These parties are growing in popularity and are not only attended by old timers but many of the younger set as well. The admission for this event is 50 cents.

Thursday evening will be an open date at this resort as no booking has been made for the date in question. Miner-Doyle's team will play for check dancing Friday and Saturday evenings.

TIME DRESSES
The dresses are undoubtedly the favorites for fall. It is most interesting to see how belts have disappeared from most of the smart frocks and that they are not missed at all.

They attended St. Francis DeSales school together, went to Boston High and Boston College together, were ordained together, and now leave for Kienning Fu Fokien, China—together.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Both the railroad and industrial averages were at new high ground for the year when the stock market opened today. The average of 20 leading industrials was 103.57 or 13 1/4 points above the year's low, and the average of 20 rails was 92.15, or 12 1/4 points above the year's minimum. Both averages recorded a net gain of about one-half point in yesterday's trading.

An extra dividend of 25 cents has been declared by directors of the National Transit company, payable Sept. 15 to stock of record Aug. 30.

The new high price of 147 1/2 for recent years touched by Union Pacific yesterday as it led the advance of railroad issues was attributed to high earnings, the strong financial position of the property and possibilities of large oil developments in the company's lands.

DEATHS

MACNEIL—John Edward Macneil, a former resident of Cape Breton, died yesterday at St. John's hospital, after a brief illness. He was an employee of the Biltmore car shops and was a member of the mechanical engineers' union. He is survived by his wife, Gertrude (O'Reilly) Macneil; three daughters, Mary, Margaret and Elizabeth; two sons, Alfred and John; his father, Michael Macneil of Cape Breton; one sister, Miss Mary Macneil of Boston, and three brothers, Joseph of Boston, John of Sydney, N. S., and Michael of Watford, N. S. The body was taken to the rooms of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell and later will be taken to his home, 22 Webster avenue, Halifax and Sydney papers please copy.

BERUBE—The many friends of Miss Agnes Berube will regret to learn of her death, which occurred yesterday at her home, 128 Tremont street, after a short illness, aged 31 years and 5 months. Walsh of Winthrop, four nieces, Mrs. William Slater of Brighton, Mrs. Louise Moran and the Misses Catherine and Annie Walsh of Winthrop, and one grandniece, Mrs. Robert Murray of Brighton.

FUNERALS

McANENEY—The funeral of John McAnaney, a well known and esteemed resident of this city for the past 43 years, took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his home, 1211 Gorham street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The cortege, preceded by an automobile filled with flowers, proceeded to the Sacred Heart church where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass was sung by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I. The choir under the direction of Miss Veronica Barr, sang the Gregorian chant, the solo being sustained by Mrs. James Garrity, Miss Mary Garrity, Miss Veronica Barr and Mr. John McAnaney. Mrs. Veronica Barr presided at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes and of spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Messrs. Frank Green, John J. O'Connor, Patrick Carrique, Edward C. Walker, Thomas A. Sheahan and John J. Mahoney. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fletcher, O.M.I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Mahoney Bros.

Governor Bryan Promises Help to Farmer and Labor in Acceptance Speech

GOV. BRYAN FORMALLY ACCEPTS VICE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

Nebraska Executive Lays Down in Unmistakable Terms the Principles and Issues Upon Which He Will Go Before People for Victory at Polls

CHARLES W. BRYAN

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 18.—(By The Associated Press)—Before a large and colorful gathering of long time friends and supporters and national and sectional party leaders, Governor Charles W. Bryan last night formally accepted the nomination for vice-president by the democratic party and laid down in unmistakable terms the principles and issues upon which he will go before the people for victory at the polls.

In the center of the football field at the University of Nebraska, Memorial stadium, Governor Bryan made his speech of acceptance, following the lead of his party's standard-bearer, John W. Davis, who a week ago chose the outdoors for launching the democratic campaign at Clarkburg, W. Va.

Governor Bryan definitely opened his campaign with a promise to the progressive farmers and wage earners that the democratic party would stand as a unit in seeking a solution of their difficulties. Senator Harrison of Mississippi, who delivered the notification address, also acclaimed the democratic organization as the only one to which the progressive elements could look for direction and leadership and asserted the presidential race would be between the two major parties.

Praises Party's Platform

The vice-presidential candidate praised his party's platform as "broad, strong and progressive enough to justify the support of those who believe in equality before the law," and declared the democrats have presented a program of progressive policies "for which the party stands as a unit, without the intervention of faction, bloc or section." He pledged his full support to Mr. Davis and declared both he and the presidential candidate are in harmony with the platform upon which they will fight for electoral support.

"By the selection of one from the heart of the great middle west as its candidate, the democratic party recognizes the importance of agriculture as one of the basic industries of the nation," Mr. Bryan asserted, adding that "we have the assurance that our party is in direct sympathy with the needs and advancement of the farmers of the country."

Pledge Self to Task

"It is unthinkable," he said, at another point, "that the great host of progressive farmers and wage earners, both organized and unorganized, who I know from active association and cooperation in service for many years, having this great party organization, present now as a full instrument through which to work their will, should permit a division of strength and make possible the triumph of the forces of reaction and selfish interest."

He felt, he said, that it was but due to say that he was "conscious of no obligation to any interest or any individual, but that he would embrace me in the discharge of the duties of this office." He accepted with the solemn pledge to added, that "every ability I can exercise and every effort I make, will be with an eye single to the material, moral and spiritual welfare of my country and my countrymen."

Blames G.O.P. for Calamities

Honesty, efficiency and economy in government were declared by the nominee as the need of the hour.

He laid to the door of the republican administration the responsibility for the "harvest through the country," "duplication of government work, unnecessary boards and commissions, high cost of government and excessive taxation."

He dwelt particularly, however, on agriculture and charged the republicans with changing the farmers' condition, "from prosperity to adversity," "their policy," he said, of reducing the higher surplus schedules on incomes and removing the tax from the producer had shifted the burden to the

of extracting from the confusion and disorder incident to such an administration the slightest opportunity for assistance or relief.

Graft and Corruption

"Congress, through the coalition of progressive independents and democrats, and over the protest of a reactionary republican leadership in the congress, might be able to pass some legislation, but it would be met, as it has been, by the vetoes of an unsympathetic president."

Defeat of the ship subsidy bill, the battle waged against the "iniquitous and indefensible" provisions of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law, that of the Mellon tax plan and adoption of an opposition substitute, and the "long and hard fight to rid this administration of graft and corruption," were detailed as achievements of the "progressive forces which would deny, during the last four years."

President Coolidge's reference in his acceptance speech to agriculture and tax questions were attacked by Senator Harrison in sarcastic terms.

"It must be refreshing to the great agricultural west," he said, "after living through the lean years of the republican administration—confronted as it has been with a situation deplorable in the extreme and hardly comparable to any other in this generation—that the republican nominee for president should acknowledge his acceptance speech in speaking of agriculture, 'The glad tidings of temporary relief, I propose, therefore, to appoint a committee to investigate and report measures to the congress in December that may help secure this result which we all desire.'"

"The president overlooks the fact that in June, 1921, while vice president, at the direction of congress, he appointed a committee to study the needs of agriculture and to make recommendations to the congress. The republican nominee has forgotten that that committee made its report in the fall of that year, and up until this good hour he has done nothing toward applying any of the recommendations applied or enacted into law."

"In the same speech it was kind of the president to admit that he had previously through presidential ukase or otherwise declared to be impossible, namely prosperity under a democratic tax bill."

Bryan Accepts Nomination

Gov. Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska in accepting "the democratic vice-presidential nomination here last night praised the party platform as broad, strong and progressive enough to satisfy the principle of 'equality before the law' and a fit instrument through which the farmers and wage earners might work their will without dividing strength and making possible 'the triumph of reaction and selfish interest.'"

John W. Davis, the presidential nominee, and himself were termed "in harmony with the platform upon which we have been nominated." The democratic party stands as a unit, "without the intervention of faction, bloc or section," he declared, "free from obligation to either individuals or interest that would prevent it from being used to restore confidence in government and economic justice to the nation."

Blames G. O. P. for High Prices

His selection as "one from the heart of the great middle west" as the vice-presidential candidate Gov. Bryan hailed as "the democratic party's recognition of 'the importance of agriculture as one of the basic industries of the nation.'"

Political unrest and discontent throughout the country are a protest against the inaction of those in public office, he asserted, coupling the "failure of the republican administration to enforce the law against conspiracies in restraint of trade and illegal combinations of business, which stifles competition has increased the cost of living and permitted the profiteering to ply his trade without let or hindrance."

Entrance of some states into the field of commerce in which he and the state of Nebraska were among the leaders, he attributed the failure of the national republican administration to enforce the law against private monopoly. Although, he continued, millions of dollars were saved to the people in their coal, gasoline and oil bills, he did not favor such municipal or state competition except when government officials become corrupt and the federal government fails to function for the protection of the masses. The alternative result would be, L. W. W., bolsheviks and anarchy in the community and state, he declared.

Outstanding Issues

Gov. Bryan in discussing what he termed "a few of the outstanding issues uppermost in the minds of the people of the great agricultural state," included "women's worth and equality," child labor, the democratic party's interest in and support of labor, the needs of agriculture, water power development, law enforcement, and the outlawing of war."

The nominee expressed appreciation of the desire of the citizens of Lincoln, where he has made his home, to have the notification made here, "I am indebted to the people of Lincoln and of Nebraska for whatever success I may have achieved," he said.

He referred to his connection for more than 20 years with the publication of "The Commoner," issued by him and his brother, William Jennings Bryan, as having given "an opportunity to apply the principles of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none.'"

Equal Rights to All

"As a business man who has been endeavoring to apply business principles to government and not as an experienced platform speaker, I will give all the support to our national leader that my ability will permit," Governor Bryan said.

The success of the nation, composed of diverse peoples and activities, requires that the desires and interests of each shall be subject to the rights and needs of all, with individuals, groups, factions and organizations restrained to the extent that equal rights of all shall not be impaired, he declared.

The Democratic Platform

"It is the most progressive platform ever promulgated," he declared.

He paid a tribute to his running mate, saying the spirit of unity rose

Chief Points in Bryan's Speech of Acceptance

Charges Republican administration responsible for high cost of living by laxity in enforcing laws against monopolies and illegal combines.

Asserts "buying of immunities, issuing of permits, hoisting of tariff schedules and granting of government oil leases in return for campaign contributions must be uprooted and destroyed."

Assails war propaganda and mobilization demonstrations as inimical to the prevailing sentiment of the country.

Says all legislation for the benefit of the wage earner rests on the first sentence of democratic party platform: "Labor is not a commodity; it is human."

Stresses necessity of relieving distress of farmer by economic adjustments. Blames republican party for present condition of agriculture.

SHAVER TELLS BRYAN DAWES NOTIFICATION TO "GO TO IT" AT EVANSTON TONIGHT

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Lincoln returned to normal today after having last night witnessed its fourth celebration attending the notification to members of the Bryan family of their nomination by the democratic party.

Williams Jennings Bryan has been honored by middle western citizens on three different occasions when he was notified of his nomination for president. Last night "Brother Charlie," governor of the state, and its adopted son for thirty years, received the highest honor in his political life when he was officially tendered the nomination as democratic candidate for the vice-presidency.

Democratic party leaders overnight shifted the political spotlight from Lincoln to Chicago, Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the national committee returning on a midnight train with other party dignitaries.

Governor Bryan yesterday went over with the democratic field marshal some of the details of his itinerary, but no announcement has yet been made of any dates or places. Mr. Shaver, however, said he told the governor to "go to it" and indicated the nominee would tour this state before going elsewhere.

Presiding over the ceremonies, which were broadcast by radio through four powerful stations, was the first woman ever to preside at a capacity—Mrs. Emily Newell Blair Joplin, national committeewoman from Missouri, and vice-chairwoman of the national committee.

Surrender of the support of William Jennings Bryan to his brother was announced by the former in a brief speech which brought the ceremonies to a close.

REPUBLICANS WILL RALLY IN WESTFORD

A big republican rally will be held at Westford field, Westford, next Saturday afternoon, at which several candidates for the various national and state republican offices will speak.

There will be a ball game between Chelmsford A.A. and the Littleton town teams, together with other sports and a band concert in the afternoon. A dance will be held in the town hall in the evening. A. W. Hartford is chairman of arrangements.

and reason triumphed in the nomination of "that able lawyer, that trained diplomat, that experienced statesman, that champion of the rights of humanity, that progressive democrat, John W. Davis."

"The buying of immunities; issuing of permits; hoisting of tariff schedules and the granting of government oil leases in return for campaign contributions must be uprooted and destroyed. If this government is to endure," he asserted, adding that men must be selected for public positions because of honesty and ability, rather than social qualities or political strategy."

Righteous Cause Will Triumph

Every righteous cause will triumph sooner because of women's political activity, and the welfare, education and protection of child life and the care of mothers are of first importance, he said.

Labor Must Be Dealt with Humanly

Labor must be dealt with humanly, asserted Gov. Bryan.

"All legislation for the benefit of the wage earners rests on the first sentence of our platform's labor plank, 'Labor is not a commodity; it is human,' he said. "The 'captains of industry' have their place and should be protected in their rights, but those whom they employ and whose labor they direct have rights as sacred and essential as their employers to industrial welfare and our political progress."

He termed the republican administration's attitude toward labor unfair and said recent action regarding railway mail as "economy at the expense of labor."

The democratic party's pledge of all its energies towards outlawing war could not be stronger and express the sentiment of a large majority of the American people, Gov. Bryan declared. War propaganda and mobilization demonstrations are unnecessarily inflammatory and misleading, he said.

Law Enforcement

The nominee criticized the republican party for its attitude towards agriculture, holding it to blame for deplorable conditions of the farmers' conditions from prosperity to adversity, and for spreading industrial depression and unemployment.

"The democratic party has proven itself to be the friend of the farmer in the past and the platform adopted in the recent national convention provides for the most complete and practical relief for the farmer that any political party or organization has ever conceived," he said.

Gov. Bryan spoke in support of the development of water power, and strict public control of, and conservation of, all natural resources.

"Laws should be obeyed by all regardless of whether they are that individual may like or dislike them," he said.

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 18.—Charles G. Dawes waited at his home here today for the coming of republican leaders to notify him of his nomination as republican vice-presidential candidate.

The notification will take place at ceremonies to be held tonight on the lawn of the state's Dawes home, starting at 8 o'clock. Central daylight saving time. The exercises are to be preceded by a monster parade of the old-fashioned type, designed to give the whole affair something of the flavor of a big political rally.

Everything was in readiness here for the notification. Officials of the republican national committee working with Evanston citizens in arranging for a hundred thousand people to gather about the Dawes home and along the nearby Lake front should the weather be favorable.

Thousands upon thousands will hear the proceedings by radio as engineers have installed apparatus linking up 16 of the largest radio stations of the country, extending from New England far into the west. The radio-casting will start at 6:45 p. m. Central standard time with a description of the preliminary events.

Mr. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, will preside at the ceremonies. The notification will be offered by one of Mr. Dawes' neighbors, the Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist church of Chicago, and the benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. Hugh Patrick Smyth, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church of Evanston.

The notification address will be made by former Representative A. W. Jeffers of Nebraska, who placed Mr. Dawes' name before the Cleveland convention. He was selected to take the place of Theodore B. Burton, temporary chairman of the Cleveland convention who is now abroad.

Mr. Dawes' address will immediately follow that made by Jeffers and with the benediction, the ceremonies will end.

LA FOLLETTE TO DELAY STUMPING TOUR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin practically has decided to wait until mid-September to launch his active campaign for the presidency.

A number of invitations have been received for him to get underway with a Labor day address, but it was said today at his headquarters that he prefers to wait until a later date to make his first speech.

It is probable that Senator Wheeler of Montana, Mr. La Follette's running mate, will begin a stumping tour by the first of September. The itineraries of both candidates will be determined at conferences which will begin after the arrival here, within a day or two, of Senator Wheeler from a vacation spent in New England.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS ENTERTAIN AT NABNASSET

Lowell's Y. M. C. A. boys, capably acting as hosts for many relatives and friends at Nabnasset yesterday, provided a sparkling minstrel show and other entertainment in generous measure for camp visitors to the number of more than four hundred, all of whom were delighted to be present and partake of the "Y" home-baked refreshments. The weather conditions were ideal.

The entertainment program was presented upon a stage erected under towering pines. Twenty-five boys appeared in the minstrel aggregation. Lively music, good jokes, clog dancing and song singing featured the clever performance.

Norman Lang was interlocutor, and among the "end men" were Charlie Ellis, Kenneth Keith, Bob Friend, William Dexter, Archie Pickens and William Clark. Henry Sargent was piano accompanist. Features of the program included songs by Ellis and Friend, and songs of the day were featured in solos by Pickens, Dexter, Keith and Clark.

A collection was taken up for the benefit of the West Chelmsford improvement association during the performance.

Tomorrow evening the annual banquet will be held and several Y. M. C. A. executives will attend. Camp will be broken on Thursday morning and most of the boys now at Nabnasset will return to their homes. Thirty of the "honorary men" have a treat coming to them. They will be given an automobile ride which will take them to Montreal, thence to Niagara Falls and back to Lowell. The trip will last about eight days and will be under the supervision of the director of the camp, T. R. Williams.

WARNS G. O. P. OF NOTABLES CALL ON PRESIDENT

Pattangall Says Maine Victory for Republicans Means National Defeat

Democratic Candidate for Governor Denounces K. K. K. in Addresses

FARMINGTON, Me., Aug. 18.—In red hot speeches against the Ku Klux Klan which he delivered yesterday in this town, Chisholm, Phillips and Strong, William R. Pattangall, democratic candidate for governor of Maine, declared that a state republican victory in September would mean the national defeat of that party at the polls in November. He based this statement on his assertion that the fight here is for the supremacy of the Klan, pure and simple.

Whirlwind Tour

Mr. Pattangall held his first meeting of the day at Chisholm, where about 200 very enthusiastic men and women applauded his arraignment of the Klan. The next speech in the whirlwind tour of the county was made at Strong, which, the citizens claim, was the birthplace of the republican party. Mr. Pattangall says that this is an inaccurate statement, however, claiming that the natal place of the G.O.P. was in the west.

Mr. Pattangall pointed out to his audience that the Fellowship Forum, the national organ of the Klan, carried as its leading article in the issue of August 16 a statement that Senator Brewster is the candidate of the Klan of Maine for governor.

Urges G.O.P. Repudiate Klan

Mr. Pattangall said in part: "If the people of Maine regard the election of President Coolidge of vital importance and seriously believe that our September election influences the result of the presidential election in November, they should join us in defeating the Klan candidate for governor."

"If Senator Brewster is elected because of the insistence on the part of republican managers that 'a vote for Brewster is a vote for Coolidge,' the result will justify President Coolidge's opponents in the use of the slogan, 'a vote for Coolidge is a vote for that man' and he will be nearly in other states for a victory achieved in Maine under those circumstances."

Hints at Unholy Alliance

"The short-sighted opportunists who are at present in charge of the republican party in Maine cannot see beyond the 31st of September. If they could do so they would hesitate to unite the forces of the Coolidge administration with the Klan for the purpose of making a personal attack on the democratic party."

"Such a program may appear judicious in a few of Maine's most backward communities, but it will prove a boomerang in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and other liberal and doubtful states and if our campaign is to be conducted on the lines indicated at present, every democrat in Maine who can speak or write will consider it his duty to make clear to the voters of these states the unholy alliance between the national republican party and the Ku Klux Klan that exists in Maine."

G.O.P. Men Must Take Stand

"Every candidate for public office who has respect for public opinion, or any respect for himself, in Maine or out of it, must eventually declare himself on the greatest issue which our generation has met. My stand on this question is reasonably well known. Mr. Redman, our candidate for United States senator, Mr. McIntyre, Mr. Stevens, Mr. Tebbetts and Mr. Ingraham, our candidates for congress, have all taken a similar stand."

"It is up to Senator Fernald, and Congressmen White, Nelson and Hershey to declare for themselves. Senator Brewster does not need to declare himself even if he had the frankness and courage to do so. He is as much a candidate of the Klan as though he had been nominated in a klavern."

Democrats' Position Clear

The democratic party of Maine made its position clear in the platform adopted at Lewiston when it stated that: "We stand for government of, by, and for the people, participated in by every citizen and administered for the benefit of all, and denounce as vicious and dangerous each and every attempt to substitute therefore government by oath-bound fraternities."

"John W. Davis made his position on the question clear in his speech of acceptance. I have no doubt as to the stand which General Dawes will take on this position although he may not declare himself at Lewiston Park next Saturday because he may not understand the political situation in Maine."

"Before the campaign closes, President Coolidge will be obliged to definitely state his position and it is only fair to assume, until he does so, that he will be in opposition to the vicious attempt to substitute invisible government for constitutional government."

"At present the republican managers of Maine are doing President Coolidge and General Dawes a gross injustice by linking up their campaign with the cause of the Klan."

"If they are successful in their efforts they may win the Maine election but they will sacrifice the national election. Maine democrats and Maine republicans should unite in defeating the Klan in September. They can then divide on legitimate lines and fight the national campaign freed from this compromising problem."

WILL KEEP OPEN FOR REGISTRATION

The office of the board of election commissioners will be open tonight for registration of voters for the state primaries, closing at 9 o'clock. The first evening session, held last night, resulted in 67 being added to the precinct lists and it is anticipated that an even greater number will be added tonight and Thursday night, night sessions for those two nights also having been advertised.

Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Harvey Firestone Visit Summer "White House"

Inventor and Manufacturers and Their Families Motor to Coolidge Home

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 18.—President Coolidge was host today to fellow vacationers—Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Harvey Firestone. Word was received early last night that the party planned a visit here today and the president arranged for their reception at his father's home.

The famous inventor and manufacturers have been travelling together with their families on outings for several summers. This year they are making vacation headquarters at The Wyndside Inn, Sudbury, Mass., about 200 miles from here. President Harding was their guest on a vacation jaunt just after he entered office.

Mr. Ford, Mr. Edison and Mr. Firestone and his son, Russell, arrived in Ludlow, 12 miles from here, last night and motored to the Coolidge home this morning.

The visit is one of the few Presidential visits which has included in except with members of his family, since coming here last Saturday for a twelve day vacation. Meanwhile he has been resting—reading and walking about the farm—and attending to such government business as is necessary.

Mr. Coolidge has also found relief from the severe hot weather which prevailed in Washington prior to his departure, the coolness yesterday making necessary a fire in the stove in the living room of the house.

A row of benches has been set up in front of the general store for use of the visitors. On his trips to the store, John Coolidge, father of the president, always is the centre of a gathering, and he obligingly answers the many questions.

Mrs. Coolidge set up a small wooden wind vane on a fence post just across the road from the family home yesterday afternoon. The place was made by Calvin Jr., her son who died last month, when he worked on his grandfather's farm here several summers ago. When Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were here last summer the boy wrote and asked his mother to have the vane taken down before winter. Later yesterday the president went out with Mrs. Coolidge and inspected the vane, the spinules of which again were swirling in the face of the sharp wind.

MRS. COOLIDGE'S REPLY

Letter Sent Mrs. Ingersoll in Response to Message of Sympathy Made Public

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A letter which Mrs. Calvin Coolidge wrote to Mrs. Oliver Robinson Ingersoll of Brooklyn in response to a message of sympathy at the time of the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., was made public today by Mrs. Ingersoll.

In giving the letter to the Associated Press, Mrs. Ingersoll said she believed she was fulfilling Mrs. Coolidge's desire to send a personal message of appreciation to each of the thousands of persons who sent their condolences to the White House by the number of letters.

Mrs. Coolidge expressed regret that she could not answer every letter adding: "The little cards seem so cold in response to such warm expressions of sympathy." Her letter to Mrs. Ingersoll, written from the White House on Aug. 18, follows:

"Thank you for your kind letter of sympathy. It is one of the comparatively few letters laid aside from the many thousands for me to read and, somehow, I wanted to thank you myself. It is a great regret to me that I cannot answer every letter, the little cards seem so cold in response to such warm expressions of sympathy. But that is a physical impossibility—I cannot even read them all—so I satisfy—or try to—myself with writing a very sincere appreciation to each, hoping in some miraculous way that it will spread and make itself felt wherever a kind thought has been sent out to me. 'Do hymns ever sing themselves over and over to you?' This is the one which I have me to me most often since Calvin went home. Rather it is a part of the last verse of a hymn:—

"I know not where His islands lift
Those fringed palms in air
They cannot drift
Beyond His love and care."
"Sincerely yours,
"GRACE COOLIDGE."

PREMIER MACDONALD AS PEACEMAKER

Premier MacDonald of England seems to have been the chief peacemaker in the deliberations of the Paris conference convened for the purpose of solving the reparation issue between France and Germany. So deep and bitter were the mutual prejudices of the representatives of these two countries, that it was certainly a prodigious task to bring them to an accord on such vital questions as the scale of reparations to be paid by Germany and the time allowed for payment, the evacuation of the Ruhr and the solution of very many other concomitant issues arising therefrom or associated therewith.

Perhaps the most notable incident of the conference was the triumph over international enmities to the extent that Premier MacDonald was able to induce Premier Herriot of France and Chancellor Marx of Germany to clasp hands in mutual felicitation over the progress made toward an international accord upon the issues coming down from the war.

This act of Premier MacDonald shows that he is a real peacemaker, and real peace without any dread of war is what the world needs today and what the nations are longing to see established on a firm basis.

But the settlement of the complicated issues has been only tentatively arranged. The plan has to be ratified by the French parliament and by the German Reichstag. The Dawes plan places Germany under an obligation to pay tribute to France and Belgium for fifty years. The initial transaction which provides for a loan of $200,000,000 to Germany is rather pleasing and undoubtedly helped very much to win her acceptance. Germany under the provisions of an international mortgage to the allies relinquishes control of her railroads, her financial institutions and her principal industries. The proposed loan will be issued to rehabilitate the finances of Germany and to start up her industries from which the allies expect to get most of their reparation payments. It is difficult to say just how this settlement will work out through the period of its existence. It is easily conceivable that changes may come to sweep away the present government of Germany and so also with the allied powers; but under the present arrangement, it seems that the allies will hold to the terms of settlement regardless of upheavals, unless the agreement be modified or made more lenient as time passes.

DARROW CRITICISES PUBLIC

Lawyer Darrow, counsel for Leopold and Loeb, criticizes the public for expressing a desire for the conviction of his clients; and he uses rather profane language in designating the popular attitude in this respect. He must remember, however, that unless the public takes interest in the outcome of such matters, its agencies of justice will soon become corrupted and will have no background of respect and, therefore, no potency as a deterrent from the commission of crime. It is to be remembered that crime is an attack upon society, and it is the part of wisdom and of safety to give heed to all such assaults. When accused murderers plead guilty to the crime of murder, while admitting their sanity and confessing knowledge of the difference between right and wrong, as did Leopold and Loeb, the public naturally believes there is not much to be done aside from applying the penalty of the law.

That has been the usual procedure in the past; but now Mr. Darrow, after bringing in experts and endocrinologists, thinks that their view of the case should be accepted by the courts and the public with the result that the defendants would escape the punishment they justly deserve.

The public does not accept that view of the case and neither, we hope, do the courts now conducting the trial. Mr. Darrow thinks the public is unfair because it refuses to believe the plea of the experts in behalf of the defendants as anything more than an ingenious plan of defeating justice, if the defendants have no more than baby emotions, the fact did not appear in their manner of planning the murder and trying to evade detection. They knew thoroughly what they were doing; and if it were not for the fact that able lawyers are paid large sums for trying to save them from the gallows, we should hear none of this plea about glandular control and the alleged moral irresponsibility of these two intellectuals, both products of one of the leading universities of the country.

The public wants to see the law enforced without fear or favor and with adequate punishment of the guilty, which alone will vindicate the administration of justice and uphold respect for the law throughout this country, even among those who are most disposed to set it at defiance.

MRS. FERGUSON WINNING

Mrs. Ferguson, candidate for governor on the democratic ticket, to succeed her husband, who was removed by sinister influences, has won the first bout in the primaries against anti-Clan opposition. The final round will take place this week. It looks as if Mrs. Ferguson will sweep all opposition aside and be the next governor of Texas. This the fight is not one conducted on principle or the fitness of the candidates, but upon sectional issues, mostly those stirred up by the hooded order. This foolishness will go on for some time or until people begin to exercise common sense and see that no such spirit of intolerance can be encouraged in this country unless at the expense of wrecking the constitution, and tearing down the grand principle of religious freedom to place in position and power intolerance, bigotry and malevolence incarnate. The slogan, "We for Mrs. Ferguson," is sweeping the state to such an extent that it is confidently expected that Mrs. Ferguson will win the nomination which, in Texas, is equivalent to an election. Afraid to call Mrs. Ferguson bad names, her opponents are hurling all kinds of opprobrious epithets at her husband, claiming that he will be the real governor if she is elected.

THE PLANET MARS

Next Saturday, the astronomers tell us that the planet Mars is to be closer to the earth than it has been for centuries. But we expect that the astronomers will get no new light on the subject most widely agitated relative to Mars, to wit, as to whether the planet is inhabited by sentient beings. It may be and they may be so different in their intelligence and mode of existence that they would understand but little of our physical and intellectual qualities.

The lines on Mars that resemble canals lend color to the belief that they are artificially constructed waterways; but on the contrary they may be fissures in the surface of the planet. Our telescopes are not likely to reveal anything entirely new relative to the planet as the difference in a few million miles in the distance from the earth is but a small matter when we are dealing with the immense distances of the planets from the earth. The mean distance of Mars from the sun is 141,000,000 miles, or 45,000,000 miles farther away than our planet.

INSTITUTE OF PROPAGANDA

The Institute of Politics at Williams-town is little better than the open forum conducted every Sunday afternoon on Boston common, where preachers, pacifists, red radicals and soviet propagandists hold interminable discussions.

It is the medium through which some of the most notorious fanatics, radicals and propagandists get their ideas passed out to the public under the assumption that it is news.

Radical and un-American utterances are not less so because of being uttered by some erratic college professor or even by some federal judge who takes advantage of this forum to air his narrowness and thereby demonstrate his unfitness for the official position he holds.

The Williamstown Institute of Politics would be more aptly named the "Williamstown Propagandist Institute."

SEN. WHEELER'S REGRETS

Senator Wheeler is sorry Mr. Davis did not speak sooner of the abuses of the Harding-Coolidge administration. It was not the duty of Mr. Davis to usurp the functions which properly belonged to public officials elected by the people. He, therefore, did not deem it expedient to come out as a public censor, to assail the republican administration while Senators Walsh, Wheeler and a great many others were paid for doing that business through membership in congress. On the other hand Mr. Davis may express surprise that Senator Wheeler did not take up the maintenance of republican officials much sooner than he did. If he had, matters might not have reached the disgraceful crisis revealed in the various investigations.

BACK UP GOODWIN

If the courts would back up Registrar Goodwin in his effort to put reckless drivers off the highways, he might soon reduce the number of auto accidents by one-half. Jail sentences for drunken and other reckless drivers appear to be the most effective remedy; but unless promptly applied on the first or second conviction, it is evident that the offenders will be encouraged to keep right on. Registrar Goodwin cites cases in which some offenders were convicted several times for driving under the influence of drink and did not stop until a jail sentence was imposed. Judge Enright of the local court has the right idea of dealing with such cases.

According to the communist leader, W. G. Foster, capitalism is the great curse of this country. There are a great many people, however, who feel that the great trouble with this country at present is, that we need more capital invested in productive industry.

That was a great big and happy crowd that attended the movies and band concert on the South common last night. Such shows are well worth all they cost.

We have already had a taste of fall weather, a warning to our city noddies to push the outdoor work.

If music is the language of love, a bass drummer hates everybody.

The wild rumor that bobbed hair is going out of style has ceased to be a hair-raising story.

Once they married in haste and repented at leisure, but now they marry in haste and repent at work.

A Thought

Wisdom is the health of the soul.—Victor Hugo.

Terribly Misinformed

"Are you sure that I shall recover?" an anxious patient once asked a physician. "I have heard that doctors sometimes give wrong diagnoses, and have treated patients for pneumonia who afterward died of typhoid fever." "You've been woefully misinformed," replied the medico indignantly. "If I treat a man for pneumonia, he dies of pneumonia."

Intensive Selling

A watchmaker and a jeweler got a sign painter to fix up a new and decorative sign for him. The sign painter evolved an elaborate "W" with so much scroll work that it looked more like an "M." Plenty of people read it that way. One of them remarked to the proprietor: "Watchmaker and jeweler, eh? That's intensive selling."

A Dollar a Word

A magnate on trial had a very eloquent attorney. The summing up speech attracted a large gallery, and one of the listeners was so deeply impressed that he leaned over to the defendant and said: "What a lawyer that man is. I wish I could know about that man." "I know," replied the magnate, "but I do know that what he is saying is costing me at least a dollar a word."

Foxy Waiter

The city man was in the habit of lunching regularly at the same restaurant. One day he called the waiter to him and said: "John, instead of tipping you every day I'm going to give you a lump sum at the end of every month. It will be more convenient for me." "Thank you, sir," answered the waiter, touching his forehead. "But I wonder if you'd mind paying me in advance?" "Well, that's rather a strange request," returned the customer. "However, here's 10 shillings. I suppose you are rather hard up for the moment, or is it that you don't trust me?" "No, sir," smiled John, slipping the money into his pocket. "Only, I'm leaving here today."

Stabbing the Horse

Jenks was what is called a self-made man, and people were ready enough to admire the pluck that had taken him to his present wealth and power. At last, however, two or three people got tired of hearing him brag about himself and, in particular, Graham, a clergyman, was very fed up. He resolved to pay Jenks back in his own coin. Meeting him in the street, he announced: "I came into this city, sir, as a small boy. I had no shoes on my feet, and I was without a penny in my pocket." "But," repeated Jenks, astonished at the news, for he had known Graham for many years, "I always thought you were born here." "So I was," answered Graham with a smile. "Doesn't that prove what I say?"

An Elk

Dedicated to Grand Exalted Ruler James G. McFarland
When a man can see in his brother man
More good and less of ill;
When he can meet with fame, and keep
His head upon his shoulders still;
When he can work for the sake of working
And care not for the gain;
When he can thank God for adversity—
For strength to start again;
When he can see his business as a chance to serve his fellow man
And apply the Golden Rule, and make it
His daily working plan;
When he can look across the muddy wallow
And see the fragrant flower;
When he can stay his axe and stand beside
The tree, and feel its power;
When he can stalk wild game without a gun,
And learn of Nature's plan
And know that life is life and it is one,
And God is in every man.
When he can sing the songs of boyhood days,
And romp upon the green;
When he can share his wealth with charity
Nor let his act be seen.
When he can pause a moment of each day,
To live again in memory with the boys
Who've passed on down the trail;
When he can see his flag—the Stars and Stripes,
And love it as he should,
To die for it! But, better far, to live for it
And to be understood;
When he can bare his soul and tell
The world
He lives with no regrets.
Then he's an Elk, American.
A gentleman who never forgets.
—JAMIE HERRON.

PLAN OBSERVANCE OF DEFENSE DAY

Observance of Defense Day, Sept. 12, by Lowell Post of the American Legion was last night left in the hands of a committee composed of Dana Palmer, John A. Bates, Michael H. Harrington, Charles A. Stevens, James P. MacReady, John P. O'Grady and John J. Walsh, Senior Vice Commander George A. McCarthy presided over last night's meeting and it was voted to ask other veteran and affiliated organizations as well as the city government and school children to be represented at a meeting on Defense Day plans which will be held Aug. 25 in Liberty hall.

The post committee will appear at tonight's meeting of the city council to urge fitting civic observance of the day and to invite the council to participate in the meeting planned later in the month. The post last night voted to send a rifle team to Wakefield next Sunday to compete in the annual Loken shoot. The team will be made up of Luther Cushman, George S. Crowell, James Hourie and Arthur Moran. Henry Sullivan was named chairman of a committee to arrange a star evening at Martin Luther grounds to be given the latter part of the summer.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Lowell Kennel club members will be interested to know that a venerable friend of the canine in all breeds—Dr. J.E. De Mund, of New York—has now thrown his weight behind the work of the American Distemper committee, which is heading a drive in this country to abolish a dread malady which annually kills more canines than all other diseases combined. Dr. De Mund is president of the American Kennel club. He once was quoted as saying that the Lowell Kennel club was one of the most progressive and enthusiastic organizations in all the club territories of the United States. He referred, I presume, to the local club's flourishing membership of large proportions, the high-class "A.K.C." shows and sincerity of dog-lovers, feminine and masculine, who are doing an enormous amount of good by quinine and light animal diseases that endanger the lives of favorite, four-footed friends 365 days in the year.

Dr. J.E. De Mund is not only well known in Lowell Kennel club circles, but is perhaps the most noted fancier and dog lover in the country. He has informed Charles R. Greco, secretary-treasurer of the American distemper committee, with offices in the Ames building in Boston, that American Kennel club will do all in its power to advance the work of the drive. Leading members of the Lowell club have agreed to contribute to the fund on the subject and will do their part in disseminating facts and figures and good advice. A message from the "A.K.C." president, just received in Lowell, reads as follows:— "The recent number of the American Kennel Gazette, Dr. De Mund, in a special message to dog owners, urged that every member of the organization who are enrolled in the organization, do his share in helping to advance the work of the drive. We need your part to help the drive and then, in an unobtrusive manner, look at your dog and tell him what you've done. This campaign is bringing a large number of members clubs of the 'A.K.C.' into line. They are doing all or a certain proportion of the work of their previously held shows, to the cause, while contributions are being received daily from individual dog-lovers all over the United States."

Architect Charles R. Greco expects to complete on or about Sept. 1, all work on the extensive blue prints he is now painstakingly preparing, showing requirements necessary for the foundation and construction of Lowell's new district court house. When the plans are fully drawn up and approved by the court justices and the city council, the building will be erected in the center of the city, near the intersection of the city hall and the city hall. The building will be a two-story structure, with a central tower, and will be a landmark in the city. The architect has performed his task wonderfully well and with attention to the minutest details called for by his advisers. The plans are now being prepared for the city council to approve. The plans are now being prepared for the city council to approve.

Of interest to many Lowell people is the recent announcement of the engagement of Miss Alice O'Connell, a niece of Cardinal O'Connell, to Edward A. McLaughlin, Jr., of Boston. Miss O'Connell was born in Lowell and lived in Burras street previous to her removal to Boston. In the Irish, she attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart and later studied at Manhattanville convent in New York. She is a prominent member of the Cecilia Guild, the Age of Clubs and the League of Catholic Women. Mr. McLaughlin is a graduate of Boston college in the class of 1915 and was graduated from Harvard law school in 1919. He is a member of the Boston City club, the University club, Chestnut Hill Golf club and the Boston chamber of commerce. He is associated with the law firm of Loring, Conlidge, Noble and Boyd of Boston. His father is Edward A. McLaughlin, clerk of the house of representatives. No date has been set for the wedding.

Postmaster Naxler A. Delisle wishes, through this column, to clear employees of the local postoffice of any blame whatsoever in connection with the failure of papers of three candidates for state office from this city to reach the secretary of state on August 5th, although mailed at 9:30 on the morning of the 5th. Mr. Delisle had the parcel believed to have contained the papers, traced from the time of its delivery at the Middle street postal station, where it was accepted by the government and registered, to the time it was placed on a train bound for Boston. The parcel, he said was registered at the Middle street station at 9:30 a. m. and was despatched to Boston on the train leaving Lowell at 12:15 p. m. (daylight saving time) due to arrive in Boston at 1:05 p. m. (daylight saving time). This train was the first mail train to leave for Boston after the parcel was received at the postal station.

FORMER LOWELL MAN FOUND DEAD

The body of Maurice Hennessy, believed to be a former resident of this city, was found by the Laconia, N. H. police yesterday a short distance from the railroad tracks at Lake Winnisquam, Laconia.

According to the Laconia police there was indication that the man had been drinking and that he had been killed by a train. An autopsy was conducted by Medical Referee Dr. A. Normandin at the Laconia hospital yesterday afternoon and no evidences of foul play were found.

CENTRALVILLE EAST END CLUB MEETING

Plans for the erection of a new Centralville bridge and the reconstruction of the First street oval for baseball and other athletic purposes were endorsed at a meeting of the Centralville East End club last night. Both projects evoked considerable enthusiasm and the club voted to do all in its power to bring about these improvements.

Vice President John McGowan was in charge of the meeting and reported the membership as having passed the 200 mark. The outgoing committee reported progress on its plans for an outing at the Lewis farm in Dracut on Sept. 7 and considerable routine business was transacted.

Results

Mom planted a garden, a dear little garden when warm weather first made its call. She worked day and night just to plant the seeds right and it wasn't neglected at all. Dad thought it quite funny when vent the spare money that mother off kept in a cup. For seeds she was spending. Her prayer, never ending, that something, at least, would come up. She'd sprinkle and hoe just to help the things grow and she kept it a secret from dad. He'd get a surprise and he'd open his eyes when he saw all the things that she had. At last came a peeping, through lumpy soil creeping, a long slender stem growth of green. And then came another. "Ah, ha," shouted mother, "that must be a radish—or bean." Then summer rolled 'long and the garden went wrong, as a fine total loss were the seeds. The garden was green but 'twas plain to be seen that the best thing that grew there was weeds.

KILLED IN FALL FROM ICE WAGON

Injuries believed to have been caused by a fall from one of the Daniel Gage ice company wagons resulted in the death at the Lowell Corporation hospital yesterday afternoon of Virginia Gage, five years old, of rear 533 Broadway.

Charles Cole, driver of the ice wagon, stated that while driving on Broadway near Mt. Vernon street yesterday afternoon he heard a child screaming. Looking back he saw the Gage girl in the street, evidently injured. She was taken to the Corporation hospital where she died several hours later.

"DRUG TRAFFIC"
AT THE RIALTO

Congress is seriously considering the advisability of eliminating the sale of drugs and one of the many bills before the legislative bodies has for its purpose the construction of a number of federal hospitals where narcotic addicts can be cured. The traffic has grown so bold and daring that addicts are seemingly not safe even within prison walls, for reports from surgeons and drug specialists indicate that the traffic in many cases includes the jail keepers, who prey on the weaklings, who are presumably imprisoned where cravings can be quenched slowly, but surely.

Dr. Mulson, a famous surgeon, who has saved hundreds from the clutches of the octopus, was one of those unfortunates who fell victim to the deadly drug. He had fought for years for others, but when the test came he found he, too, was a weakling. But time for a remedy, science lined up with love and again the young surgeon was made to see the pure light of day.

Every surgeon, every police officer, every reformer, in fact everyone in Lowell should make it a point to see this powerful picture. Gladys Brockwell, Barbara Tennant and Bob Walker are the stars.

"The Way of a Man," a story by Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon" will be shown in serial form. The first chapter will be shown on this same program. It tells of the perils and dangers that the pioneers encountered in their march across the country in covered wagons. See the eye opening scene. Neal Hart in "Lawless Men" is the added feature and is a strong western drama. A News reel and comedy are also on the program.

AMUSEMENT NOTES*MERRIMACK SQUARE

An excellent cast, featuring the very popular May McAvoy, Malcolm McGregor, Ricardo Cortez, Robert Edson, George Fawcett and Ethel Wales, presents in clever fashion a thrilling mystery story in "The Bedroom Window," being shown in attractive pictures at the Merrimack Square theatre the first three days this week. As usual, William de Mille, who sponsors the production, makes good. Romance and beauty—artistic settings, attractive feminines and clever male actors—do the trick. The play is a screen production that rarely ever fails to appeal to all motion picture playgoers.

"The Bedroom Window" starts off with a first-class murder, right on hand and, of course, picked out as the law has faith in the murderer, although he was found with a revolver in one hand, peering at the murderer's victim, who was a financier. A thumb-print is found; the theory advanced by the sister-in-law that the deadly shot was fired from a window, proves correct. Smoke on the window curtains gives plenty of hints for the detective. The crime is finally discovered during the dramatic story develops during the picturing of the tale.

"The Girl of the Limberlost," another stellar motion picture feature at the Merrimack this week, tells the story of a girl who wants to go to college and is prevented by her mother, because of the cost. The money that she is not willing to spend, she is the possessor of vast lands of great value, but had refused to dispose of them. Hence her husband, who was drowned in a swamp on the night his daughter was born, had much pride in his property holdings and the wife desired to keep them intact. Later on, the widow discovered that the husband she faithfully loved, had been untrue to her. The mother then resolved to do all possible for her daughter, disposing of the land that had been the inviolate. Romance came into the daughter's life in the person of a young man who had always been kind to her. Another girl from a family of wealth, seeks to marry the man, the daughter goes away, convinced that she has lost her lover, and the latter is taken ill. The return of "The Girl of the Limberlost" and the happy ending is graphically shown in the pictures.

Excellent comedy and latest views of the world at large shown in International News weekly, round out a program.

Only a few days left when the kiddies of Lowell will be given one of the greatest outings of the season at Merrimack park. Every summer the children look forward to Thursday afternoons, where the management of the park gives them free rides, dancing lessons, games and sports. This time the park is going a little bit further by hiring plenty of special cars and giving the children a five cent fare to Merrimack park and a five cent fare on returning home, making it a 100 fare round trip, a 16c reduction. The kiddies must ride on special cars leaving Paige street, at 1.15 Friday afternoon and returning at 5.45 p.m. Adults must have special round trip ticket also which can be had for 20c.

Every kiddie buying a round trip ticket will receive three free rides, one on merry-go-round, caterpillar and old mill or whip and fun house. At 2.30 o'clock there will be dancing instructions at the dance pavilion under the personal direction of Arthur L. Labonte, the ever popular dancing teacher, with the children. At 4.30 o'clock there will be races for girls and boys with plenty of prizes. This topic of conversation among the kiddies of greater Lowell these days is about the fine time they will have at Merrimack park, Friday. Accommodations are being made to receive 2500 children that day, if so, Mr. Labonte will be ready for them. Last Thursday was Lawrence kiddies' day and 4200 children were carried to the park on 25 cars at 10c round trip fare. Mr. Arthur Labonte's greatest hobby is looking after the children and he has a very capable force of park help to assist him.

BOYS FIND TOURING CAR IN WOODS

A Ford touring car, owned by Hugh McCarthy of this city, was found just over the Tyngsboro line in Hudson, N. H., yesterday by two boys, Wilfred Raymond and Rudolph Vignault, who were out blueberrying. The machine was stolen from Lakeview Saturday night and had been stripped of several of its important parts. Chief Joseph Pelletier of the Tyngsboro police was notified and turned the car over to its owner after it had been identified.

DALLINGER ADDRESSES LOWELL AUDIENCE

Frederick W. Dallinger of Cambridge, candidate for the republican nomination for the U. S. senate, addressed between three and four hundred persons last night in a stump speech from the steps of city hall, citing his record of ten years in congress and pledging himself to fight for a high protective tariff. He held that none of his two opponents for the nomination are entitled to consideration by the electorate of Lowell because of their attitudes in the past on child labor and workmen's legislation.

LOEW'S RIALTO

There have been ring fights and ring fights screened for the pictures until directly before it impossible to obtain a new angle on a scene of this kind. Every one of them had the same hero fighting for fortune and the girl and, of course, he always won. Who ever heard of a hero losing a ring battle? But in "Fast Company," Director James Horne, who made this action picture with Richard Talmadge, college star, playing the speedy pugilistic battle he put in the picture. Not only does the hero lose but in doing so, the director has ever seen one of the funniest ring fights on screen.

It is the wildest kind of a battle with "The Bull" missing his opponent and time again by a city block until he is nearly out by his own wasted efforts. When Talmadge has the fight all but won, he turns at a voice in the audience and zowie! "The Bull" puts over his fatal punch, collapsing himself, almost immediately. "Fast Company" is a thrilling picture with young Talmadge in some of his greatest stunts, and has more laughs than two average feature pictures. He is supported by a splendid cast of well known screen artists among whom are Mildred Harris, Sheldon Lewis, Charles Clarey and Snitz Edwards.

"The Man Who Waited" is the added feature and is a story of the west in which a young man, while looking for the man who ruined and killed his father, falls in love, locates a mine and is himself the victim of his father's greed.

Fight fans have their fill of fighting on this program, for there is a new chapter of H. C. Witwer's latest ring stories, "Fighting Blood," in which is featured George O'Hara and Al Cooke, the latter playing the part of Nate Shapiro, the leather pusher's manager. Then there is a two-reel comedy on the program, which is indeed splendid in length and quality. A brand new issue of Fox News rounds out a perfect picture program.

BOOTLEGGERS' BATTLE OVER $800—3 HURT

BOSTON, August 19.—Three men were injured, one of them in the danger list in the Boston City hospital, as the result of a bootleggers' battle for a stake of $800 waged at the corner of Decatur and Washington streets shortly after dark last night, between a gang from the South End and another said to have come from Worcester to demand the return of an advance payment on a consignment of alcohol that had not been delivered.

Two Locked Up

The injured are: Louis Layne, 27 years old, 49 Cutler street, Worcester, stabbed in the chest, and multiple cuts about the head. Louis Hart, 38 years old, 555 Blue Hill avenue, laceration of head and face.

John Gouner, 28 years old, 9 Genesee street, South End lacerations and contusions of head and body.

Hart and Gouner were treated at the hospital as out patients and were later taken to the East Dedham police station where they were locked up as suspicious persons, and will be arraigned this morning.

Robbed by Hi-Jackers

According to the story Levine is said to have told the police, he was one of a party of more than a dozen men who came to Boston from Worcester in two automobiles looking for a crowd of South End bootleggers from whom the Worcester gang had agreed to buy 300 gallons of alcohol. According to Levine $300 had been given as an advance payment for the liquor, but the stuff was not delivered, the South End bootleggers, Levine said, declaring that hi-jackers had robbed them of the booze when they were on the way to Worcester with it.

"And so we came to Boston to get our money back," said Levine.

Eight on Sight

In two motor cars they came. They debarked at the corner of Washington and Decatur streets last night, just after the sun went down. Almost immediately they were met by a crowd of equal number of South End habitues. Hostilities broke out first and there was no shooting, but fists and knuckles were the weapons mainly used, though knives played a part.

A riot call was sent in to the Dedham street station, and a squad of patrolmen under Sergeant Gale responded. When they arrived at the scene of the battle the gangs scattered, leaving Levine, Hart and Gouner lying on the field of carnage. The wounded were taken to the Boston City hospital in the police ambulance.

No other arrests have been made.

ELKS PLAN FOR CHILDREN'S PICNIC

Members of the kiddies' outing committee of Lowell lodge, No. 87, B.P.O. Elks met at the Warren street clubhouse last night for the purpose of concluding arrangements for an outing to be held in Milligan's grove on Aug. 25 and open to all the youngsters of the city. Past Exalted Ruler Fred Gilmore is chairman of the committee and presided at last night's meeting.

Special trolley cars, donated by the trolley company, will take the youngsters to and from the grove. A large card of sports events for both boys and girls was figured out last night and some valuable prizes have been offered, donated by various members of the lodge.

While there is no way of figuring how many children will attend the outing the committee last night decided to plan on taking care of 4000 with facilities ready to handle double that number on short notice if it appears the original guess as to attendance is in error.

Every one of the youngsters will be fed at noon by the lodge and returned home safe and sound before dusk. They will be given a lunch of minced ham sandwiches, soda pop, Andy Gump crackers, and Hoodsias. In addition, pickles and other viands will be provided.

Another meeting of the committee will be held prior to the outing which is next Monday. Exalted Ruler James E. Donnelly dropped in for a part of the session of the committee last night.

CHANGE IN GORHAM STREET PROGRAM

After viewing the work on Gorham street following discussion at city hall yesterday afternoon, the board of public service decided to change the original plan of relaying the street from Cosgrove street to the city line, but to stop at a point opposite number 1417, about half way. The remainder of the work will be abandoned in this year's program, the city thus losing its one chance to have one main artery from the city in first class renewed condition.

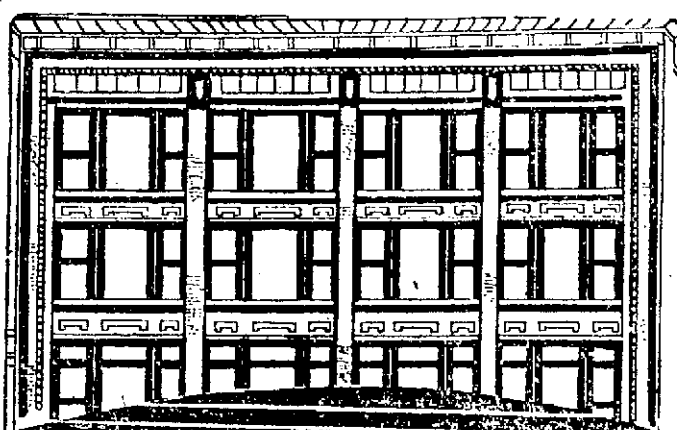

City Engineer Kearney was sustained by the board in his objection to changing from cement concrete to asphalt suggested by the superintendent of streets on grounds of economy. Only the left side of the street is at present excavated and cement concrete will be placed there, the workmen then going over to the right side of the street at Cosgrove street and completing that side.

WILL HOLD OUTING IN TYNGSBORO

Final arrangements for the outing of Lowell lodge No. 87, B.P.O. Elks were completed at the session of the outing committee held last night and presided over by William H. Mahan, P.E.R. The outing is to be held Aug. 23 at Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro and will be for Elks only. It was stated last night that invitations have been sent to distinguished Elks from all parts of New England and that many of them have already announced their intention of attending.

There will be the usual boxing matches, field events, baseball game and other sports. The culinary offering is guaranteed to surpass anything offered in recent years. Members will gather at the new Warren street clubhouse on the morning of the outing and cars will leave Warren street at 11.30 o'clock sharp. It is expected that several hundred autos will be in line in the parade from the clubhouse to the grounds.

BELLEVUES DEFEAT EAST ENDS AND STRENGTHEN LEAGUE LEAD

Exciting Game in City Twilight League on South Common Goes to 4-3 Conclusion—Four Pitchers Used in Clash—Gardner Shines in Field

The Bellevues practically won the pennant in the City Twilight League by defeating the Centralville East Ends, 4 to 3, on the South common last night. The league-leaders have two more games to play, while their nearest competitor, the Pawtucket Blues, has three. Should the Bellevues lose the next two and the Pawtucket win the next three, a tie for first place between these teams would exist. While there is every likelihood of the Bellevues coping with their remaining games, it is also possible for the Pawtucket to win all three, so we can't see it all yet, as the round-the-world fliers would say.

There still remains a merry tussle for third place in the league standing. Despite their loss of last night, the East Ends are still in the running and intend to remain there. Ricard's Belmonts and Marie's Americans have a word to say about it, too.

Last night's contest was one of the best of the year. The game was played in the best of conditions, and the teams were in fine form. The game was a close one, with the Bellevues leading 3-0 in the fifth inning, but the East Ends rallied to tie the score in the sixth. The game was a close one, with the Bellevues leading 3-0 in the fifth inning, but the East Ends rallied to tie the score in the sixth.

Both teams used four pitchers. For the Bellevues, Jack Livingston started on the mound and went along at a merry gait until the fourth, when Centralville bats began to wise up to his varied offerings. Hank Garrity took up the ball in the fifth, and in the sixth, he struck out three, but the East Ends rallied to tie the score in the sixth. The game was a close one, with the Bellevues leading 3-0 in the fifth inning, but the East Ends rallied to tie the score in the sixth.

One of the particular bright spots of the game was the left-handed play of the versatile Jimmy Gardner, who accepted four chances, two of them extremely difficult, up on the billy near. Gardner's work was a real look upon and he was forced to doff his hat in recognition of the "hand" given him by the large gathering of fans. At the bat, too, Jim connected for a triple in the opening stanza, but was marooned on third when the next batter struck out.

The first baseman came in in the last half of the first, Jenkins singled and went down to second when Payton's throw in attempting to nab him off first went into the first base stands. While Williams was being congratulated at first, Jenkins scooped for home and made it on a bad throw to Nichols.

KID SULLIVAN BEATS "PEPPER" MARTIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Steve (Kid) Sullivan of Brooklyn still is junior lightweight champion today as a result of the successful defense of his title in a 15-round bout with Vincent ("Pepper") Martin of Brooklyn at the Queensboro, A. C. in Long Island city. Sullivan won on points.

IROQUOIS DEFEAT ST. JOSEPH'S CADETS

St. Joseph's Cadets, leaders of the Junior league, were defeated last night by the Iroquois, 3 to 0. In four hits were run up during the game, two in the sixth inning. The Iroquois played errorless ball while the Cadets played two costly errors which stung them for three runs. In the fourth frame the valiant red-men managed to hit second and third sacks. The next man with the stick knocked a sizzler to Davey who let it go by, thus scoring the first two tallies of the game. In the fifth inning the Iroquois scored from the sixth sack. ## NEW YORK INCREASES LEAD OVER DETROIT TO TWO AND A HALF GAMES

Giants Beaten by Reds in 17-Inning Battle—Grimes of Dodgers Checks Nine-Game Winning Streak of Pirates—Red Sox in Garrison Finish Beat Browns

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—In the important games which are now shaping the end of the major league baseball season, pitchers are playing the roles usually seized by sluggers. While Babe Ruth, whose mighty arm carried the world's champions through earlier seasons, rests for the moment, the once celebrated staff of Yankee staff of twirlers is taking full advantage of an opportunity to pull away from Detroit and Washington as the two consistent challengers claw each other. The Yankees, as veteran Joe Bush held Chicago to four hits, bunched four of their five safeties off Robertson and Connolly for a 2 to 0 victory that gave them a two and one-half game lead over Detroit which lost to Washington and dropped to within half a game of the Senators. "Dutch" Leonard, pitching his first game in organized baseball since 1922, was knocked from the box. Tom Sheehan and Burleigh Grimes corralled major honors in losses suffered by the Giants and Pirates, confederates for the lead in the National. New York in the toughest game played in the majors this year, lost to the Reds in 17 innings, 8 to 7. Sheehan, after relieving Mays in the second, went the route for Cincinnati and scored the final run in the final frame after two were out. The Reds, six runs behind in the seventh, pounded Dean and Nohr for the tying scores in that inning and the ninth. Neither side scored again until the 17th when the Giants scored once and the Reds twice. Grimes checked the nine-game winning streak of the Pirates and made four hits in the 7 to 4 Brooklyn victory. Three Pittsburgh hurlers were ineffective. Vic Aldridge held Boston safe while the Cubs pounded Fenian for a 6 to 1 win. Covelesse coasted in the 13 to 3 decision over four Athletics pitchers who yielded 16 hits to Cleveland. Winzard, promising Brown southpaw, held the Red Sox scoreless and to four hits in eight innings, but was overcome in the ninth by an avalanche of swats that earned a 3 to 2 victory for Boston. A home run by Cy Williams with two men on paved the way for the 3 to 4 Philly win over the Cards although Scherdel allowed only seven hits.

TUNEY STOPS JOE LOHMAN

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19.—Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, won a technical knockout over Joe Lohman of Toledo when Referee Matt Hinkle stopped the bout in the eighth round. Lohman was floored four times in the last three rounds, taking the count of nine just as the southpaw ended. The bout was to have gone 12 rounds.

YOUNG STRIBLING KAYOS JACK STONE

JACKSON CITY, Tenn., Aug. 19.—W. L. ("Young") Stribling, the Georgia schoolboy boxer, scored a technical knockout over Jack Stone, New York light heavyweight, in the fourth round of a scheduled eight round bout here last night after punching his opponent almost at will. The referee stopped the fight with Stone helpless against the ropes under a rain of blows from the Georgian "flash."

DOVER CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY OF SULLIVAN'S CHANNEL SWIM

Mayor and Others Pay Glowing Tribute to Lowell Man for "Most Wonderful Endurance Feat of All Times"—Sullivan Not Spoiled By Success

The following clipping from the Dover, Eng., Standard, describes the celebration recently held there to mark the anniversary of Henry Sullivan's channel swim:

"In commemoration of the great feat performed by Henry F. Sullivan, the American, of Lowell, Mass., who swam from Dover to Calais last year on Aug. 5-6, in 26 hours, 50 minutes—and at his express wish, an anniversary dinner was held at Mr. Jack Weston's (Railway) hotel, Kearney, last evening (Wed.). The mayor (Ald. Barwick) presided, and the party included those who actually participated in the successful swim, and others who had accompanied Henry Sullivan on some of his successful attempts the names being: Mr. Jack Weston, senr., Mr. Jack Weston, Junr.; Messrs. M. Curry, S. Norris, C. Manning, B. White, senr., in 1912, Junr., Jack J. Garrison, senr., Gatehouse, Junr., Jack Williams, S. Wood, P. Ransom, N. V. Sutton, R. J. Williams, T. Pascal, E. Amos and A. Whorwell.

The splendid repast was served and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The loyal toast was duly honored. Mr. Whorwell, proposing the toast of "The crew," said that some were extremely lucky to have been there for 10 or 15 swims and then happened to be absent from the successful one. They were glad that an American had swum the channel, but they would also like to have seen an Englishman successful (applause).

Mr. White, senr., responding said he considered himself a lucky person to have been on the successful swim which was considered the most wonderful endurance feat of all times. Having seen the actual swim he could readily agree to that (applause).

Mr. Gatehouse, senr., also replied to the toast. The toast of the evening, "Henry Sullivan," was most ably proposed by the mayor (Ald. R. J. Barwick). He said that he had an opportunity of seeing Sullivan swim across the channel, who subsequently met Sullivan found in him a man who was not spoiled by success. A man who had won and was more interested in anything than his swim. Sullivan did, was a man who was admired (applause). One was struck by his unassuming manner and modesty (applause). Many a man who had performed such a feat had been spoiled by the admiration of all by this quiet and unassuming manner.

Referring to Sullivan's associations with the Dover and Calais swim, the mayor said that in 1913, it was evident, from the attempts subsequently made that he was a "trier." A man who is a trier is going to win some time (applause). Sullivan revisited Dover in 1921 and 1922, and on Aug. 5-6, 1923, made his successful swim. Those who accompanied him had a very strenuous carry on for nearly 27 hours, carrying the man swimming. But Sullivan's swim was a marvellous one. It represented the greatest feat of endurance of all time (applause). On the 26 hours, 50 minutes he was struggling against nature's greatest force. A man who swam the channel stood out for the greatest feat of endurance (applause). They all said with pleasure that they thought he was awarded the "Daily Sketch" prize of 2000 pounds, and he was also the winner of the Alexander cup, valued at 500 pounds (applause).

They all said that he had been a great swimmer. Sullivan had also won the long distance swimming championship in America in August, 1915, and had successfully defended that title since. He was also holder of the world's record in stroke record and endurance record. Incidentally he was the "at American" to swim the channel. Although they were all likely to have seen another Englishman perform the feat, they looked upon Sullivan as "one of our selves" (applause). They always looked with a great deal of admiration upon Americans, because if they saw a swimmer who did a thing they did it (applause). Until England put their back into it, as America did, we should never have seen such a feat.

The following message was sent to Sullivan: "Congratulations on anniversary of your channel swim."

The mayor, returning thanks, said the Dover Swimming club had done a great deal in bringing Dover forward. The feeling in Dover was much better than it had been some years ago. Success was only obtained where all pulled together and worked to one common end (applause).

Subsequently the party retired to the lounge and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

AMERICA'S DAVIS CUP TEAM OF YEAR AGO DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF

Tilden and Williams Play on Opposing Teams in National Lawn Tennis Doubles Championship Tournament at Longwood

BOSTON, August 19.—America's Davis cup doubles team of a year ago—W. T. Tilden, 2nd, and R. Norris Williams, 2nd, both of Philadelphia, was divided against itself today. Yet in their play on opposing teams in the national lawn tennis doubles championship tournament at the Longwood Cricket club, they were under the eye of the Davis cup selection committee as a likely combination to make the doubles defense again.

Tilden had with him young "Sandy" Weimer of Philadelphia, a protégé with whom he has just finished a campaign of varying success across the country. They won out in a second round match with Emmet Parr and George Lott, Jr., of Chicago, yesterday, only after five sets. Williams had as partner Watson Washburn, continuing a tennis association begun at Harvard in 1913 and continued since with only interruption of Davis cup play selection. Their doubles yesterday showed them in good form.

They had one grandstand court assigned them. On the other, the French Davis cup team of René Lacoste and Henri Cochet were drawn against the young western stars, Harvey Spadecraw and Walter Westbrook of Los Angeles. The latter have worked out a system of play that promises to bring them into the Davis cup play.

Howard C. Kinsey and Robert G. Kinsey of San Francisco had the victory in the play of the national mixed doubles championship tournament.

These were third round matches. Still contending in the second round, having defeated by two bysets the Olympic champions, Vincent Richards and Francis T. Hunter, and the Australian Davis cup doubles team of Gerald Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, in separate matches. They had two matches each scheduled for today to catch up with the players in the third round, but looked for an easy time in the first of these engagements at least. The women players, headed by Miss Helen Wills, national champion, who came here from the national championship tournament at Forest Hills, expected to get into action in an invitation singles tournament today, and beginning tomorrow will join with the men in the play of the national mixed doubles championship tournament.

While plans for the present have not been completed, Supt. of Parks, Kernan said today that there probably would be two performances given, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. Preparatory work for the present is in charge of playground supervisors.

A slight increase in attendance at the playgrounds has been recorded this season, the average attendance being about six thousand children daily. Playground work has been carried out on 16 playgrounds situated in centrally located spots throughout the thickly settled sections of the city.

Geniuses seldom are the children of Kernal said today that there probably

ARCHERS MEET FOR ANNUAL TOURNAMENT

DEERFIELD, Mass., Aug. 19.—The 44th annual meeting and tournament of the National Archery association opened here today with an attendance of about 50 well known archers from most centers of the east. Chicago, Ill., Philadelphia, Pa., Rome, Croton and Ossining, N. Y., Boston and Greenfield were represented by archers who had arrived up to this morning. Homer S. Taylor of Greenfield, who in spite of his 74 years, has drawn a bow at every tournament to date, has neuritis in his arm this season but expects to enter, using a lighter bow.

The events shot today were: First York round for men, 100 yards; first national round for women, 80 yards; first Columbia round for women, 60 yards. Tomorrow's program will be: second York round for men, second national round for women, first American round for men, second Columbia round, regular and handicap, for women.

An interesting event of the tournament will be a contest for the Robin Hood trophy, given the association by Douglas Fairbanks. In this event a strip of cloth the width of the willow wand which was Robin Hood's favorite mark, is fastened to the target and the archers endeavor to put their arrows through it. This event will be shot on Friday.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE GAME THIS EVENING

The C. M. A. C. and the Chelmsford A. A. the two leading teams in the Lowell Twilight league, will play on the South common this evening. The C. M. A. C. wins the Chelmsfords will be topped out of first place as only a half-game separates them from the C. M. A. C.

Thursday night of this week, the Centralville Princeton will line up against the Chelmsford A. A. Hogan's Centrals have completed their part of the schedule. All future games will start at 6 o'clock sharp.

Cleanliness and Care in Manufacture

Every Lucky Strike factory is a model of sanitation. Read how Alfred W. McCann, the noted food expert describes one of our factories: "White walls and ceilings, floors as clean as freshly chiseled marble, cutting machines and wrapping machines that take away from the human hand all detail and leave nothing to the human supervision but the watchfulness of trained eyes."

WE call particular attention to the statements made in the advertisement adjoining this editorial column.

This advertisement, the purpose of which is to win new friends for Lucky Strike cigarettes, incidentally emphasizes the matter of high taxes on cigarettes.

To those who are intimate with such matters there is, of course, no surprising statement made.

To the general public, though, we believe it will be surprising to learn that nearly half of what they pay for cigarettes goes to the government for taxes.

The internal revenue stamp on a package of twenty Lucky Strike cigarettes costs you six cents. On a tin of one hundred the revenue stamp costs you thirty cents.

So nearly fifty cents out of every dollar you spend for cigarettes is spent by you for taxes.

This is certainly the heaviest tax on an article of daily and universal consumption.

The Tobacco Industry and Taxes

The aggregate tax paid by the tobacco business is with one exception, income taxes, the largest item of internal revenue the federal government receives. Last (fiscal) year it amounted to $309,014,050.84. Of this enormous amount of money the cigarette industry paid $182,715,735.93, or nearly two-thirds of the total tax paid by the entire tobacco business.

The immediately important point of the foregoing is the following: We believe you will appreciate that when nearly fifty cents of every dollar paid by you for cigarettes goes to the government, you must receive in cigarettes a value in return for your money that is rarely given in any commodity.

That the public generally appreciates this great value is shown by the enormous increase in the consumption of cigarettes.

Our reasons for this tax free offer

We know this offer induces men to try Lucky Strikes—it "Wins New Friends."

We know that a large percentage of those who get acquainted with Lucky Strikes adopt them.

This isn't philanthropy nor propaganda—just good business, as you'll agree.

The offer is limited. We cannot afford to keep it up.

We make it sensationally generous so as to attract attention.

We are not giving money away for the offer accomplishes its purposes: Lucky Strike "Wins New Friends." Our volume increases.

Super-quality

It is only by immense volume that we can produce such an aristocratic cigarette as Lucky Strike at such a democratic price.

Its quality is supreme because it has that costly, extra process, toasting, which improves the flavor and adds to the taste of even the finest tobaccos that are used in Lucky Strikes.

We urge you to participate in this offer—we want you to get acquainted with Lucky Strikes.

We know a trial will make you a permanent customer of ours.

SEN. WATSON LAUDS DAWES

Says Acceptance of Dawes Plan G. O. P.'s Answer to Inquirer of John W. Davis

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—Allied-German acceptance of the Dawes plan was declared by Senator Watson of Indiana in an address today before the Hamilton club of Chicago to be the republican party's answer to the inquiry of John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, as to what single contribution the present republican administration had made to the peace of the world.

"The arms conference, and the Dawes plan represent the two longest steps ever taken for the pacification of the world and the United States under a republican administration took both of them without belonging to the League of Nations or being in any way entangled in its political involvement," Senator Watson asserted. "In very truth, if we had belonged we no longer could have well exerted the powerful and conclusive influence that we did."

Senator Watson, himself one of the candidates for the republican vice-presidential nomination at the Cleveland convention, spoke at a luncheon of the Hamilton club held as a preliminary to the notification ceremonies tonight for the convention's vice-presidential choice, Charles G. Dawes. He paid high tribute to Mr. Dawes, saying:

"As Charles G. Dawes was big enough to head the first budget commission and successfully launch that craft on an uncharted sea, and as he was big enough to formulate the plan that has restored peace to Europe, and planted hopes into the hearts of people around the world, surely he is big enough to be the next vice-president of the United States."

Senator Watson assailed the democratic position on the League of Nations and on foreign affairs as inconsistent and grotesque. The democratic platform proposal for a national referendum on the League, he said, was "fanciful, illegal, unconstitutional and revolutionary."

TWO KILLED IN FIERCE STORM IN IOWA

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 19.—Two men lost their lives, many head of cattle were destroyed and property damage of hundreds of thousands of dollars was done in a terrific rain storm in eastern Iowa last night. Practically all of the cities and towns in the storm's path were flooded. Damage to crops was severe, in a number of cases entire farms were submerged, some to a depth of several feet. Rivers in the eastern part of the state were reported in some cases to have risen four feet since midnight.

GOVERNOR'S DAY AT CAMP DEVENS

"Governor's Day." Twenty-five hundred students, with the month's program of military training more than one-half over with, are preparing to parade in grand review tomorrow before the commander-in-chief and executive staffs of six New England states and a grandstand overflowing with relatives and friends from all parts of the state.

The boys have showed remarkable improvement in field marching maneuvers during the past week. They are expected to present an appearance tomorrow afternoon that may prove a revelation. Certainly, the students have worked hard during the morning training hours, and their drilling in company, squad, battalion and regimental formations has been commended by regular army inspectors frequently. Six New England governors are expected to be present tomorrow, most of them planning to spend half a day in camp inspecting the students' quarters and meeting "sons from home." Gov. William S. Flynn of troubled Rhode Island may not be able to leave his post at the state capitol, where he is to receive the grand marshal of the parade. The review on the upper training field will start at 3:45 o'clock, with each unit in line in full equipment. The governors will leave Camp Devens at 4:15.

In preparation for the grand review, the first and second battalions put on an evening parade at sunset, last evening, making a decided impression on the large number of spectators in camp.

George Sizer, manager of the St. Louis Browns in the American baseball league, was a camp visitor yesterday. The youthful soldiers gave him a cordy reception. The manager gave a short talk on "Baseball Idealism."

In the first competitive drill to be held at the 1924 camp of the C.M.T.C. at Camp Devens, Butler D. Burage of 66 Harvard street, this city, won the competition among the engineering students and was declared "the best engineer" in camp. Varsity burage is a second year student and has won several other honors while there.

COUNCIL TO PASS ON IMPORTANT MEASURES

The city council tonight will have before it five matters of importance, as follows:

The proposal that the sum of $171,000 be taken from the prior revenue fund and made available for the assessors in order to reduce the tax levy.

The application of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company for a motor bus franchise between Lowell and Boston under an ordinance which has just gone into effect.

The nomination of Charles J. Landers to succeed Fisher J. Pearson as a member of the board of health.

The nomination of John H. McNabb to succeed Fred H. Bourke as city treasurer.

The request of the school committee that funds be made available for the purchase of seven portable school-buses and the preparation for use of an unfinished room in the Sycamore street school.

Of the above only the prior revenue transfer in new and that was not unexpected. On the other matters the council has continually delayed definite action. There is the usual mass of routine business to come before the body.

BOMB IN WORCESTER CITY HALL

WORCESTER, August 19.—Concealed in a pile of waste paper, a piece of lead pipe, believed to be a bomb, was found in the basement of Worcester city hall yesterday afternoon by William Anderson, one of the janitors of the building. The bomb, which is now in possession of Superintendent of Police James J. Casey, will be examined by experts today.

It is made of a piece of lead pipe, about 6 inches long and 1 1/2 inches in diameter. From both ends of the pipe, which are sealed, naked electric wires protrude.

Anderson found the supposed bomb when he was haling waste part of his Monday afternoon's routine duties. The piece of pipe was lying on the cement floor, close to a wall.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place this morning, when Dr. Raymond J. Gendreau, a popular local dentist, and Miss Lea R. Archambault, daughter of Undertaker and Mrs. Amodeo Archambault, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony, which was largely attended by relatives and friends, took place at a nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory at 8 o'clock, the officiating clergyman being Rev. L. C. Redard, formerly of St. Louis' church, this city, and now of Beverly.

The bride was attired in titian and georgette with hat to match and a white fox neckpiece. She carried American beauty roses and was given away by her father, Mr. Amodeo Archambault. The groom was attended by his father, Mr. Charles Albert Gendreau. At the close of the ceremony the bridal couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 205 Pawtucket street, where a wedding breakfast was served on the lawn. Later a reception was held in the reception hall of the home. Attending the festivities were guests from Canada, Marlboro, Providence, R. I., Natick, Boston, Yakima, Wash., Tulsa, Okla., Salisbury and Newburgh.

The groom's gift to the bride was a Russian sable neckpiece, while her favor to the groom was diamond studded cuff links. The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum diamond ring, while his favors to his father and the bride's father were a gold watch chain and a pair of gold cuff links respectively. The ushers at the church and house were Frederick Gendreau, Thos. A. Kelly, Henri A. Archambault and Herbert McKenzie. Dr. and Mrs. Gendreau were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left on an extended automobile honeymoon trip at noon. Upon their return Sept. 15 they will make their home at 205 Pawtucket street.

McMahon-Cassidy
At a solemn nuptial mass celebrated in St. Margaret's church yesterday at 10:30 a. m., Miss Mabel Cassidy of 44 is sister at the bride was a Russian sable neckpiece, while her favor to the groom was diamond studded cuff links. ## CAPT. DAVID PETRIE RETURNS TO LOWELL

Capt. David Petrie, head of the criminal investigation bureau of the local police department, has returned to his home at 263 Tenth street, after an extended trip to Newcastle, N. B., his native home.

Capt. Petrie went to Newcastle a few months ago to recuperate from a serious bullet wound in his shoulder as a result of a gun fight with John J. King, slayer of Rev. Michael G. Sweeney, in Dracut. He reports that he is now in fine physical condition and will probably return to police duty early next month.

During his visit to the north country, the police captain enjoyed several automobile trips. He motored home, coming through Maine, and states that the roads are in very good condition for automobile travel, especially in New Brunswick.

Firpo's Hearing Postponed

perjury before immigration officers at Ellis Island when he asserted that he had only a casual acquaintance with Senorita Blanca Lourdes Picart, who was a passenger on the steamer that brought him to this country. She was not permitted to land but had to go to Cuba as her passport provided.

Canon Chase did not oppose the pugilist's request for the postponement, telling Commissioner Hitchcock that neither he nor the league desired to interfere with the Argentine's meeting with Willis.

"We have no desire to act against the fight," he said, "our only interest in the prosecution of Firpo is to keep the country clean; to keep undesirable out of it. The woman was deported. Firpo is no exception; he also should be deported."

Assistant United States Attorney Maxwell told the commissioner that the government had no interest in the case and would have nothing to do with its prosecution.

Firpo stood by solidly throughout the proceedings, taking no part in them, an interpreter and his lawyer doing all the talking necessary. On leaving court the Argentine announced he would leave immediately for Saratoga Springs to resume his training grind. He was held in $3000 bail and the bond was furnished by Nathan Vidolinger.

The issuance of the warrant was the result of a campaign for Firpo's deportation waged by the Civic league of New York, of which Canon Chase is the head, ever since the Argentine arrived here from Argentina in the company of Senorita Blanca Lourdes Picart several weeks ago. Miss Picart was admitted to the country under bond which guaranteed that she would leave on the first steamer sailing for Havana, for which place her passport was issued. Firpo was admitted as a visitor.

At the hearing before United States immigration officials, at which both Miss Picart and Firpo were examined, it is alleged the pugilist stated he and Miss Picart were only casual acquaintances. The civic league charges this was untrue.

In a statement last night, Canon Chase declared the object of the Civic league in having the warrant issued for Firpo was not to have the Argentine arrested and imprisoned, but to have him held for deportation for violation of the American immigration law.

Hyman Bushel, attorney for Tex Rickard, who brought Firpo to this country, declared "the whole thing had resulted because Rickard had refused to be blackmailed." The lawyer said that Rickard had been asked some time ago to contribute $5000 to the Civic league of New York and that he refused to contribute.

Hyman Bushel, attorney for Tex Rickard, who brought Firpo to this country, declared "the whole thing had resulted because Rickard had refused to be blackmailed." The lawyer said that Rickard had been asked some time ago to contribute $5000 to the Civic league of New York and that he refused to contribute.

When Canon Chase heard of Bushel's charge, he said:

"I should be very much interested to know what person was authorized to represent the New York Civic league. Of course, anyone might represent himself as being an agent of the league, and we would not necessarily know of it. But as far as I know, no such request was made. As to the statement that the proceedings against Firpo are part of a blackmail scheme, that is absurd."

Texas Forces Talk Toleration in Effort to Avert Defeat by Woman

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 19.—If the anti-Klan forces of today hold intact and the weak-kneed refuse to give way before the wave of Ku Klux propaganda with which the state is deluged in a last minute attempt to avert the collapse of the invisible empire in this part of the country, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson will be the next governor of Texas. Some of the most astute leaders of the Klan admit the truth of this statement. Privately they concede the loss of the attorney-generalship, but are still hopeful that out of the wreckage they will save the governorship.

The final phase of the great battle begun yesterday pitting the Klan and anti-Klan forces putting forth their utmost efforts to hold their votes in line. The very existence of the Klan is at stake and the exponents, titans, kleagles and other officials of the masked organization are pleading by letter, by wire and by spoken word in a desperate attempt to shift the issue from the Klan to prohibition, from Mrs. Ferguson to her husband, from intolerance to toleration. There never was a fight like it in the history of the southwest, a fight that divides families and estranges lifetime friends.

The new policy of soft peddling the racial and religious issues of the campaign became evident soon after the recent visit of Hiram W. Evans, the Imperial Wizard. The wizard may not have had anything to do with engineering the big somersault but it is a fact that the switch from intolerance to toleration was made soon after he returned to his imperial palace in Atlanta.

Parents Claim Boy Neglected

The ultimate death of the child, it was extremely unfortunate that the child should be fed something and no record made on the chart and equally unfortunate that the change which resulted in inevitable death should come about at the same time. On Monday, he said, the child entered very sick, on Wednesday "was a normal child," but relapsed into a sub-normal condition on Thursday.

James Furlong, an orderly, testified that on Friday and Saturday after the time Dr. Drury had insisted a trained nurse be constantly in attendance—he relieved the trained nurse for her evening meal periods.

"Is it possible that a nurse can be so heartless and so lacking in intelligence that she would leave a child known to be in such a dangerous condition," said Mr. Pearson. "In such an emergency it seems to me anyone with a human viewpoint would remain regardless of meals or time until relieved by some one at least equally competent."

"There is more about that," said Dr. Drury. "It is too bad the nurse is not here."

The nurse, it was explained, was having her usual "day off." Efforts to reach her at her home failed. Mrs. Smith stated the nurse only left for 10 or 15 minutes' period on Friday and Saturday in order to get a bite to eat.

The board, having no further questions, left the hospital. It is expected that an interview with the nurse, Miss McInerney, will be secured by the board tomorrow.

Dr. Drury told the board that after the death of the child the parents told him they intended to complain to the mayor. He advised that they take the matter up with the board of health, he said, as the board has charge of the hospital. The doctor, in his presence, called the board of health from his office, he said, and notified Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the attitude of the parents and it was this notification that first brought the matter to the attention of the board.

Other Business Yesterday

The board entered session at 4:30 o'clock. Dr. Brunelle and Mr. Pearson present. The records of previous meetings were approved as read by Agent O'Hare. George J. Kearns was named as temporary gardener at the isolation hospital grounds, he heading the civil service list.

J. E. Staveley, Jr., appeared relative to complaints on plumbing at 73 Lawrence street, in the home of Jose Pinto. Frank Goldman appeared as attorney for the plumber. Health board inspectors say conditions of the permit were violated.

Agent Quirk of the journeymen plumbers' union, is complainant. He said last Thursday he visited the job and found an assistant working as a journeyman. Mr. Quirk says he represents the master plumbers and journeymen both.

Attorney Goldman asked Mr. Quirk if he were a "potter" and if he had any legal right on the premises. He answered in the negative to the first and made no answer to the second question. Mr. Quirk claimed helpers may only pass tools but cannot do actual work. Mr. Goldman asked how a man could ever become a plumber without practical experience.

"He could go to school," was the answer.

Health board inspectors told of visiting the job after the complaint was made. They said they saw the helper call and run a pipe. Inspector Mildwood was asked if he over talked a joint as a plumber's helper and answered in the affirmative.

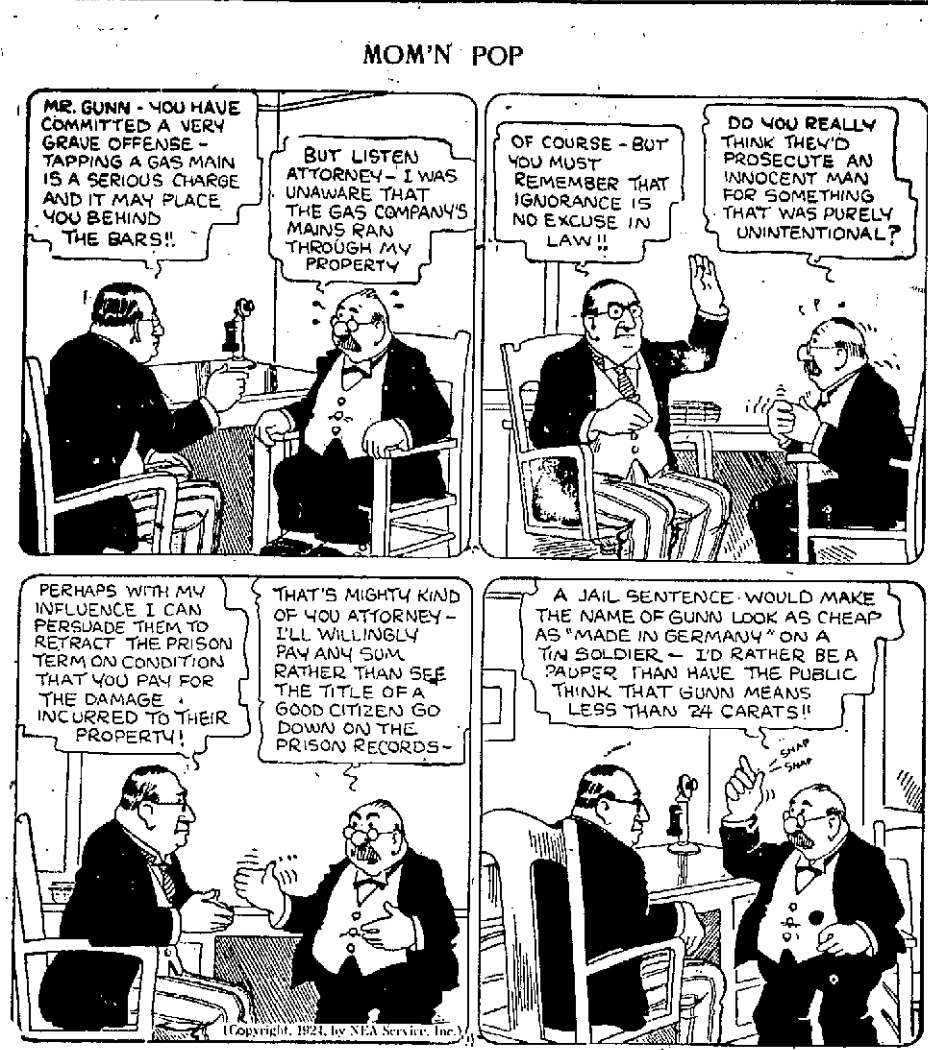

Mr. Staveley told of the visit of Mr. Quirk on the job and said the helper was leveling pipe at the time. Ten afternoon, the health board inspectors called, the apprentice was calling joints, he said.

Staveley further said when he worked as apprentice to Welch Bros. he worked as apprentice under Quirk, then a journeyman, and called joints for him.

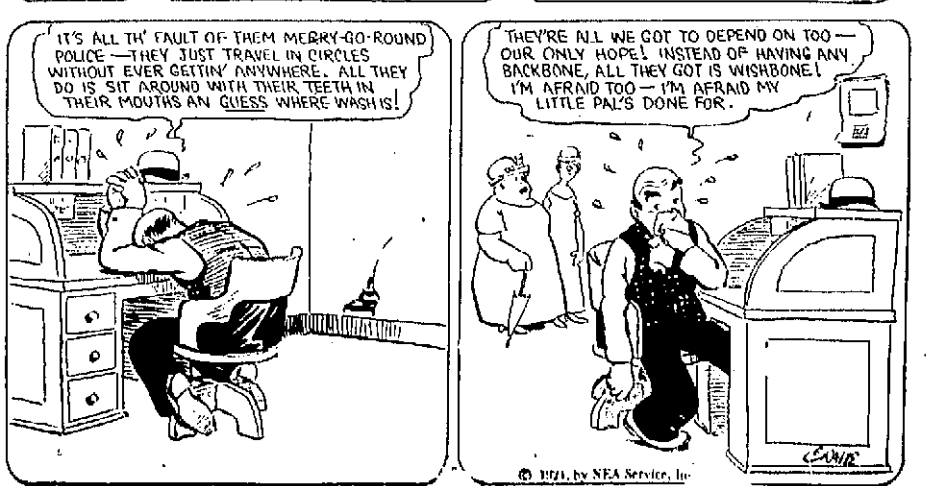

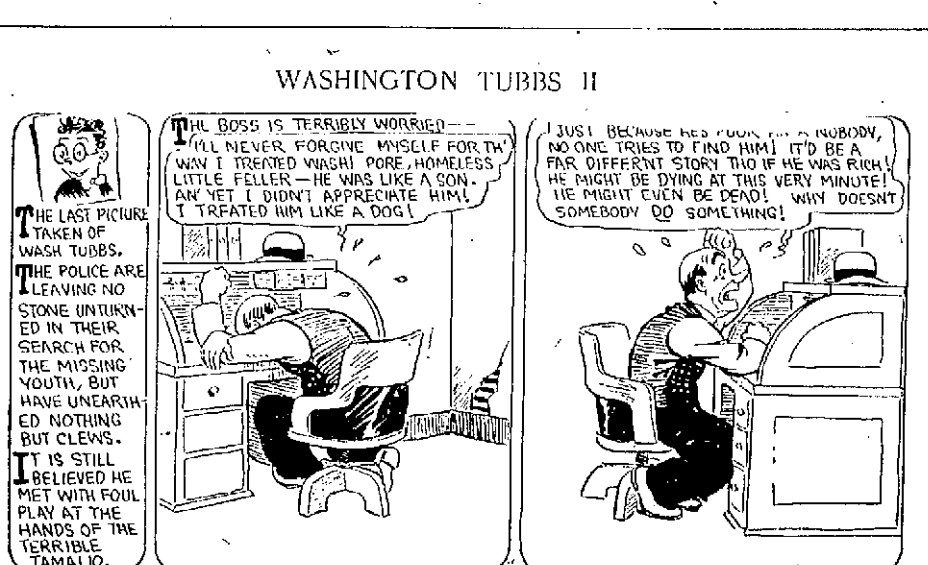

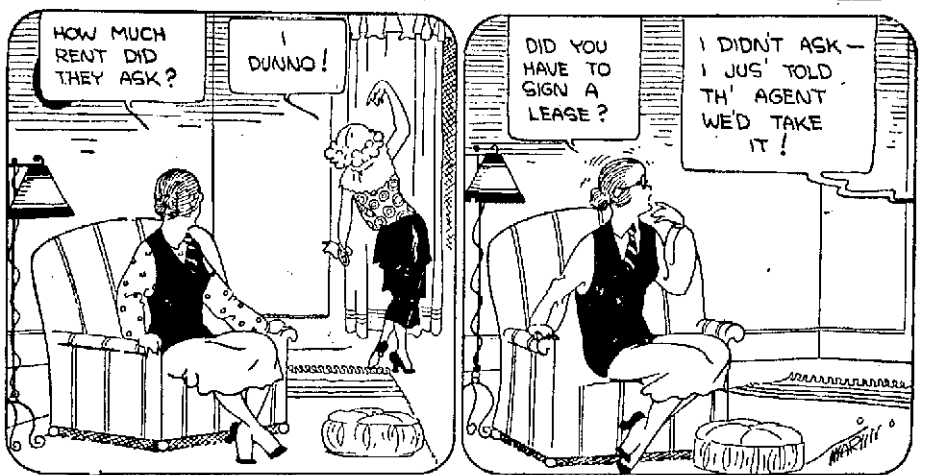

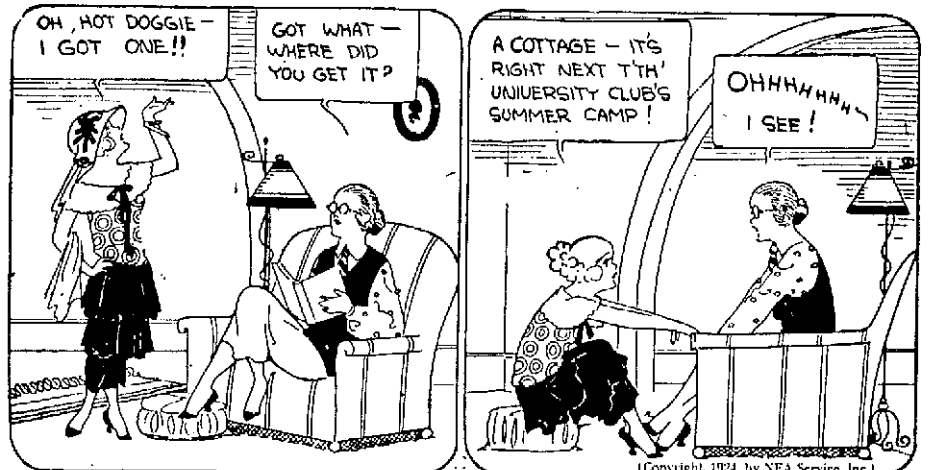

Charles B. Hobson of Hobson & Lawler, master plumbers, said he was opposed to "unethical" action as he believes this case to be and would protect the man's activities to the master plumbers' association. He said in his years of work he never knew of a real plumber not developed from practical experience rather than theory.

Mr. Pearson said as he interprets the law the helper of a master plumber can work on a job but the helper of a journeyman cannot. Mr. Hobson said that such is the case he thinks the law in this case is not fair.

In summing up Mr. Goldman termed the complaint as "spiteful" and urged its dismissal. The board took the complaint under advisement.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 2

"Well, get out the ropes boys," shouted the captain. "And two of you put on the gloves and let's see who's the best fighter." The sailors spread in a hurry and soon had a place squared off with ropes. Two husky sailors took off their shirts and slipped the big boxing gloves on.

Jack was selected as the referee. He stood in one corner, holding a watch in his hand. "Any time you're ready, we are!" smiled one of the boxers. Jack suddenly shouted "time," which meant for the sailors to start boxing. In an instant they were mixing together in great shape.

The boxing match was very exciting and Jack's pet dog, Flip, stood by his master's side and barked loudly as the men battled. Jack had seen prize fights before and he knew that each round is for three minutes. Suddenly he shouted "time" again and the boxers went to opposite corners. (Continued.)

HAVERHILL MAN FATALLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

HAVERHILL, Aug. 19.—Roy Rice, age 23, 48 Pecker street, died at the Gale hospital at 1 this morning from a fractured skull, shock and hemorrhage following injuries sustained two hours before in an auto accident on Broadway, near Coolidge avenue.

After Blanchard, Broadway, driver of the car, who received several cuts, was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and more serious charges may be brought later, the police say. Blanchard and Rice were found lying in the roadway by the police. A witness said that an auto headed toward Salem, N. H., side-swiped the Blanchard car, falling to stop.

PREMIER MacDONALD STILL EXCLUDED

ELGIN, Scotland, Aug. 19.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald is still to be denied the use of the Moray Golf club here from which he was expelled in 1916 on account of his attitude toward the war with Germany. A motion to rescind the expulsion was actually carried at a meeting of the committee by 55 votes to 47, but as the rules of the club require a two-thirds majority the original decision stands.

SENATORS TO ATTEND COLT FUNERAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—A committee to represent the senate at the funeral of Senator Colt of Rhode Island was appointed by Senator Cummings, president pro tempore of the senate yesterday as follows: Senators Gerry of Rhode Island, Campbell of New York, Dale of Vermont, Fletcher of Florida, Hale of Maine, Jones of New Mexico, Keyes of New Hampshire, McLean of Connecticut, Pittman of Nevada, Reed of Pennsylvania, Wadsworth of New York and Walsh of Massachusetts.

FEMININE TOUCH

There is a certain charming femininity even to the most tailored frocks that Paris is making up for winter. Little inconspicuous boxes or bits of embroidery keep them from looking too serious even though the garments may be intended for the most practical wear.

IN NEW YORK

By Stephen Hannagan

NEW YORK, August 19.—All the professional dancing girls on Broadway are not on the stage.

Hostesses in public dance halls make more money than prima of the chorus and dancing herself with minor part in musicals.

Lessons are given from out-of-town to the most persistent patrons of these dance halls with dimmed lights, two orchestras and a soda fountain.

They pay 35 cents to dance three times with a hostess. The house retains a dime and gives the rest to its regularly employed hostesses.

One girl, attractive and an exceptionally good ballroom dancer, is a dressmaker by day. At night she is the dancing escort of many men. She is the sole support of her mother and father, who is a paralytic. Her income averages $100 a week.

Many of the waxed-floor performers, stenographers, telephone operators and department store clerks by day, drive to the dance halls in their own automobiles. They have one night off a week.

There are male instructors, too. They are tall young men, with crossed hair, nimble feet, and clothes cut so extreme they are amusing.

Dancing with unscrupulous ladies is their nightly duty. One woman, age 19-26-32.

TRANSCONTINENTAL TRIP

Local Interest in "Coast-to-Coast" Excursion by Chamber of Commerce

Numerous Attractions to Be Provided—Lowell Will Be Well Represented

New England as a territory is, perhaps, more intensively industrialized than any other section of our country, but as trade centers and trade population increase in other parts of the country, just as fast will competitive manufacturing from a New England viewpoint, arise in those centers.

There is a very real relative, more apparent now than ever before, between industrial development in New England and the growth of many centers of population and trade elsewhere in the United States. The Lowell chamber of commerce believes that if representatives of local industries, finance and commerce can come into personal contact with conditions in the different parts of the country and listen to what men of understanding and repute have to say of them, and if, at the same time, these representatives have the opportunity of telling the truth about Lowell and other cities in Massachusetts and New England to our western friends by conversation, type and advertising, all factors in such an undertaking will be greatly benefited.

That is one of the great reasons for the coming Pullman train tour of cross-country—from "coast-to-coast"—to be undertaken by 142 representative citizens and business men of New England, starting from Boston on Sept. 8 at 6.30 p. m. from the North Union station, visiting Canada and then moving to the farthest west and taking in Seattle, California cities, returning via Salt Lake City and St. Louis, Chicago and thence back to Boston via the Boston and Albany railroad, arriving at home on Oct. 9. The journey "de luxe" is being arranged under Massachusetts State Chamber of Commerce auspices, but every business organization affiliated with the state organization, is heartily backing the impressive program.

Edward G. Stacy of Boston, attached to state chamber headquarters, is the active manager and booster for the coming "coast-to-coast" excursion. He has made several visits to Lowell and has expressed himself as pleased with the interest being taken in the trip locally. Secretary Manager Wells of the Lowell chamber, announced today that Mr. Stacy was expected to visit the city again later in the week. He will be at chamber headquarters between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. and is prepared to meet any citizen of Lowell who desires to secure information concerning the excursion.

Provided for the cross-country trip not shown on the official itinerary schedule. The Sun is informed that after the visit to Montreal on the westward journey, the "De Luxe" train will move to Minneapolis, where the New England prosperity boosters and ladies will be guests of the chamber of commerce for luncheon. The Spokane chamber is also preparing to tender the travelers a similar reception.

In Vancouver, the board of trade, with one of the largest membership organizations in the list of similar associations of business men and women, will receive the New England visitors. A typical English city—Victoria—will also be visited. In Seattle the chamber of commerce members will be the hosts. Guides will be waiting to show the ladies Seattle's wonderful shops and stores, fine as anything in America. The Hudson Bay Fur company has arranged to

KLAN LEADER JAILED

Went to Burlington, Vt. For Connection With Robbery of St. Mary's Church

Arrested For Failure to Pay Lawyer Who Acted For Him in White Slave Case

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 19.—Gordon Ryder, national investigator of the Ku Klux Klan came to Burlington yesterday to assist officials, he said, to capture William Moyers, Klan organizer, who disappeared following the robbery in St. Mary's cathedral here a week ago Saturday, but landed in jail only an hour after his appearance. Ryder was stationed here with the United States Signal Corps during the war when he eloped with a young girl and later was found guilty of violating the white slave act in the United States district court. He paid his fine but failed to pay his lawyers' fees for which he was arrested here yesterday.

He was admitted to bail and his hearing will be held some time during the week.

REICHSTAG TO DISCUSS LONDON NEGOTIATIONS

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The Reichstag is expected to discuss the London negotiations on the reparations question at its session on Friday.

Yesterday's meeting of the cabinet under the chairmanship of President Ebert, unanimously approved the German delegation's attitude during the London negotiations, and the government is determined to dissolve the Reichstag in the event of the latter failing to sanction the London pact.

Chancellor Marx expressed belief that M. Herriot would have made further concessions on the question of the Ruhr evacuation if political considerations had not prevented him. According to the Berliner Tageblatt, the representatives of the government parties came to the conclusion that the German delegation achieved in London all that could have been achieved.

exhibit some of its prized merchandise garnered from fur-bearing animal territories within the Arctic circle.

In all the other western cities flourishing today as never before in their vigorous growth and strict adaptation to modern ways and devices, the New Englanders will be welcomed, the few entertained and shown "the sights." The Pullman "De Luxe" train moves on its eastward return journey via Los Angeles, San Diego and thence to Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs and Denver. In each city, special entertainments are provided by chamber of commerce bodies and other organizations affiliated with the trades.

Acting in co-operation with the Massachusetts state chamber of commerce, the Lowell chamber organization invites its members and their wives and friends to participate as passengers in what will be a most enjoyable and instructive journey.

EVACUATION COMPLETED WITHOUT INCIDENT

PARIS, Aug. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The evacuation of the Baden towns of Offenburg and Appenweier was completed last night without incident, the French war department announced today.

The two squadrons of the Eleventh Hussars from Strasbourg and a company of the 107th infantry from Kehl, which formed the entire occupying force, numbering something less than 200 men, have rejoined their barracks.

Lowell Legionnaires To Attend Convention

to be the most important gathering of its kind that the state legionnaires have ever held. Local veterans are very enthusiastic over the prospects ahead and are planning to attend in large numbers.

A full complement of Lowell duly elected delegates and alternates, together with a large number of members of the local post's rank and file, will participate in the annual state convention proceedings, like prominent parts in the business sessions and assist in entertaining guests to be conducted on a lavish scale.

Although the convention does not formally start until Thursday morning, most of the legionnaires are going to Pittsfield tomorrow, for on Wednesday evening there are very important county organization meetings to be held separately, when candidates for state department and administrative committees are to be selected for the official balloting to come.

Lowell post official delegates are as follows: Commander Colin C. MacDonald, J. Henry Gilbride, John J. Walsh, Joseph M. Dinneen, Capt. Joseph A. Molloy, George A. McCarthy, Henry J. Sullivan, James P. McCreedy, Robert J. Rutledge.

Alternates: John P. O'Grady, James F. Conway, Archie Kennebeck, Hugh Finnerty.

Most of the local legion members will leave Lowell tomorrow morning on about 9 o'clock. The majority plan to make the trip in automobiles, to Pittsfield and back. There will be no movement over the roads in a group, members leaving the city when they please. Lowell headquarters in Pittsfield will be Hotel Wendell. All legionnaires will register at convention headquarters upon arrival.

Tomorrow evening, local legionnaires will attend an important meeting of the Middlesex council, which meets in midnight session. The members will hold a caucus to decide upon a list of candidates to be supported in the annual election of officers for the coming year. Great interest centers always in the "county caucuses."

Lowell veterans have several candidates in mind for department offices. The local organization had no representative last year in state department executive offices and the members feel that it is high time for Lowell to be duly recognized.

Members hope to secure a place for some new legionnaire on the state organization executive board, at least.

Post 87 members received the official programs of the coming state convention this morning. The Berkshire city is preparing a glorious welcome for the World War heroes and guests. The principal buildings of Pittsfield are to be decorated lavishly with flags and other patriotic emblems. A social evening of the election of officers is being arranged in the grand concert hall to be given in the state armory in Pittsfield, Thursday evening, as one of the municipality's reception entertainment features.

Pittsfield post, American Legion, is undertaking the entire responsibility of welcoming the delegates. Senators, generals, congressmen, lawyers, mayors of many cities, representatives of the state and nation of high official rank, as well as many of the highest officers of the veterans' organization, will attend the convention proceedings and participate in the social functions.

Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, retiring legion state commander, is to be given a big welcome when he arrives from Boston with a party of regular army officers and national dignitaries.

Lowell veterans understand that officials in the state department ranks, have endorsed a selected list of candidates for presentation to the con-

ELECTED TREASURER OF PORTUGUESE SOCIETY

A special meeting of the St. Antonio Portuguese society was held in the clubrooms last evening to take action on the death of Antonio Picanço, who had served in the capacity of treasurer.

FRANK P. CORTEZ

of the organization up to the time of his death, and to elect a successor. Resolutions were drawn up and spread on the records in connection with Mr. Picanço's death and several members of the society took occasion to speak briefly of the good work the deceased had done for the organization during his lifetime.

An election to choose a new treasurer followed and Frank P. Cortez was elected to this position by a large majority. He was immediately inducted into office and, in a short address, thanked the members of the club for honoring him in the election and promised to carry on the work of the office to the best of his ability.

Mr. Cortez is well known in the south end section of the city, where he has lived for nearly 25 years, and his election to the office of treasurer of the St. Antonio association met with general acclaim throughout the district. In addition to this office, Mr. Cortez is president of the Lusitanian-American Association, Inc., and is an active member of the organized reserves.

CHAMPIONSHIP FOR LOWELL PLAYGROUND

The championship for the Lowell playground is to be held on Wednesday afternoon on the Allen street playground between the North common and the Greenhalge, each team having won five and lost one game. The winner of this game is to represent Lowell in the Lowell inter-city baseball game on August 25th in Lowell.

Delegates, hoping that the delegates will enforce some on the list. It is said that the "hand-picked" list does not "sit well" with many legionnaires, who believe that no clique should instruct the delegates in this way. It is anticipated that the "caucuses" to be held by each county delegation in the state, will propose many different candidates from the "official list" just issued.

Here is the list of "selected as candidates" nearly a month ago on July 24—and which is not approved by many legionnaires, representing many sections of the state, including Lowell:

For commander, Leo M. Harlow, North Boston; first vice-commander, Francis J. Gaud, Cambridge; second vice-commander, William McGinnis, Lawrence; third vice-commander, A. C. Lawrence, Pittsfield; William Miller, North Andover; Matthew Boyle, East Boston; Frank Foy, Quincy; Richard Paul, Canton; John Guhanico, Westfield.

For adjutant, Leo A. Spillane, Jamulien Plain; treasurer, Margaret Mitchell, Boston; historian, Dr. Claude M. Pines, Andover; chaplain, D. C. Hickey, Medford; delegates at large, Ralph Robert (D.C.), Cambridge; Joseph Martin, Boston; Anthony Squitieri, Boston; Julius Haller, Needham.

ROXBURY JUDGE LOANS MAN HALF OF FINE

BOSTON, August 19.—When Henry Sulkin of Roxbury respectfully told Central court yesterday that he had only $5, not expecting the fine would be $10 for parking his car too long in Blackstone street, Judge Louie, knowing the defendant he had just fined, loaned him to a convenient angle where he could reach in his own pocket and produced and tendered to the accused the extra $5 bill.

"Thank you," said Sulkin, "I will return it this afternoon."

"Any time at all," returned Judge Louie—"Next case."

MORE PAY THAN THE SUPERINTENDENT

A situation unique in Lowell political history was brought to the attention of the board of public service informally yesterday afternoon. A carpenter was hired a week ago by the board to repair fences around the reservoirs and do other odd jobs. It developed yesterday that for his tinkering he is being paid more money than the superintendent of the water department.

The carpenter is given 90 cents an hour, the union wage for carpenters in the employ of the municipality. And he gets paid, unlike his less fortunate fellow craftsmen, for every day, rain or shine. A carpenter in the city employ gets in a full 48-hour week every week.

The superintendent of the water department gets 87 cents an hour and he works eight hours a day, seven days a week, a total of 56 hours.

REVISED LIST OF PRECINCT OFFICERS

The municipal elections board will, within the week, issue a revised list of precinct officials which is awaited with interest. Changes for the most part will be in the democratic personnel. It was stated today on what is deemed good authority, the only changes in the republican ranks contemplated being the filling of vacancies.

Dominick Molloy, democratic member of the board, is said by politicians to have asserted his right to change some of the officers and his fellow members are believed ready to acquiesce to his wishes. Mr. Molloy was appointed to succeed Joseph J. McGuire.

Lowell District Court

on William P. Desilets of Plainfield, N. H., for attempting to steal the automobile of Ralph S. Harlow of Tyngsboro. Attorney Charles A. Donahue asked the court to give defendant another chance in view of the fact that he had never been arrested before, and when the complainant agreed to this, Judge Benrich imposed the suspended sentence, adding that defendant should consider himself a lucky man to get off so lightly.

Walter Kargola, who stole Patrolman John Murphy's coat while under arrest last Sunday, agreed to make compensation for the coat. A charge of assaulting an officer, therefore, was placed on probation.

Suspended sentences of four months each in the house of correction were imposed on John B. Thornton and Mary E. Moran, both charged with being drunk.

John J. Dunlavy, drunkenness and operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, was continued to Aug. 28.

U. S. FLIERS IN SMASHUP

Will Be Unable to Leave Iceland for Several Days as Result of Accident

Both Planes Suffered Damage in an Attempted Start for Greenland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The American army fliers will be unable to leave Iceland for Greenland for at least three days more, owing to damage suffered by both planes in an attempted start.

Lieutenants Lowell H. Smith and Erik Nelson, the pilots, with their mechanic, Lieutenants Leslie Arnold and John Hardink, Jr., rose early yesterday, enthused by the prospect of continuing the flight, after the tedious wait here for favorable weather conditions and the establishment of a suitable landing place on the Greenland coast.

Their machines were heavily loaded with fuel for the trip of more than 800 miles to Fredericksdal, and it was this extra weight that caused the trouble, as the planes refused to lift from the water. Repeated efforts to get off were in vain, and the strain caused the spreader bar on Lieutenant Smith's plane to break, while the propeller of the other machine was shattered.

Repairs wait on the arrival here of the cruiser Richmond with spare parts. The cruiser which had put to sea in anticipation of the flight is expected to return tomorrow.

STILL WORKING ON STORM TORN TREES

Tree crews of the park department have been working steadily throughout the city removing uprooted trees and broken branches caused by the severe storm of August 7 but it is not expected the work will be completed in less than 10 days more.

The park department crews first undertook to remove uprooted trees, when that work was completed turned their attention to removing large branches broken by the wind and which threaten to fall at any moment. The greater part of this work is now done and within a few days actual "cleaning-up" operations will be started, smaller broken branches removed and debris accumulated in the streets carted off to the city dumps.

TWO MORE LOWELL BOYS JOIN NAVY

Chief R. R. Frederick of the naval recruiting office reports the enlistment of Jeremiah Twomey, 748 Lawrence street, and John Stepanowicz, 282 Fayette street, as apprentices at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., member of the 182nd Infantry, Mass. National Guard, and was well recommended by his commanding officer.

Chief Frederick states that any young man who intends to join the navy should enlist as soon as possible so as to be able to accompany the Atlantic fleet to the Philippines for winter maneuvers and to receive their Christmas leave. Information may be gained by applying at the navy recruiting station, Fairburn building.

FOR ARMY AND NAVY DAY DEMONSTRATION

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—It was announced this morning that the navy would send 12 planes into the air for the army and navy day demonstration at Port Adams tomorrow afternoon. There will be six bombers and six torpedo planes dropping dummies and it is hoped to secure the materials for the laying of a smoke screen. This in addition to the six army Martin bombers with parachute jumping, will form a great accompaniment to the land show for the afternoon.

ers are likely to unite in accepting here.

The condition of John Slavin, caddy at the Vesper Country club who was injured in an automobile accident early Sunday morning, is reported at the Lowell General hospital today as slightly improved.

A contingent of Boy Scouts will accompany the children on the Elks outing, Monday, August 25. Ten scout leaders will lead the excursion. Volunteers will report at the headquarters of the Lowell Council, Boy Scouts of America, before Saturday noon.

The Kelvinator "The Ice That Never Melts"

Think how pleased you would be if you could place a block of ice in your refrigerator now that would last all summer long.

A KELVINATOR placed in the ice chamber of your refrigerator will maintain an even temperature (colder than possible with ice) and free you of warm weather worries over the preservation of food.

Our own men, factory trained, are constantly installing Kelvinators in ever increasing numbers in residences in all sections of the city and surrounding towns. Let us quote you figures.

SAYS BRITAIN DOMINATES LEAGUE AND COMMERCE OF WORLD

Inspired Washington Arms Conference In Order to Prevent U. S. From Having Strong Navy to Protect Merchant Marine, Says Admiral Rodgers

WILLIAMSTOWN, Aug. 18.—Great Britain dominates the League of Nations and the commerce of the world and inspired the Washington conference for limitation of armaments in order to prevent the United States from having sufficiently strong navy to protect a merchant marine which could compete with that of England, said Rear Admiral W. L. Rodgers, U.S.N., retired, in a statement today at the Institute of Politics.

COOLIDGE PRESENTS SAP BUCKET USED BY FOREFATHERS TO FORD

President Opened Doors of His Father's Home at Plymouth, Vt., to Welcome Henry Ford, Thomas Edison, Harvey Firestone and Litter's Son

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 18.—President Coolidge opened the doors of his father's home here today and welcomed fellow vacationers—Henry Ford, Thomas Edison, Harvey Firestone and his son, Russell Firestone.

A short visit on the tiny front porch during which the president presented Mr. Ford with a sap bucket used by his forefathers on the farm here, a trip to Plymouth's only industrial establishment, a cheese factory, and a short discussion by the visitors on the business situation in which they were enthusiastic in their reports, marked the one-hour stop.

HEARING OF PERJURY CHARGE AGAINST FIRPO POSTPONED

Case Adjourned Until Sept. 20 at Request of Firpo's Counsel—Firpo's Fight With Harry Wills is Scheduled for Sept. 11

NEW YORK, August 19.—Federal Commissioner Hitchcock today postponed until September 20 the hearing of perjury charges made against Luis Angel Firpo by Canon William S. Chase on behalf of the New York City league. Firpo's fight with Harry Wills is scheduled for September 11.

The case was adjourned by the commissioner at the request of Hyman Bushel, counsel for Firpo.

Firpo, who hastened from his training camp near Saratoga Springs when he learned that the perjury charge had been brought, appeared before Com-

Two Armed Young Men Held Up Pair and Escaped With Loot of $1800

Used Ruse of Telegram To Deliver to Gain Entrance to House

BOSTON, August 18.—Using the ruse of a telegram to deliver to gain entrance, two young men armed with revolvers early this morning held up Richard Cohen and John J. Quinn in a house in the Dorchester district and escaped with loot valued at $1800. Of this amount $165 was in cash and the rest in jewelry.

Break at Winthrop
WINTHROP, Mass., August 18.—Burglars some time last night broke open the safe of the Metropolitan Coal company's office and stole $112. A patrolman discovered the break this morning. The burglars, it was found, climbed a high fence, broke in through a window, and wrecked the safe, probably with a sledge hammer.

TO CLOSE COTTON EXCHANGE AT 11.45

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The board of managers of the New York cotton exchange would be closed next Saturday at 11.45 o'clock. This was decided upon, it was explained, in order to avoid any excitement in connection with the publication of the regular government cotton crop report at 12 o'clock noon, New York time, on that date.

AIR MAIL LETTER RECEIVED

BOSTON, August 19.—The first air mail letter to be received by the Boston police department was delivered this morning, having been 31 hours in transit from San Francisco. Chief D. J. ## LIONS ROAR AT MOVIES, MUSIC

No Speaker at Noonday Luncheon, But Novel Entertainment Highly Pleasing

Plan Trip to Tewksbury Infirmary and Visit to Patients Next Tuesday

A meeting of the Lions' club was held this noon in V.M.C.A. hall with President Dr. G. Forrest Martin in the chair. There was no speaker but an entertainment consisting of moving pictures and music was provided. Four reels of pictures of local events were shown by D. C. Donaldson and a number of songs sung by club members, with George Smith, club pianist, at the piano.

The recently adopted by-laws and constitution of the club were read by Fred R. Harvey of the by-law committee. Dr. G. Forrest Martin announced that next week's meeting will be held at the state infirmary in Tewksbury and will be preceded by a tour of the institution. Members will leave this city at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and will have dinner at 5 o'clock. The committee in charge consists of Pres. Dr. Martin, Secretary Dumas and Messrs. Hollingsworth, Conney and Leggat.

MAN SHOT AND FATALLY WOUNDED IN QUINCY

QUINCY, Mass., August 19.—Joseph Bucini, proprietor of the Eagle Granite Company here, was shot and fatally wounded by Sebastiano D. Cristosara, also of Quincy, on the street near his office here today. The assailant was arrested without a struggle.

Bucini was sitting in an automobile with Harry Cole of Cole & Cole, another granite manufacturing firm. Cristosara approached and drawing a revolver, ordered Cole out of the car. He then fired one shot at Bucini. The latter, struck in the face by the bullet, clambered out of the car and Cristosara fired three more shots, Bucini collapsing on the sidewalk.

William McLeod, also a granite manufacturer, picked up Bucini and carried him to a lawn, where he laid him down while he entered the house to telephone for aid. Bucini attempted to stand up and Cristosara, who had waited calmly in the vicinity, went back and finished his work with two more shots.

PARENTS CLAIM BOY NEGLECTED

Death Was Due to "Post-Diphtherial Paralysis of the Heart"

Dr. Drury Says Diet Had Nothing to Do With Ultimate Death of Child

Hospital Superintendent and Wife Interviewed—Child Attended by Ward Maid

Dr. Pierre Brunelle, acting chairman of the board of health in the temporary absence from the city of Dr. Francis R. Mahony and Fisher H. Pearson, fellow-members of the board, this morning investigated at the isolation hospital, conditions surrounding the death there Sunday morning of Edward Tremblay, 8 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Tremblay of 87 Fourth avenue. The investigation followed an interview given by the board to the child's parents at the regular session held in city hall yesterday afternoon.

The chief development of the investigation was the statement of Dr. John N. Drury, attending physician, that the cause of death was "post-diphtherial paralysis of the heart." This report had been made by the physician on the death certificate. Dr. Forster H. Smith, superintendent of the institution, was questioned by the board members. Mrs. Smith and other attendants were also interrogated.

At the meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon the case was first called to attention by a brief communication from Dr. Drury stating that the child's parents had complained to him, after the death, of intention to leave the child in the hospital. He decided to hear the parents, who were present in an adjoining room.

The father told of visiting the hospital and finding that no trained nurse was attending the child but that a ward maid had given it fish and canned peaches for supper on Thursday night. No change of diet was recorded on the chart, the investigation this morning showed. Dr. Smith, his wife and others at the hospital said a small portion of fish, some bread and apples, not peaches, were given the child, then supposedly convalescent.

The parents testified that what the child ate was omitted a few minutes thereafter and that from that time the child showed a gradual decline until death came on Sunday morning.

Dr. Drury was notified by the parents that a ward maid rather than a nurse was attending the child. He told the board this morning that he went to the hospital Friday morning and left word for Dr. Smith or Mrs. Smith, neither of whom he could find, that a trained nurse should constantly be with the child. Despite this, the doctor stated, a ward maid ordered the supper period with the child on both Friday and Saturday nights.

Dr. Smith and Mrs. Smith stated that there are insufficient nurses at the hospital while Dr. Drury maintained that there are a sufficient number of "exceptionally fine nurses, trained for congenial work" who could be made constantly available by a readjustment of working schedules.

On Thursday the child took a turn for the better, the doctor said. For three hours on Thursday and a like period on Friday, he added, the child was alone with an eight-dollar-a-week ward maid while nurses were relieved for "their time off." The ward maid, Irene Briere, corroborated this statement, saying she was told to stay with the child, give it water if needed, and should any complications develop summon a trained nurse from another shack.

Dr. Drury said that while he believed the diet had nothing to do with the case, he was not sure.

ROTARY SHOULDERS ALL TO WHEEL ON "NEW ENGLAND WEEK"

Lowell May Have Crack Regimental Band of "Fighting Fifth" Regulars Come Here—Sojourns Main Topics at Weekly Luncheon at Boys' Club Today

Lowell Rotarians are prepared to do their part in properly observing "New England Week" from September 15 to 20. Members meeting in weekly business session today without any listed speaker, resolved to firmly support all local programs advancing the commendable cause that seeks to bring back prosperity to the people of Lowell and all New England communities.

Rotarians are ready to assist in every way possible in advertising the fame of Lowell and her industries. The clubmen have always been Lowell boosters, of course, and the September campaign will find them hustling with the business leaders of the community in first position.

Tentative programs call for extensive advertising of Lowell and her industries. The Rotarians have taken no definite official action on any plan as yet. The matter will be taken up in due time.

General Andrew W. Brewster of the First Corps Area, U.S.A., has offered the services of regular army troops and bands as an aid to the plans for the observance of "New England week." Lowell can have a tree concert or two by the crack Fifth Regiment band of 75 pieces at Camp Devens, if it wants to.

SAYS FORGED TELEGRAM INDUCED EMPEROR TO DECLARE WAR

VIENNA, Aug. 19.—It was a forged telegram that induced Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary to declare war against Serbia in July, 1914, according to a statement by Colonel Seliger, who at the time the war began was chief of the press bureau of the Vienna war office, published in the Vienna Telegraph.

POLICE REPORT KID MCCOY, HELD IN DEATH CASE, BECAME MENTALLY UNBALANCED IN CELL TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, held on suspicion of murder in connection with the death last Tuesday night of Mrs. Theresa Mors, became mentally unbalanced in his cell here today, according to a police announcement. Alienists yesterday declared McCoy sane.

Captain of Detectives Cline declared his belief that the former prize ring idol was not acting, but was actually cracking under the strain. A special guard was detailed to McCoy's cell to prevent his doing himself any injury.

Mumbling and pacing nervously about his narrow quarters, the former fighter started every few moments to paste bits of cardboard on the walls.

When asked what he was doing, he answered: "I'm making a trap for that rat Mors."

DRIVE TO ENFORCE PARKING RULES

During the enforced absence of Sgt. Edward Connors, traffic supervisor, who is confined to his home with illness, Sgt. Hugh Maguire is acting as temporary supervisor, and has started an intensive campaign to enforce the parking regulations, especially in Merrimack, Central and Prescott streets, where daily violations are reported.

It is the intention of the police to prosecute violators of the rules in the future, and motorists, therefore, who fail to abide by the regulations will be haled into court. In conspicuous places in the streets above-mentioned are signs informing automobilists that machines may be parked in certain territories for five minutes only. On week-days, from 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon until 6, machines are not allowed to park in the restricted areas at all. The same is true on Saturdays, when the rule is in effect from 4.30 to 9 o'clock.

Sgt. Maguire stated this morning that motorists are failing up to the rules and the only way to enforce them, he said, is to bring the offenders before the court.

A Story Without Words

GIFT NIGHT TONIGHT
AT THE COMMODORE

Tonight will be known as "Gift Night" at the Commodore ballroom with check dancing throughout the evening. The admission will be 10 cents.

Manager Heane expects a shipment of "Mama Dolls" which will be given to the lucky ladies attending tonight's affair, while valuable prizes have been selected for the gentlemen. Upon entering the hall each person is given a coupon and later in the evening the lucky individuals will be awarded the favors.

Wednesday evening will be "Old Timers" night with Joe Hibbard's orchestra playing all the old favorite dance numbers of other days. While it is called old timers night there will be several numbers for those who are partial to the modern dances. Last week's event was a big success and those present thoroughly enjoyed the evening's entertainment so much so that another affair of its kind was requested by several of the patrons. These parties are growing in popularity and are not only attended by old timers but many of the younger set as well. The admission for this event is 50 cents.

Thursday evening will be an open date at this resort as no booking has been made for the date in question. Miner-Doyle's team will play far check dancing Friday and Saturday evenings.

FUNDS TO START
NEW PUTNAM BANK

PUTNAM, Conn., Aug. 19.—Putnam, using war-time and liberty loan methods, has gone over the top in its campaign to get funds to organize a new national bank to replace the wrecked First National Bank, closed after shortage had been discovered by national bank examiners and after its cashier, former state treasurer O. Harold Gilpatrick had attempted suicide. A citizens' committee of 12 reported last night that the $150,000 to establish the new institution had been ever subscribed and that the necessary papers for filing a formal application for a charter had been received from Washington.

FORM NEW POLITICAL PARTY IN NEBRASKA UNANIMOUS APPROVAL BY FRENCH CABINET

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Formation of a new political organization in Nebraska to nominate Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin and Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana as independent candidates for president and vice-president in this state, was in prospect, as La Follette supporters gathered today for a mass convention, according to A. H. Bigelow, Omaha attorney and a member of the meetings arrangement committee.

Creation of a new political party was believed the easier way to insure the naming of presidential electors to serve Senator La Follette in case he carried the state in November. Mr. Bigelow, pointing out that while candidates can be nominated in Nebraska merely by filing petitions, the latter method does not appear to provide any specific means of selecting electors.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The French cabinet today unanimously approved the work of the French delegation at the international conference in London and thanked it for the important results it had attained in the interests of France.

It was decided that the premier should read his declaration before the senate and chamber on Thursday, giving a complete report of the work of the conference to both bodies of the French legislature.

Premier Herriot told interviewers today that he had decided to waste no time in going ahead with the task of obtaining the approval of both houses of the legislature of the work accomplished in London.

The conference is the first act of the Lausanne treaty, which remains to be accomplished but I sincerely believe they will prove less difficult. I count on the debate before the chamber to be over by Friday and that before the senate by Saturday.

The premier hopes that even the Lausanne treaty may be taken up and ratified before the closing of the session of the legislature is read.

LETTER URGES HANGING OF CHICAGO YOUTHS

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Police are seeking the origin of a letter, urging the hanging of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, for the murder of Robert Frank, found last night on the steps of the home of a wealthy neighbor of Loeb, weighted down with a human leg bone, resting between crossed arm bones with a human skull above. The bones were those of a woman, police said, and bore metallic tags, causing the belief that they came from some medical school.

The letter read: "If the court don't hang them, we will," and was signed "K. K. K."

Because a police guard had been maintained at the Loeb home since the youths' arrest, the officers believe the letter was left at the nearby residence.

ARGENTINE FLIER MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

HANOI, French Indo-China, Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Mig. Pedro Zanni, Argentine round-the-world flier, met with an accident while taking off for Canton today, when his machine overturned. The flier escaped unhurt, but his plane was put out of commission.

BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The Haverhill-Lowell playground baseball championship is to be played in Lowell, August 25, on the South common. Lowell is to be represented by the boys team which wins the playground championship. The Rotary-Kiwanis trophy, a trophy given last year is to be again played for. Last year Lowell won this trophy for the first time, the team winning this for three years will get the trophy permanently. The team to represent Lowell will be determined this week, upon the determination of the existing leagues.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Both the railroad and industrial averages were at new high ground for the year when the stock market opened today. The average of 20 leading industrials was 103.57 or 18 1/4 points above the year's low, and the average of 20 rails was 93.15, or 12 1/2 points above the year's minimum. Both averages recorded a net gain of about one-half point in yesterday's trading.

An extra dividend of 25 cents has been declared by directors of the National Transit company, payable Sept. 15 to stock of record Aug. 30.

The new high price of 147 1/2 for recent years touched by Union Pacific yesterday as it led the advance of railroad issues was attributed to high earnings, the strong financial position of the property and possibilities of large oil developments in the company's lands.

DEATHS

MACNEIL—John Edward Macneil, a former resident of Cape Breton, died yesterday at St. John's hospital, after a brief illness. He was an employee of the Billerica car shops and was a member of the mechanical employees union. He is survived by his wife, Gertrude (O'Reilly) Macneil; three daughters, Mary, Margaret and Elizabeth; two sons, Alfred and John; his father, Michael Macneil of Cape Breton; one sister, Miss Mary Macneil of Boston, and three brothers, Joseph of Boston, John of Sydney, N. S., and Michael of Waterford, N. S. The body was taken to the rooms of Underwriters James F. O'Donnell and later will be taken to his home, 22 Webster avenue, Halifax and Sydney papers please copy.

BERUBE—The many friends of Miss Agnes Berube will regret to learn of her death, which occurred yesterday at her home, 128 Belmont street, after a short illness, aged 31 years and 3 months. She was born in Lowell and had resided here all her life. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Berube of 128 Belmont street, Mrs. Marie Berube, Miss Louise Berube, Mrs. Henri St. George and Mrs. Olivier Roy, all of this city, and Mrs. Frank Dandureau of New York city, and one brother, Thomas Berube of this city.

CAPPEY—Miss Helen Cappey, a resident of the Old Ladies' home for the past six years, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her niece, Mrs. Louise Moran, 42 Harbor View avenue, Winthrop, aged 88 years. She is survived by one step-sister, Mrs. Mary C. Walsh of Winthrop; four nieces, Mrs. William Slater of Brighton, Mrs. Louise Moran and the Misses Catherine and Annie Walsh of Winthrop; and one grandniece, Mrs. Robert Murray of Brighton.

FUNERALS

MCANENY—The funeral of John McAneny, a well known and esteemed resident of this city for the past 43 years, took place this morning at 9 o'clock from his home, 1214 Gorham street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The service was conducted by the Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I. The choir under the direction of Miss Veronica Barr, sang the Gregorian chant, the solos being sung by Miss Veronica Barr, Miss Mary Garrity, Miss Veronica Barr and Mr. John McMahon. Miss Veronica Barr presided at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes and of spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Messrs. Frank Green, John J. Connor, Patrick Carrigan, Edward C. Walker, Thomas A. Sheehan and John P. Mahoney. The funeral took place in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by the Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O.M.I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Mahoney Bros.

NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY

As Long as War is Legal it Would Be Folly to Be Unprepared, Says Pinchot

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 19.—Governor Pinchot in a letter made public today explaining his attitude toward national defense day, said that so long as war remains legal "it would be wholly unprepared for America to be wholly unprepared."

"The most effective advocates of the peace of the world," the governor said, "are not those who would make America powerless, and therefore despised in a world whose international relations are as yet based on legalized war."

"War should be made a crime under the law of nations, and ultimately it will be, but until that has been done, such small forces as the people of the United States and the several states elect to maintain should be the best of their kind."

The governor added that it was his obvious duty to assist the federal government in a nation-wide test of the national defense day, and accordingly had directed that the national guard of Pennsylvania be assembled on national defense day.

HEAVY RAIN AT SCENE OF DAWES NOTIFICATION

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 19.—Rain threatened to dampen the notification ceremonies here tonight for Charles C. Dawes, republican vice-presidential candidate.

Evanston was drenched by an early morning thunder storm which resolved itself into a slow drizzle that kept decorations soaked and caused worried looks on the faces of those in charge of the notification ceremonies.

The weather bureau said that a temporary let-up in the storm was in sight late in the day, but the forecaster was unable to guarantee that it would not rain tonight.

General Dawes and the committee in charge declared, however, that the ceremonies would be held "rain or shine," and preparations were made to spread a canopy over the speaker's stand in the event of rain.

GROUP OF WHITE MEN AND WOMEN SERFS TO BLACK MASTERS

Tragic Fate of Unfortunate Whites Revealed in Report of South African Expedition—Whites Live in State of Subjection to Blacks

LONDON, August 19.—Out of the great African interior by way of Cape Town comes a pathetic story of a group of white men and women who are living in a state of subjection to blacks who exercise complete mastery over them.

The tragic fate of these unfortunate whites has just been revealed in a report which officials of the South African government's latest expedition now in the interior of the great Kalahari desert, have sent to Cape Town. The expedition went into the interior to study the breeding grounds of locusts.

When they arrived at Molopole, a hundred miles in the interior of the desert, the officials were taken before Sebele, the paramount native chief. They found him well educated, able to speak English fluently and both he and his wife wore European clothing.

The visitors discovered some fifty white men and women living near the chief's kraal where they act as servants to the chief and his followers. They are thought to be descendants of old Dutch pioneers who, trekking into the interior, lost themselves in the desert.

"These unfortunate have no power to own land and no privileges of any kind. They are virtually serfs to the natives, tilling the land of their black masters who give them small quantities of grain as wages."

JEDDA, Arabia, August 19 (By the Associated Press)—Bitter fighting took place yesterday between the Wahabites and government forces in Trans-Jordania, according to news which reached here today.

The Wahabites attacked and occupied several towns, including Tarash. Then the government forces, under command of Khalaf Eltal and Arif, made a counter-attack and drove the invaders out of Tarash. The government forces, assisted by local tribesmen, killed 300 Wahabites, took many prisoners and captured a number of camels and rifles.

CAIRO, Aug. 19.—Disturbances took place last night at Port Sudan and martial law was proclaimed. The newspaper Sisyas declared today. A unit of Highland troops is said to be due at Port Sudan today.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

"OIL, DEAR! DEARIE ME!" EXCLAIMED WEENY

"Is your vacation nearly over, Weeny?" asked Nancy.

"Over?" remarked Weeny in surprise. "I should say not! When I take a vacation I take a big one. I'm a big person and I never do anything little. No, siree! My vacation isn't half over yet. Why? Are you Twins getting tired?"

"Oh, no!" said Nancy. "I only asked because I was afraid maybe it might be, and I'm having such a good time and I want it to last as long as possible."

"So do I!" declared Nick. "That's just fine!" said Weeny happily giving each of them a hug with his long trunk. "So now I suppose you want to go with me to visit some more of my circus friends."

"Yes, we do!" cried both Twins together.

"I've visited so many there aren't very many left," said Weeny thoughtfully. "But I think we'd better visit Tommy Tiger next. He'd feel awfully upset if he thought I was visiting around and left him out."

So to Tommy Tiger's house they went.

"Hello!" said Tommy when he saw them. "Where are you going?"

"No place!" said Weeny. "We're not going. We're coming. We've come to visit!"

"Ho-ho!" cried Tommy Tiger. "Leave your satchel on the porch and come on over to the playground with me. I was just starting."

"Sure," said Weeny. "We'll come right away. Slide down off my back, Nick, will you, and set my satchel on Tommy's front porch."

Soon everybody was ready and off they all started for the playground where Tommy Tiger and his friends had such a good time.

There were swings and slides and everything you could think of to make the jungle children happy.

"Let's try the see-saw first," said Tommy Tiger. "Nancy and Nick can take a turn and then Weeny and I can take a turn. Then we can go turn about until we get tired."

So the Twins took their turn on the see-saw, and then it was time for Weeny and Tommy to get on.

Tommy got on his end of the board and Weeny was just going to sit down on his end of the board, when his feet slipped and down he went on it—smack! like a ton of coal.

And Tommy Tiger flew up over the tree tops like a stone out of a slingshot and disappeared from view altogether—like a shooting-star, as Nick said afterwards.

"Oh, dear! Dearie me!" exclaimed Weeny. "Now look what I went and did. Well, I have to find Tommy and bring him back. If he's lost, his mama and papa will bite my head off."

So Nancy and Nick and Weeny went to look for Tommy Tiger, and at last they found him, sticking away up in a palm tree about a hundred feet high.

If he hadn't been a circus tiger and used to jumping he never, never would have gotten down. But he did at last.

And he was so good natured that he only laughed about it. "That was the best ride I ever had," he said. "Let's go back to the playground and have some more fun."

So away they went.

A moving picture program and band concert at the South common last evening was enjoyed by an audience estimated as in excess of 8000. The pictures were shown under the direction of the park department and the band concert was given by Regan's military band, assisted by the Honey Boy Four.

Governor Bryan Promises Help to Farmer and Labor in Acceptance Speech

GOV. BRYAN FORMALLY ACCEPTS VICE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

Nebraska Executive Lays Down in Unmistakable Terms the Principles and Issues Upon Which He Will Go Before People for Victory at Polls

CHARLES W. BRYAN

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 18.—(By The Associated Press)—Before a large and colorful gathering of long time friends and supporters and national and sectional party leaders, Governor Charles W. Bryan last night formally accepted the nomination for vice-president by the democratic party and laid down in unmistakable terms the principles and issues upon which he will go before the people for victory at the polls.

In the center of the football field at the University of Nebraska, Memorial stadium, Governor Bryan made his speech of acceptance, following the lead of his party's standard-bearer, John W. Davis, who a week ago chose the outdoors for launching the democratic campaign at Clarksville, Va.

Governor Bryan definitely opened his campaign with a promise to "broad, strong and progressive enough to justify the support of those who believe in equality before the law," and declared the democrats have presented a program of progressive policies "for which the party stands as a unit, without the intervention of faction, bloc or section." He pledged his full support to Mr. Davis and declared both he and the presidential candidate are in harmony with the platform upon which they will fight for electoral support.

"By the selection of one from the heart of the great middle west as its candidate, the democratic party recognizes the importance of agriculture as one of the basic industries of the nation," Mr. Bryan asserted, adding that "we have the assurance that our party is in direct sympathy with the needs and advancement of the farmers of the country."

Praises Party's Platform

The vice-presidential candidate praised the party's platform as "broad, strong and progressive enough to justify the support of those who believe in equality before the law," and declared the democrats have presented a program of progressive policies "for which the party stands as a unit, without the intervention of faction, bloc or section." He pledged his full support to Mr. Davis and declared both he and the presidential candidate are in harmony with the platform upon which they will fight for electoral support.

"By the selection of one from the heart of the great middle west as its candidate, the democratic party recognizes the importance of agriculture as one of the basic industries of the nation," Mr. Bryan asserted, adding that "we have the assurance that our party is in direct sympathy with the needs and advancement of the farmers of the country."

Pledges Self to Task

"It is unthinkable," he said, at another point, "that the great host of progressive farmers and wage earners, both organized and unorganized, who I know from active association and cooperation in service for many years, having this great party organization, presented now as a fit instrument through which to work their will, should permit a division of strength and make possible the triumph of the forces of reaction and selfish interest."

He felt, he said, that it was but due to say that he was "conscious of no obligation to any interest or any individual that would embarrass me in the discharge of the duties of this office." He accepted with the solemn pledge, he added, that "every ability I can exercise and every effort I can make will be with an eye single to the material, moral and spiritual welfare of my country and my countrymen."

Blames G.O.P. for Calamities

Honesty, efficiency and economy in government were declared by the nominee as the need of the hour.

He laid to the door of the republican administration the responsibility for the "unrest through the country," duplication of government work, unnecessary boards and commissions, high cost of government and excessive taxation.

He dwelt particularly, however, on agriculture and charged the republicans with changing the farmers' condition, "from prosperity to adversity." Their policy, he said, of reducing the higher tariff schedules on incomes and removing the tax from the producer had shifted the burden to the

of extracting from the confusion and disorder incident to such an administration the slightest opportunity for assistance or relief.

Graft and Corruption

"Congress, through the coalition of progressive independents and democrats, and over the protest of a reactionary republican leadership, might be able to pass some legislation, but it would be met, as it has been, by the vetoes of an unsympathetic president."

Defeat of the ship subsidy bill, the battle against the "iniquitous and indefensible" provision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law, defeat of the Mellon tax plan and adoption of an opposition substitute, and the "long and hard fight to rid this administration of graft and corruption," were detailed as achievements of the "progressive forces," the democratic alignment with which no one could deny, during the last four years.

President Coolidge's reference in his acceptance speech to agriculture and the questions were attacked by Senator Harrison in sarcastic terms.

"It must be a reference to the great agricultural west," he said, "living through the lean years of this republican administration—confronted as it has been with a situation deplorable in the extreme and hardly conceivable to any other in this generation—that the republican nominee for president should announce in his acceptance speech in speaking of agriculture, 'The glad tidings of temporary relief, I propose, therefore, to appoint a committee to investigate and report measures to the congress in December that may help secure this result which we all desire.'"

"The president overlooks the fact that in June, 1921, while vice president, at the direction of congress, he appointed a committee to study the state of agriculture and to make recommendations to the congress. The republican nominee has forgotten that that committee made its report in the fall of that year, and up until this good hour he has done nothing toward having any of the recommendations enacted into law."

"In the same speech," he said, "the president to admit that he had previously through presidential akas or otherwise declared to be impossible, namely prosperity under a democratic tax bill."

Bryan Accepts Nomination

Gov. Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska in accepting the democratic vice-presidential nomination here, last night, praised the party platform as broad, strong and progressive enough to satisfy the principle of "equality before the law," and a "program through which farmers and wage earners might work their will without dividing strength and making possible 'the triumph of reaction and selfish interest.'"

John W. Davis, the presidential nominee, and himself were termed "the happy pair" on the platform upon which we have been nominated. The democratic party stands as a unit, "without the intervention of faction, bloc or section," he declared, "free from obligation to either individuals or interest that would prevent it from being used to secure confidence in government and economic justice to the nation."

Blames G. O. P. for High Prices

His selection as "one from the heart of the great middle west" as the presidential candidate Gov. Bryan hailed as the democratic party's recognition of "the importance of agriculture as one of the basic industries of the nation."

Political unrest and discontent throughout the country is a protest against the inaction of those in public office, he asserted, coupling the statement with an accusation that "failure of the republican administration to enforce the law against conspiracies in restraint of trade and illegal combinations of business which stifle competition has unnecessarily, unfairly and dishonestly increased the cost of living and permitted the profiteer to ply his trade without let or hindrance."

Entrance of some states into the field of commerce, in which he said the state of Nebraska was among the leaders, he attributed to "the failure of the national republican administration to enforce the law against private monopoly."

Although, he continued, millions of dollars a year were saved to the people in the cost of gasoline and oil bills, he did not favor such municipal or state competition except when "government officials become corrupt, and the federal government fails to function for the protection of the masses." The alternative result would be "I. W. W., bolsheviks and anarchy in the community and state," he declared.

Outstanding Issues

Gov. Bryan in discussing what he termed "a few of the outstanding issues uppermost in the minds of the people of the great agricultural nation," included "women's worth and equality," child welfare, the democratic party's interest in the support of labor, the needs of the agriculturalist, water power development, law enforcement, and the outlawing of war.

The nominee expressed appreciation of the desire of the citizens of Lincoln, who he has made his home thirty years, to have the notification made here, "an indication to the people of Lincoln and of Nebraska for whatever success I may have achieved," he said.

He referred to his connection for more than 20 years with the publication of "The Champion," issued by him and his brother, William Jennings Bryan, as having given "an opportunity to apply the principles of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none.'"

Equal Rights to All

"As a business man who has been endeavoring to apply business principles to government and to an experienced platform speaker, I will give all the support to our national leader that my ability will permit," Governor Bryan said.

The success of the nation, composed of diverse peoples and activities, requires that the desires and interests of each shall be subject to the rights and needs of all, with individuals, groups, factions and organizations restrained to the extent that equal rights of others shall not be impaired, he declared.

The democratic platform, Gov. Bryan asserted, upholds the "ideals of Americanism, demands a return to honesty and equality in government, and outlines the legislative and administrative requirements for such restoration."

Progressive Platform

"It is the most progressive platform ever promulgated," he declared.

He paid a tribute to his running mate, saying the spirit of unity rose

Chief Points in Bryan's Speech of Acceptance

Charges: Republican administration responsible for high cost of living by laxity in enforcing laws against monopolies and illegal combines.

Asserts: "Buying of immunities, issuing of permits, hoisting of tariff schedules and granting of government oil leases in return for campaign contributions must be uprooted and destroyed."

Assails war propaganda and mobilization demonstrations as inimical to the prevailing sentiment of the country.

Says all legislation for the benefit of the wage earner rests on the first sentence of democratic party platform: "Labor is not a commodity; it is human."

Stresses necessity of relieving distress of farmer by economic adjustments. Blames republican party for present condition of agriculture.

SHAWER TELLS BRYAN DAWES NOTIFICATION AT EVANSTON TONIGHT

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Lincoln returned to normal today after having last night witnessed its fourth celebration attending the notification to members of the Bryan family of their nomination by the democratic party.

Williams Jennings Bryan has been honored by middle western citizens on three different occasions when he was notified of his nomination for president. Last night "Brother Charlie," governor of the state, and his adopted son for thirty years, received the highest honor in his political life when he was officially notified of his nomination as democratic candidate for the vice-presidency.

Democratic party leaders overnight shifted the political spotlight from Lincoln to Chicago, Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the national committee, returning on a midnight train with other party dignitaries.

Governor Bryan yesterday went over with the democratic field marshal some of the details of his itinerary, but no announcement has yet been made of any dates or places. Mr. Shaver, before leaving, however, said he told the governor to "go to it" and indicated the nominee would tour this state before going elsewhere.

Presiding over the ceremonies, which were broadcast by radio through four powerful stations, was the first woman ever to act in such a capacity—Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Joplin, national committee spokeswoman from Missouri, and vice-chairwoman of the national committee.

Surrender of the support of William Jennings Bryan to his brother was announced by the former in a brief speech which brought the ceremonies to a close.

REPUBLICANS WILL RALLY IN WESTFORD

A big republican rally will be held at Whitney field, Westford, next Saturday afternoon, at which several candidates for the various national and state republican offices will speak.

There will be a ball game between the Chelmsford A.A. and the Littleton team, together with other sports and a band concert in the afternoon. A dance will be held in the town hall in the evening. Mr. W. Hartford is chairman of arrangements.

and reason triumphed in the nomination of "that able lawyer, that trained diplomat, that experienced statesman, that champion of the rights of humanity, that progressive democrat, John W. Davis."

"The buying of immunities, issuing of permits, hoisting of tariff schedules and the granting of government oil leases in return for campaign contributions must be uprooted and destroyed if this government is to endure," he asserted, adding that men must be selected for public positions because of honesty and ability, rather than social qualities or political strategy.

Righteous Cause Will Triumph

Every righteous cause will triumph sooner because of women's political activity, and the welfare, education and protection of child life and the care of mothers are of first importance, he said.

Labors Deal with Humanity

Labors deal with humanity, asserted Gov. Bryan.

"All legislation for the benefit of the wage earners rests on the first sentence of our platform's labor plank, 'labor is not a commodity; it is human,'" he said. "The capitalists of industry have their rights, but those whom they employ and whose labor they direct have rights as sacred and essential as their employers' to industrial welfare and our political progress."

He termed the republican administration's attitude towards labor unfair and said recent action regarding railway mail as "economy at the expense of labor."

The democratic party's pledge of all its energies towards outlawing war could not be stronger and express the sentiment of a large majority of the American people, Gov. Bryan declared. War propaganda and mobilization demonstrations are unnecessarily inflammatory and misleading, he said.

Law Enforcement

The nominee criticized the republican party for its attitude towards agriculture, holding it to blame for acceleration of land prices, legislation which changed the farmers' conditions from prosperity to adversity, and for spreading industrial depression and unemployment.

"The democratic party has proven itself to be the friend of the farmer in the past and the platform adopted in the recent national convention provides for the most complete and practical relief for the farmer that any political party or organization has ever conceived."

Gov. Bryan spoke in support of the development of water power, and strict public control of and conservation of all natural resources.

DAWES NOTIFICATION AT EVANSTON TONIGHT

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 18.—Charles G. Dawes waited at his home here today for the coming of republican leaders to notify him of his nomination as republican vice-presidential candidate.

The notification will take place at ceremonies to be held tonight on the lawn of the state Daves home, starting at 8 o'clock, Central daylight saving time. The exercises are to be preceded by a monster parade of the old-fashioned type, designed to give the whole affair something of the flavor of a big political rally.

Everything was in readiness here for the notification. Officials of the republican national committee, working with Evanston citizens in arranging for the ceremonies, expect upwards of a hundred thousand people to gather about the Daves home and along the nearby Lake front should the weather be favorable.

Thousands upon thousands of cheerleaders have installed apparatus linking up 15 of the larger radio stations of the country, extending from New England far into the west. The radio-aiding will start at 6:45 p. m. Central standard time with a description of the preliminary events.

William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, will preside at the ceremonies. The invocation will be offered by one of Mr. Dawes' neighbors, the Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the first Methodist church of Chicago, and the benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. Hugh Patrick Smyth, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church of Evanston.

The notification address will be made by Representative A. W. Joffe of Nebraska, who placed Mr. Dawes' name before the Cleveland convention. He was selected to take the place of Theodore E. Burton, temporary chairman of the Cleveland convention who is now abroad.

A number of invitations have been received for him to get away with a Labor day address, but it was said today at his headquarters that he prefers to wait until a later date to make his first speech.

It is probable that Senator Wheeler of Montana, Mr. La Follette's running mate, will begin a stump tour at the first of September. The itineraries of both candidates will be determined at conferences which will begin after the arrival here, within a day or two, of Senator Wheeler from a vacation spent in New England.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS ENTER-TAIN AT NABNASSET

Lowell's Y. M. C. A. boys, capably acting as hosts for many relatives and friends at Nabnasset yesterday, provided a sparkling minstrel show and other entertainment in generous measure for camp visitors to the number of more than four hundred, all of whom were delighted to be present and partake of the "Y's" bountiful offerings. The weather conditions were ideal.

The entertainment program was staged upon a stage erected under a power line. Twenty-five boys appeared in the minstrel program, lively music, good jokes, song dancing and solo singing featured the clever performance.

Norman Lang was intercom, and among the "lead men" were Charlie Ellis, Kenneth Keith, Bob Friend, Paul Hart, Archie Pickens and William Clark. Henry Sargent was piano accompanist. Posters of the program were saxophone solos by Ellis and Friend. Popular songs of the day were featured in solos by Pickens, Dexter, Keith and Clark.

A collection was taken up for the benefit of the West Chelmsford Improvement association during the performance.

Tomorrow evening the annual banquet will be held and several Y. M. C. A. executives will attend. Camp will be broken on Thursday morning and most of the boys now at Nabnasset will return to their homes. Thirty of the "honorary men" have a tent coming to them. They will be given an automobile ride which will take them to Montreal, thence to Niagara Falls and back to Lowell. The trip will last about eight days and will be under the supervision of the director of the camp, T. R. Williams.

WARNSG. O. P. OF NOTABLES CALL KLAN MENACE ON PRESIDENT

Pattangall Says Maine Victory for Republicans Means National Defeat

Democratic Candidate for Governor Denounces K. K. K. in Addresses

FARMINGTON, Me., Aug. 18.—In red hot speeches against the Ku Klux Klan which he delivered yesterday in this town, Chisholm, Phillips and Strong, William R. Pattangall, democratic candidate for governor of Maine, declared that a state republican victory in September would mean the national defeat of that party at the polls in November. He based this statement on his assertion that the fight here is for the supremacy of the Klan, pure and simple.

Whirlwind Tour

Mr. Pattangall held his first meeting of the day at Chisholm, where about 200 very enthusiastic men and women applauded his arraignment of the Klan. The next speech in the whirlwind tour of the county was made at Strong, which, the citizens claim, was the birthplace of the republican party. Mr. Pattangall says that this is an inaccurate statement, however, claiming that the natal place of the G.O.P. was in the west.

Mr. Pattangall pointed out to his audience that the Fellowship Forum, the national organ of the Klan, carried as its leading article in the issue of August 16 a statement that Senator Brewster is the candidate of the Klan of Maine for governor.

Urges G.O.P. Repudiate Klan

Mr. Pattangall said in part: "If the people of Maine regard the election of President Coolidge of vital importance and seriously believe that our September election influences the result of the presidential election in November, they should join us in defeating the Klan candidate for governor."

"If Senator Brewster is elected because of the insistence on the part of republican managers that 'a vote for Brewster is a vote for Coolidge,' the result will justify President Coolidge's opponents in the use of the slogan, 'a vote for Coolidge is a vote for the Klan' and he will pay dearly in other states for a victory achieved in Maine under those circumstances."

Hints at Unholy Alliance

"The short-sighted opportunists who are at present in charge of the republican party in Maine cannot see beyond the 8th of September. If they could do so, they would hesitate to unite the forces of the Coolidge administration with the Klan forces."

"Such a program may appear judicious in a few of Maine's most backward communities, but it will prove a boomerang in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and other liberal and doubtful states, and if our campaign is to be conducted on the lines indicated at present, every democrat in Maine who can speak or write will consider his duty to make clear to the voters of these states the unholy alliance between the national republican party and the Ku Klux Klan that exists in Maine."

G.O.P. Men Must Take Stand

"Every candidate for public office who has respect for public opinion, or any respect for himself, in Maine or out of it, must eventually declare himself on the greatest issue which has appeared in American politics in our generation. My stand on this question is reasonably well known. Mr. Redman, our candidate for United States senator, Mr. McIntyre, Mr. Sargent, Mr. Tobey and Mr. Ingraham, our candidates for congress, have all taken a similar stand."

"It is up to Senator Fernald, and Congressman Beedy, White, Nelson and Hersey to declare themselves. Senator Brewster does not need to declare himself even if he had the frankness and courage to do so. He is as much a candidate of the Klan as though he had been nominated in a klavern."

Democrats' Position Clear

The democratic party of Maine made its position clear in the platform adopted at Lewiston when it stated that: "We stand for government of, by, and for the people, participated in by every citizen and administered for the benefit of all, and denounce as vicious and dangerous each and all attempts to substitute therefore government by oath-bound fraternalists."

"John W. Davis, in his position on the question clear in his speech of acceptance, I have no doubt as to the stand which General Dawes will take on this position although he may not declare himself at Island Park next Saturday because he may not understand the political situation in Maine."

"Before the campaign closes, President Coolidge will be obliged to definitely state his position and it is only fair to assume, until he does so, that he will be in opposition to the vicious attempt to substitute invisible government for constitutional government."

"At present the republican managers of Maine are doing President Coolidge and General Dawes a gross injury by linking up their campaign with the cause of the Klan."

"If they are successful in their efforts they may win the Maine election but they will sacrifice the national election. Maine democrats and Maine republicans should unite in defeating the Klan in September. They can then divide on legitimate issues and fight the national campaign freed from this compromising position."

WILL KEEP OPEN FOR REGISTRATION

The office of the board of election commissioners will be open tonight for registration of voters for the state primaries, closing at 8 o'clock. The first evening session, held last night, resulted in 67 being added to the precinct lists and it is anticipated that an even greater number will be added tonight and Thursday night, night sessions for those two nights also having been advertised.

Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Harvey Firestone Visit Summer "White House"

Inventor and Manufacturers and Their Families Motor to Coolidge Home

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 18.—President Coolidge was host to a few low vacationers—Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Harvey Firestone. Word was received early last night that the party planned a visit here today and the president arranged for their reception at his father's home.

The famous inventor and manufacturer have been traveling together with their families on outings for several summers. This year they are making vacation headquarters at The Wayside Inn, Sudbury, Mass., about 20 miles from here. President Harding was their guest on a vacation jaunt just after he entered office.

Mr. Ford, Mr. Edison and Mr. Firestone and his son, Russell, arrived in Ludlow, 12 miles from here, last night and motored to the Coolidge home this morning.

The visit is one of the few President Coolidge has indulged in except with members of his family, since coming here last Saturday for a twelve day vacation. Meanwhile he has been resting—reading and walking about the farm—and attending to such government business as is necessary.

Mr. Coolidge has also found relief from the severe hot weather which prevailed in Washington prior to his departure, the coolness yesterday making necessary a fire in the stove in the living room of the house.

A row of benches has been set up in front of the general store for use of the visitors. On his trips to the store, John Coolidge, father of the president, always is the centre of a gathering, as he obligingly answers the many questions.

Mrs. Coolidge set up a small wooden wind vane on a fence post just across the road from the family home yesterday afternoon. The piece was made by Calvin, Jr., her son who died last month, when he worked on his grandfather's farm here several summers ago. When Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were here last summer the boy wrote and asked his mother to have the vane taken down before winter. Later yesterday the president went over with Mrs. Coolidge and inspected the vane, the apertures of which again were twirling in the face of the sharp wind.

MRS. COOLIDGE'S REPLY

Letter Sent Mrs. Ingersoll in Response to Message of Sympathy Made Public

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A letter which Mrs. Calvin Coolidge wrote to Mrs. Calvin Ingersoll of Brooklyn in response to a message of sympathy at the time of the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., was made public today by Mrs. Ingersoll.

In giving the letter to the Associated Press Mrs. Ingersoll said she believed such was fulfilling Mrs. Coolidge's desire for a personal message of appreciation to the thousands of persons who sent their condolences to the White House by the number of letters.

Mrs. Ingersoll expressed regret that she could not answer every letter, adding: "The little cards sent so cold in response to such warm expressions of sympathy." Her letter to Mrs. Ingersoll, written from the White House on Aug. 11, follows:

"Thank you for your very kind letter. It is one of the most comparatively few letters that I have read and, somehow, I wanted to thank you myself. It is a great regret to me that I cannot answer every letter, the little cards seem so cold in response to such warm expressions of sympathy. But that is impossibility—I cannot even read them all—so I satisfy—or try to—satisfy myself with writing a very sincere appreciation to a few, hoping in some measure to make up for the many that I cannot make up for in this way."

"Do hymns ever sing themselves over and over to you? This is the one which has come to me most often since Calvin went home. Rather it is a part of the last verse of a hymn:—

PREMIER MacDONALD AS PEACEMAKER

Premier MacDonald of England seems to have been the chief peacemaker in the deliberations of the Paris conference convened for the purpose of solving the reparation issue between France and Germany. So deep and bitter were the mutual prejudices of the representatives of these two countries, that it was certainly a prodigious task to bring them to an accord on such vital questions as the scale of reparations to be paid by Germany and the time allowed for payment, the evacuation of the Ruhr and the solution of very many other concomitant issues arising therefrom or associated therewith.

Perhaps the most notable incident of the conference was the triumph over international enmities to the extent that Premier MacDonald was able to induce Premier Herriot of France and Chancellor Marx of Germany to clasp hands in mutual felicitation over the progress made toward an international accord upon the issues coming down from the war.

This act of Premier MacDonald shows that he is a real peacemaker, and real peace without any dread of war is what the world needs today and what the nations are longing to see established on a firm basis.

But the settlement of the complicated issues has been only tentatively arranged. The plan has to be ratified by the French parliament and by the German Reichstag. The Dawes plan places Germany under an obligation to pay tribute to France and Belgium for fifty years. The initial transaction which provides for a loan of $200,000,000 to Germany is rather pleasing and undoubtedly helped very much to win her acceptance. Germany under the provisions of an international mortgage to the allies relinquishes control of her railroads, her financial institutions and her principal industries. The proposed loan will be issued to rehabilitate the finances of Germany and to start up her industries from which the allies expect to get most of their reparation payments. It is difficult to say just how this settlement will work out through the period of its existence. It is easily conceivable that changes may come to sweep away the present government of Germany and so also with the allied powers; but under the present arrangement, it seems that the allies will hold to the terms of settlement regardless of upheavals, unless the agreement be modified or made more lenient as time passes.

DARROW CRITICIZES PUBLIC

Lawyer Darrow, counsel for Leopold and Loeb, criticizes the public for expressing a desire for the conviction of his clients; and he uses rather profane language in designating the popular attitude in this respect. He must remember, however, that unless the public takes keen interest in the outcome of such matters, its agencies of justice will soon become corrupted and will have no background of respect and, therefore, no potency as a deterrent from the commission of crime.

It is to be remembered that crime is an attack upon society, and it is the part of wisdom and of safety to give heed to all such assaults. When accused murderers plead guilty to the crime of murder, while admitting their sanity and confessing knowledge of the difference between right and wrong, as did Leopold and Loeb, the public naturally believes there is not much to be done aside from applying the penalty of the law.

That has been the usual procedure in the past; but now Mr. Darrow, after bringing in experts and endocrinologists, thinks that their view of the case should be accepted by the courts and the public with the result that the defendants would escape the punishment they justly deserve.

The public does not accept that view of the case and neither, we hope, do the courts now conducting the trial.

Mr. Darrow thinks the public is unfair because it refuses to believe the plea of the experts in behalf of the defendants as anything more than an ingenious plan of defeating justice. If the defendants have no more than baby emotions, the fact did not appear in their manner of planning the murder and trying to evade detection. They knew thoroughly what they were doing; and if it were not for the fact that able lawyers are paid large sums for trying to save them from the gallows, we should hear none of this pitiful moral responsibility of the alleged moral responsibility of the two intellectuals, both products of one of the leading universities of the country.

The public wants to see the law enforced without fear or favor and with adequate punishment of the guilty, which alone will vindicate the administration of justice and uphold respect for the law throughout this country, even among those who are most disposed to set it at defiance.

MRS. FERGUSON WINNING
Ma Ferguson, candidate for governor on the democratic ticket, to succeed her husband, who was removed by sinister influences, has won the first bout in the primaries against anti-triumph opposition. The final round will take place this week. It looks as if Mrs. Ferguson will sweep all opposition aside and be the next governor of Texas. Thus the fight is not one conducted on principle or the fitness of the candidates, but upon sectional issues, mostly those stirred up by the hooded order. This foolishness will go on for some time or until people begin to exercise common sense and see that no such spirit of intolerance can be encouraged in this country unless at the expense of wrecking the constitution, and tearing down the grand principle of religious freedom to place in position and power intolerance, bigotry and malice incarnate. The slogan, "No for Ma Ferguson," is sweeping the state to such an extent that it is confidently expected that Mrs. Ferguson will win the nomination which, in Texas, is equivalent to an election. Afraid to call Mrs. Ferguson bad names, her opponents are hurling all kinds of opprobrious epithets at her husband, claiming that he will be the real governor if she is elected.

THE PLANET MARS
Next Saturday, the astronomers tell us that the planet Mars is to be closer to the earth than it has been for centuries. But we expect that the astronomers will get no new light on the subject most widely agitated relative to Mars, to wit, as to whether the planet is inhabited by sentient beings. It may be and they may be so different in their intelligence and mode of existence that they would understand but little of our physical and intellectual qualities.

The lines on Mars that resemble canals lend color to the belief that they are artificially constructed waterways; but on the contrary they may be fissures in the surface of the planet. Our telescopes are not likely to reveal anything entirely new relative to the planet as the difference in a few million miles in the distance from the earth is but a small matter when we are dealing with the immense distances of the planets from the earth. The mean distance of Mars from the sun is 141,000,000 miles, or 43,000,000 miles farther away than our planet.

INSTITUTE OF PROPAGANDA

The Institute of Politics at Williams-town is little better than the open forum conducted every Sunday afternoon on Boston common, where preachers, pacifists, red radicals and soviet propagandists hold interminable discussions.

It is the medium through which some of the most notorious cranks, radicals and propagandists get their ideas passed out to the public under the assumption that it is news.

Radical and un-American utterances are not less so, because of being uttered by some erratic college professor or even by some federal judge who takes advantage of this forum to air his narrowness and thereby demonstrate his unfitness for the official position he holds.

SEN. WHEELER'S REGRETS

Senator Wheeler is sorry Mr. Davis did not speak sooner of the abuses of the Harding-Coolidge administration. It was not the duty of Mr. Davis to usurp the functions which properly belonged to public officials elected by the people. He, therefore, did not deem it expedient to come out as a public censor, to assail the republican administration while Senators Walsh, Wheeler and a great many others were paid for doing that business through membership in congress. On the other hand Mr. Davis may express surprise that Senator Wheeler did not take up the maintenance of republican officials much sooner than he did. If he had, matters might not have reached the disgraceful crisis revealed in the various investigations.

BACK UP GOODWIN

If the courts would back up Registrar Goodwin in his effort to put reckless drivers off the highways, he might soon reduce the number of auto accidents by one-half. Jail sentences for drunken and other reckless drivers appear to be the most effective remedy; but unless promptly applied on the first or second conviction, it is evident that the offenders will be encouraged to keep right on. Registrar Goodwin cites cases in which some offenders were convicted several times for driving under the influence of drink and did not stop until a jail sentence was imposed. Judge Burdick of the local court has the right idea of dealing with such cases.

According to the communist leader, W. G. Foster, capitalism is the great curse of this country. There are a great many people, however, who feel that the trouble with this country at present is that we need more capital invested in productive industry.

That was a great big and happy crowd that attended the movie and band concert on the South common last night. Such shows are well worth all they cost.

We have already had a taste of fall weather, a warning to our city departments to push the outdoor work.

Terribly Misinformed

"Are you sure that I shall recover?" an anxious patient once asked a physician. "I have heard that doctors sometimes give wrong diagnoses, and have treated patients for pneumonia who afterwards died of typhoid fever." "You've been terribly misinformed," replied the doctor indignantly. "I treat a man for pneumonia, he dies of pneumonia."

Intensive Selling

A watchmaker and a jeweler got a sign painter to fix up a new and decorative sign for him. The sign painter evolved an elaborate "W" with so much scroll work that it looked more like an "A." Plenty of people read it that way. One of them remarked to the proprietor: "Watchmaker and Jeweler, eh? That's intensive selling."

A Dollar a Word

A magnate on trial had a very eloquent attorney. The summing up speech attracted a large gallery, and one of the listeners was so deeply impressed that he leaned over to a lawyer defendant and asked a lawyer that man is. "Pearly of wisdom drop from his mouth," "I don't know about that," responded the magnate grudgingly. "But I do know that what he is saying is costing me at least a dollar a word."

Foxy Walter

The city man was in the habit of lunching regularly at the same restaurant. One day he called the waiter to him and said: "John, instead of tipping you every day I'm going to give you a lump sum at the end of every month. It will be more convenient for me." "Thank you, sir," answered the waiter, touching his forehead. "But I wonder if you'd mind putting me in advance?" "Well, that's rather a strange request," returned the customer. "However, I'll do it. I suppose you are rather hard up for money just now, or is it that you don't trust me?" "No, no, sir," smiled John, slipping the money into his pocket. "Only I'm leaving here today."

Striking the Bore

Jenks was what is called a self-made man, and people were ready enough to admire the pluck that had given him his present wealth and power. At last, however, two or three people got rather tired of hearing him talking about himself, and in particular, Graham, a cheery soul, was very fed up. He resolved to pay Jenks back in his own coin. Meeting him in the street, he announced: "I came into this city, sir, as a small boy. I had no shoes on my feet, and I was without a penny in my pocket. 'But,' repeated Jenks, astonished at the news, for he had known Graham for many years, 'I always thought you were born here.' "So I was," answered Graham with a smile. "Doesn't that prove what I say?"

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Lowell Kennel club members will be interested to know that a venerable friend of the canine in all breeds—Dr. J.E. Do Mund, of New York—has now thrown his weight behind the work of the American Dislemper committee, which is heading a drive in this country to abolish a dread malady which annually kills more canines than all other diseases combined. Dr. Do Mund is president of the American Kennel club. He once was quoted as saying that the Lowell Kennel club was one of the most progressive and enthusiastic organizations in all the club territories of the eastern states. He referred, I presume, to the local club's flourishing membership of large proportions, the high-class "A.K.C." shows and sincerity of dog-lovers, and the fact of the club's being so much locally to breed quality canines and fight animal diseases that endanger the lives of favorite four-footed friends 365 days in the year.

Dr. J.E. Do Mund is not only well known in Lowell Kennel club circles, but is perhaps the most noted fancier and dog lover in the country. He is now in the city on a business trip. He is secretary of the American Dislemper committee, with offices in the Ames building in Boston, that American Kennel club will do all in its power to remove the drive and drive. Leading members of the Lowell club have received campaign literature on the subject and will do their part in disseminating facts and figures and good advice. A message from the "A.K.C." president, just received in Lowell, reads as follows:

"In a recent number of the American Kennel Gazette, Dr. Do Mund, in a special message to dog owners, urged that every member of the thousands who are enrolled in the organization, do his share in helping to advance the work of the drive. 'Do your part to help the drive and then, in an unashamed manner, go and look at your dog and tell him what you've done. This campaign is bringing a large number of members clubs over the 'A.K.C.' into line. They are devoting all or a certain proportion of the receipts from their monthly held shows, to the cause, while contributions are being received daily from individual dog-lovers all over the United States.'

Architect Charles R. Greco expects to complete on or about Sept. 1, all work on the extensive blue print he is now painstakingly preparing, showing requirements necessary for the foundation and construction of Lowell's new district court house. When the plans are fully drawn up and approved by the city and the county commissioners, his work will be verified in the usual form. County Commissioner Erwin B. Barlow said yesterday, that he expected definite official action during the coming month. The architect has performed his task wonderfully well with attention to the minutest details held for by best advisors. That he has not completed the plans to date, is not strange at all, for there have been some changes made in original blueprints. The architect is now planning to complete the whole as an ideal district court structure that the citizens of Lowell and Middlesex county may be proud of.

Of interest to many Lowell people is the recent announcement of the engagement of Miss Alice O'Connell, a niece of Cardinal O'Connell, to Edward A. McLaughlin, Jr., of Boston. Miss O'Connell was born in Lowell and lived in Burns street previous to her removal to Boston. In the Hub, she attended the convent of the Sacred Heart and later studied at Manhattanville convent in New York. She is a prominent member of the Cullinan guild, the Ace of Clubs and the League of Catholic Women. Mr. McLaughlin is a graduate of Boston college in the class of 1915 and was graduated from Harvard law school in 1919. He is a member of the Boston City club, the University club, Chestnut Hill Golf club and the Boston chamber of commerce. He is associated with the law firm of Loring, Coolidge, Noble and Boyd of Boston. His father is Edward A. McLaughlin, clerk of the house of representatives. No date has been set for the wedding.

Postmaster Naxler A. Delisle wishes, through the local postoffice, to blame whatsoever in connection with the failure of papers of three candidates for state office from this city to reach the secretary of state on August 5th, although mailed at 5:30 on the morning of the fifth. Mr. Delisle had the parcel believed to have contained the papers, traced from the time of its delivery at the Middle street postal station, where it was accepted by the government and registered, to the time it was placed on a train bound for Boston. The parcel, he said was registered at the Middle street station at 5:30 a. m. and was despatched to Boston on the train leaving Lowell at 12:15 p. m. (daylight saving time) due to arrive in Boston at 1:55 p. m. (daylight saving time). This train was the first mail train to leave for Boston after the parcel was received at the postal station.

MAN FOUND DEAD

The body of Maurice Hennessy, believed to be a former resident of this city, was found by the Laconia, N. H. police yesterday a short distance from the railroad tracks at Lake Winnisquam, Laconia.

According to the Laconia police there was indication that the man had been drinking saturated alcohol and there was a bruise on the head believed to have been caused by a fall. An autopsy was conducted by Medical Referee Dr. A. Normandin at the Laconia hospital yesterday afternoon and no evidences of foul play were found.

END CLUB MEETING

Plans for the erection of a new Centralville bridge and the reconstruction of the First street oval for baseball and other athletic purposes were considered at a meeting of the Centralville East club last night. Both projects evoked considerable enthusiasm and the club voted to do all in its power to bring about these improvements.

Vice President John McGowan was in charge of the meeting and reported the membership as having been 290 mark. The outgoing committee reported progress on its plans for an outing at the Lewis farm in Draught on Sept. 7 and considerably routine business was transacted.

Mom planted a garden, a dear little garden when warm weather first made its call. She worked day and night just to plant the seeds right and it wasn't neglected at all. Dad thought it quite funny when the spare money that mother oft kept in a cup. For seeds she was spending. Her prayer, never ending, that something, at least, would come up. She'd sprinkle and hoe just to help the things grow and she kept it a secret from dad. He'd get a surprise and he'd open his eyes when he saw all the things that she had. At last came a peeping, through lumpy soil creeping, a long slender stem growth of green. And then came another. "Ah, ha," shouted mother, "that must be a radish—or bean." Then summer rolled long and the garden went wrong, as a fine total loss were the seeds. The garden was green but 'twas plain to be seen that the best thing that grew there was weeds.

KILLED IN FALL FROM ICE WAGON

Injuries believed to have been caused by a fall from one of the Daniel Gage ice company wagons resulted in the death at the Lowell Corporation hospital yesterday afternoon of Virginia Gassey, five years old, of rear 533 Broadway.

Charles Cote, driver of the ice wagon, stated that while driving on Broadway near Mt. Vernon street yesterday afternoon he heard a child screaming. Looking back he saw the Gassey girl in the street, evidently injured. She was taken to the Corporation hospital where she died several hours later.

"DRUG TRAFFIC"
AT THE RIALTO

Congress is seriously considering the advisability of eliminating the sale of drugs and one of the many bills before the legislative bodies has for its purpose the construction of a number of federal hospitals where narcotic addicts can be cured. The traffic has grown so bold and daring that addicts are seemingly not safe even within prison walls, for reports from surgeons and drug specialists indicate that the traffic in many cases includes the jail keepers, who prey on the weaklings, who are presumably imprisoned where cravings can be deadened slowly, but surely.

Dr. Nelson, a famous surgeon, who has saved hundreds from the clutches of the octopus, was one of those unfortunate who fell victim to the deadly drug. He had fought for years for others, but when the test came he found he, too, was a weakling. But time found a remedy, science lined up with love and again the young surgeon was made to see the pure light of day.

Every surgeon, every police officer, every reformer in fact every one in Lowell should make it a point to see this powerful picture. Gladys Brockwell, Barbara Tennant and Bob Walker are the stars.

"The Way of a Man," a story by Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon" will be shown in serial form. The first chapter will be shown on this same program. It tells of the perils and dangers that the pioneers encountered in their march across the country in covered wagons. See the first episode.

Neal Hart in "Lawless Men" is the star feature and is a strong western drama. A News reel and comedy are also on the program.

AMUSEMENT NOTES*MERRIMACK SQUARE

An excellent cast, featuring the very popular May McAvoy, Malcolm McGregor, Ricardo Cortez, Robert Edeson of old, George Fawcett and Ethel Wales, presents in clever fashion a thrilling mystery story in "The Bedroom Window," being shown in attractive pictures at the Merrimack Square theatre the first three days this week. As usual, William de Mille, who sponsors the production, gives us Romance and beauty—artistic settings—beautiful feminines and clever male actors—de Mille excels always in screen productions that rarely ever fail to appeal to all motion picture playgoers.

"The Bedroom Window" starts off with a first-class murder, with a prominent character, usual, right on hand and, of course, picked out as the murderer, to start with. A sister-in-law has faith in the husband, although he was found with a revolver in one hand, peering at the murdered victim, who was a financier. A thumb-print is found; the theory advanced by the sister-in-law that the deadly shot was fired from a window, proves to be a trap. The perpetrator of the crime is finally discovered. A romantic story develops during the picture.

"The Girl of the Limberlost," another stellar motion picture feature at the Merrimack Square, tells the story of a girl who wants to go to college and is prevented by her mother, because of the cost in money that she is not willing to spend. She is the possessor of vast lands of great value but had refused to dispose of them because her husband, who was drowned in a swamp on the night his daughter was born, had much pride in his property holdings and the wife desired to keep them intact. Later on, the widow discovered that the husband she faithfully loved, had been untrue to her. The mother then resolved to do all possible for her daughter, disposing of the lands that had been kept intact. Romance came into the daughter's life in the person of a young man who had always been kind to her. Another girl from a family of wealth, sought to marry the man. The widow's daughter goes away convinced that she has lost her lover, and the latter is taken ill. The return of "The Girl of the Limberlost" and the happy ending is graphically shown in the pictures.

Excellent comedy and latest views of the world at large shown by the International News weekly, round out a program that is of top-notch interest, high-class throughout.

KIDDIES' DAY AT
MERRIMACK PARK

Only a few days left when the kiddies of Lowell will be given one of the greatest outings of the season at Merrimack park. Every summer the children look forward to Thursday afternoons, where the management of the park gives them free rides, dancing lessons, games and sports. This time the park is going a little bit further by giving plenty of special cars and giving the children a five cent fare to Merrimack park and a five cent fare on returning home, making it a 10c fare round trip, a 15c reduction. The kiddies must ride on special cars leaving Paige street at 1:15 Friday afternoon and returning at 6:45 p.m. Adults must have special round trip ticket also which can be had for 20c.

Every kiddie buying a round trip ticket will receive three free rides, one on merry-go-round, caterpillar and old mill or whip and fun house.

At 3:30 o'clock there will be dancing instructions at the dance pavilion under the personal direction of Arthur L. Labonte, the ever popular dancing teacher, with the children.

At 4:30 o'clock there will be races for girls and boys with plenty of prizes. The topic of conversation among the kiddies of greater Lowell these days is about the fine time they will have at Merrimack park, Friday.

Accommodations are being made to receive 2500 children that day. If so, Mr. Labonte will be ready for them. Last Thursday was Lawrence's kiddies' day and 4200 children were carried to the park on 25 cars at 10c round trip tickets and not one child was injured the whole day. Mr. Arthur Labonte's greatest hobby is looking after the children and he has a very capable force of park help to assist him.

CAR IN WOODS

A Ford touring car, owned by Hugh McCarthy of this city, was found just over the Tyngsboro line in Hudson, N. H., yesterday by two boys, Wilfred Raymond and Rudolph Vignault, who were out blueberrying. The machine was stolen from Lakeview Saturday night and had been stripped of several of its important parts. Chief Joseph Pelletier of the Tyngsboro police was notified and turned the car over to its owner after it had been identified.

From the Lakeview district, according to Chief Pelletier, several minor thefts have been reported of late. As a whole, however, the season has been quiet at the lake.

LOWELL AUDIENCE

Frederick W. Dallinger of Cambridge, candidate for the republican nomination for the U. S. senate, addressed between three and four hundred persons last night in a stump speech from the steps of city hall, citing his record of ten years in congress and pledging himself to fight for a high protective tariff. He said that neither of his two opponents for the nomination are entitled to consideration by the electorate of Lowell because of their attitudes in the past on child labor and workmen's legislation.

gram that is of top-notch interest, high-class throughout.

LOWELL'S RIALTO

There have been ring fights and ring fights screened for the pictures until directors believed it impossible to obtain a fair and sane picture of this kind. Every one of them had to have some hero fighting for fortune and the girl and, of course, he always won. Who ever heard of a hero losing a ring battle? But in "Fast Company," director James Horne, who made this action picture with Richard Talmadge, daring thrill star, playing the speedy college boy, got an entirely new slant on the picture battle he put into the picture. Not only does the hero lose, but in doing so, the director has staged one of the funniest ring fights ever seen on the screen.

It is the wildest kind of a battle with "The Bull" missing his opponent time and time again by a city block until he is nearly out by his own wasteful efforts. When "Talmadge has the fight all but won, he turns at a voice in the audience and wowie! "The Bull" puts over his fatal punch, collapsing himself, almost immediately. "Fast Company" is a thrilling picture with young Talmadge in some of his greatest stunts, and has more laughs than two average feature pictures. He is supported by a splendid cast of well known screen artists among whom are Alvin Karpis, Sheldon Lewis, Charles Clarey and Fritz Edwards.

"The Man Who Waited," is the added feature and is a story of the west in which a young man, while looking for the man who ruined and killed his father, falls in love, locates a mine and is himself the victim of his father's enemies.

Fight fans have their fill of fighting on this program, for there is a new chapter of H. C. Wittwer's latest ring stories, "Fighting Blood," in which is featured George O'Hara and Al Cooke, the latter playing the part of Nalo Shapiro, the leather pusher's manager. Then there is a two-reel comedy on the program, which is indeed splendid in length and quality. A brand new issue of Fox News rounds out a perfect picture program.

BOOTLEGGERS' BATTLE

OVER $800—3 HURT

BOSTON, August 19—Three men were injured, one of them on the danger list in the Boston City hospital, as the result of a bootleggers' battle for a stake of $800 waged at the corner of Decatur and Washington streets shortly after dark last night, between a gang from the South End and another said to have come from Worcester to demand the return of an advance payment on a consignment of alcohol that had not been delivered.

Two Locked Up

The injured are:

Louis Levine, 27 years old, 49 Cutler street, Worcester, stabbed in the chest, and multiple cuts about the head.

Louis Hart, 28 years old, 955 Blue Hill avenue, laceration of head and face.

John Gouner, 28 years old, 9 Ganese street, South End lacerations and contusions of head and body.

Hart and Gouner were treated at the hospital as out patients and were later taken to the East Dedham police station where they were locked up as suspicious persons, and will be arraigned this morning.

Robbed by Hit-Jackers

According to the story Levine is said to have told the police, he was one of a party of more than a dozen men who came to Boston from Worcester in two automobiles looking for a crowd of South End bootleggers from whom the Worcester gang had agreed to buy 500 gallons of alcohol. According to Levine $800 had been given as an advance payment for the liquor, but the stuff was not delivered, the South End bootleggers, Levine said, declaring that hit-jackers had robbed them of the booze when they were on the way to Worcester with it.

"And so we came to Boston to get our money back," said Levine.

Fight on Sight

In two motor cars they came. They debarked at the corner of Washington and Decatur streets last night, just after the sun went down. Almost immediately they were met by a crowd of equal number of South End habitués. Hostilities began forthwith. There was no shooting, but fists and knuckles were the weapons mainly used, though knives played a part.

A riot call was sent in to the Dedham street station, and a squad of patrolmen under Sergeant Gale responded. When they arrived at the scene of the battle the gangs scattered, leaving Levine, Hart and Gouner lying on the field of carnage. The wounded were taken to the Boston City hospital in the police ambulance.

No other arrests have been made.

ELKS PLAN FOR CHILDREN'S PICNIC

Members of the kiddies' outing committee of Lowell lodge, No. 87, B.P.O. Elks met at the Warren street clubhouse last night for the purpose of concluding arrangements for an outing to be held in Milligan's grove on Aug. 25 and open to all the youngsters of the city. Past Exalted Ruler Fred Gilmore is chairman of the committee and presided at last night's meeting.

Special trolley cars, donated by the trolley company, will take the youngsters to and from the grove. A large card of sports events for both boys and girls was figured out last night and some valuable prizes have been offered, donated by various members of the lodge.

While there is no way of figuring how many children will attend the outing the committee last night decided to plan on taking care of 4000 with facilities ready to handle double that number on short notice if it appears the original guess as to attendance is in error.

Every one of the youngsters will be fed at noon by the lodge and returned home safe and sound before dusk. They will be given a lunch of minced ham sandwiches, soda pop, Andy Gump crackers, and Hoodsies. In addition, pickles and other viands will be provided.

Another meeting of the committee will be held prior to the outing which is next Monday. Exalted Ruler James B. Donnelly dropped in for a part of the session of the committee last night.

CHANGE IN GORHAM
STREET PROGRAM

After viewing the work on Gorham street following discussion at city hall yesterday afternoon, the board of public works decided to change the original plan of relaying the street from Cosgrove street to the city line, but to stop at a point opposite number 1417, about half way. The remainder of the work will be abandoned in this year's program, the city thus losing its one chance to have one main artery from the city in first class renewed condition.

City Engineer Kearney was sustained by the board in his objection to changing from cement concrete to asphalt as suggested by the superintendent of streets on grounds of economy. Only the left side of the street is at present excavated and cement concrete will be placed there, the workmen then going over to the right side of the street at Cosgrove street and completing that side.

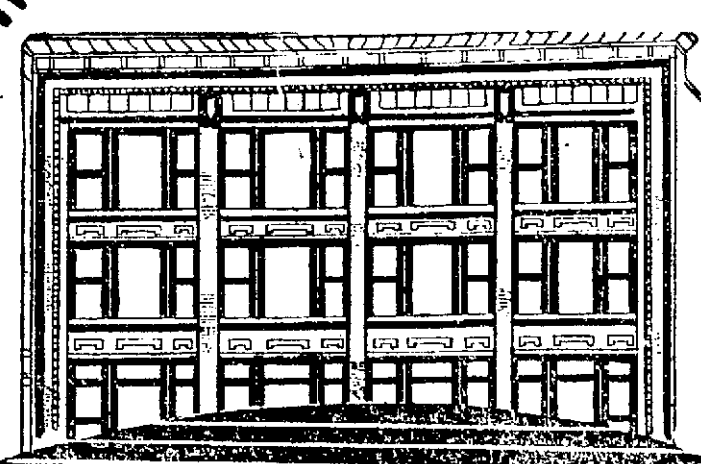

From the point where the program will be abandoned to the city line is only a fifth of a mile, but the board has decreed that it will not be done this year as outlined in the original program. At the city line the road would join a fine broad cement concrete roadway.

WILL HOLD OUTING
IN TYNGSBORO

Final arrangements for the outing of Lowell lodge No. 87, B.P.O. Elks were completed at the session of the outing committee held last night and presided over by William H. Mahan, P.E.R. The outing is to be held Aug. 25 at Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro and will be for Elks only. It was stated last night that invitations have been sent to distinguished Elks from all parts of New England and that many of them have already announced their intention of attending.

There will be the usual boxing matches, field events, baseball game and other sports. The culinary offering is guaranteed to surpass anything offered in recent years. Members will gather at the new Warren street clubhouse on the morning of the outing and cars will leave Warren street at 11:30 o'clock sharp. It is expected that several hundred autos will be in line in the parade from the clubhouse to the grounds.

BELLEVUES DEFEAT EAST ENDS AND STRENGTHEN LEAGUE LEAD

Exciting Game in City Twilight League on South Common Goes to 4-3 Conclusion—Four Pitchers Used in Clash—Gardner Shines in Field

The Bellevues practically won the pennant in the City Twilight League by defeating the Centralville East Ends, 4 to 3, on the South common last night. The league leaders have two more games to play, while their nearest competitor, the Pawtucket A. A. has three. Should the Bellevues win the next two and the Pawtuckets lose the next three, a tie for first place between these teams would exist. While there is every likelihood of the Bellevues coping their remaining games, it is also possible for the Pawtuckets to win their three, so we can't see it all yet, as the round-the-world fight remains a merry tussle for third place in the league standing. Despite their loss of last night's game, the East Ends are still in the running and intend to remain there. Records of Belmo and the American have a way to go to get it, too.

Last night's contest was one of the best of the year. The East Ends played their best, gave Phil Payton superb support and held the lead until the sixth. In this game, Phil Payton and the league leaders pushed three winning runs over the top. Both teams used three pitchers. For the Bellevues, Jack Livingston started on the mound and went along at a snail's pace until the fourth, when Centralville bats began to rise up on his varied offerings. Hank Gurley took up the burden and in his first turn in the box, he struck out Dove, Farley and Nichols, the only three men to face him. Gurley used a baffling hook to advantage.

Payton went great guns for the East Ends for five frames. A neat change of pace, with a catchy underhand delivery, kept the Bellevue batters on edge throughout. Tom Fleming was forced to eat a discount on the score book when it showed his team to be on the short end of a 3 to 1 count in the fifth. Payton didn't let, however, and John G. Gardner, who had been in the first base to finish the game, was called in to pitch.

One of the particular bright spots of the fray was the left garden play of the versatile Jimmy Gardner, who accepted four chances, two of them extremely difficult, up on the hill area. Gardner's work was a treat to look upon and he was forced to doff his cap in recognition of the "hand" given him by the large gathering of fans. At the bat, too, Jim continued for a light, the opening stanza, but was marooned on the third when the next batter struck out.

The first Bellevue run came in the last half of the first. Jenkins singled and went down to second when Payton threw in attempting to nab him. Off first went the first baseman. A wild pitch advanced him to third. While Williams was being thrown out at first, Jenkins scooted for home and made it on a bad throw to Nichols.

KID SULLIVAN BEATS "PEPPER" MARTIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Steve ("Kid") Sullivan of Brooklyn still is "lightweight champion" today as a result of the successful defense of his title in a 15-round bout with Vincent ("Pepper") Martin of Brooklyn at the Queensboro, A. C. in Long Island city. Sullivan won on points.

IROQUOIS DEFEAT ST. JOSEPH'S CADETS

St. Joseph's Cadets, leaders of the Junior League, were defeated last night by the Iroquois, 9 to 8. But four hits were run up during the game, two to each team. The Iroquois played errorless ball while the Cadets allowed two costly errors which stung them into the first half of the fourth frame the valiant redmen managed to fill second and third sacks. The next man with the stick knocked a sizzler to Davey who let it go by, thus scoring the first run for the Iroquois. In the fifth Montblanc hit a scorching home run, but in his hurry fumbled and allowed the man to reach first. Ducharme sacrificed and Plouffe reached second on a wild pitch from Richards. The dread king of baseball seemed to be after the Cadets. Not a man reached third. Ducharme twirled to only 11 men.

The Cadets played four men on bases, collected two hits and two bases on balls, but were unable to pass second. The winning stars were Cooper and Cormier for the Iroquois. The summary:

The Little Nats, All Sons of Stars

This team might well be called the Little Nationals, or the Washington Juniors. It is made up exclusively of sons of stars on the Washington American league team. From left to right they are: Bob Johnson, Bill Hargrave, Walter Peckinpah, Eddie Johnson, Ralph Peckinpah, George Mogridge, Walter Johnson, Jr., Roger Peckinpah, Jr. and Joe Martina, Jr. The manager, who appears in this picture dressed funny enough to get a laugh out of the kids, is Al Schacht, Nick Alcock's partner in comedy.

NEW YORK INCREASES LEAD OVER DETROIT TO TWO AND A HALF GAMES

Giants Beaten by Reds in 17-Inning Battle—Grimes of Dodgers Checks Nine-Game Winning Streak of Pirates—Red Sox in Garrison Finish Beat Browns

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—In the important games which are now shaping the end of the major league baseball season, pitchers are playing the roles usually seized by sluggers. While Babe Ruth, whose mighty bat carried the world's champions through earlier seasons, rests for the moment, the once celebrated staff of Yankees is taking full advantage of an opportunity to pull away from Detroit and Washington as the two consistent challengers claw each other. The Yankees, as veteran Joe Bush held Chicago to four hits, bunched four of their five safeties on Robertson and Connolly for a 2 to 0 victory that gave them a two and one-half game lead over Detroit which lost to Washington and dropped to within half a game of the Senators. "Dutch" Leonard, pitching his first game in organized baseball since 1922, was knocked from the box. Tom Sheehan and Burleigh Grimes carried major honors in losses suffered by the Giants and Pirates, contenders for the lead in the National. New York in the longest game played in the majors this year, lost to the Reds in 17 innings, 8 to 7.

ARCHERS MEET FOR ANNUAL TOURNAMENT

DEERFIELD, Mass., Aug. 19.—The 44th annual meeting and tournament of the National Archery association opened here today with an attendance of about 60 well known archers from most centers of the east. Chicago, Ill., Philadelphia, Pa., Rome, Croton and Ossining, N. Y., Boston and Greenfield were represented by archers who had arrived up to this morning. Homer S. Taylor of Greenfield, who in spite of his 74 years, has drawn a bow at every tournament to date, has neuritis in his arm this season, but expects to enter, using a lighter bow. The events shot today were: First York round for men, 100 yards; first national round for women, 50 yards; first Columbia round for women, 60 yards. Tomorrow's program will be: second York round for men, second national round for women, first American round for men, second Columbia round, regular and handicap, for women. An interesting event of the tournament will be a contest for the Robin Hood trophy, given the association by Douglas Fairbanks. In this event a strip of cloth the width of the willow wand which was Robin Hood's favorite mark, is fastened to the target and the archers endeavor to put their arrows through it. This event will be shot on Friday.

DOVER CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY OF SULLIVAN'S CHANNEL SWIM

Mayor and Others Pay Glowing Tribute to Lowell Man for "Most Wonderful Endurance Feat of All Times"—Sullivan Not Spoiled By Success

The following clipping from the Dover, Eng., Standard, describes the celebration recently held there to mark the first anniversary of Henry Sullivan's channel swim: "In commemoration of the great feat performed by Henry F. Sullivan, the American, of Lowell, Mass., who swam from Dover to Calais last year on Aug. 5-6, in 26 hours, 50 minutes—and at his express wish, an anniversary dinner was held at Mr. Jack Weston's hotel, Kearsney, last evening (Wed.). The mayor (Mr. A. J. Barker) presided, and the party included those who actually participated in the successful swim, and others who had accompanied Henry Sullivan on some of his unsuccessful attempts at the namesake swim. ## Tilden and Williams Play on Opposing Teams in National Lawn Tennis Doubles Championship Tournament at Longwood BOSTON, August 19.—American Davis cup doubles team of a year ago—W. T. Tilden, 2nd, and H. Norris Williams, 2nd, both of Philadelphia, was divided against itself today. Yet in their play on opposing teams in the national lawn tennis doubles championship tournament on the courts of the Longwood Cricket club they were seen as Normals as a likely combination to make the doubles defense again. Tilden had with him young "Sandy" Weiner of Philadelphia, protégé, with whom he has just finished a campaign of varying success across the country. They won out in a second round match with Emmett Parr and George Lott, Jr., of Chicago, yesterday, only after five sets. Williams had as partner Watson Washburn, continuing a tennis association begun at Harvard in 1913 and continued since with only the interruption of Davis cup play yesterday. They had one grandstand court assigned them. On the other, the French Davis cup team of Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra were drawn against the young American stars. Henry Snodgrass and Walter Westbrook of Los Angeles. The latter have worked out a system of play that promised to trouble the French players. Robert G. Kinsey of San Francisco had the victory in the play of the national mixed doubles championship tournament.

PLANNING ANNUAL PLAYGROUND PAGEANT

A pageant, similar to those of previous years, will be held in the Memorial Auditorium one week from Thursday to mark the closing of the playground season and approximating 500 boys and girls will have been in regular attendance at the playgrounds are now being instructed in the parts they will take in this affair.

While plans for the pageant have not been completed, Supt. of Parks Kernan said today that there probably would be two performances given, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. Preparatory work for the pageant is in charge of playground supervisors.

A slight increase in attendance at the playgrounds has been recorded this season, the average attendance being about six thousand children daily. Playground work is being carried out on 16 playgrounds situated in the thickly settled sections of the city.

To win new friends

Facts About Taxes on Cigarettes

100 Lucky Strikes

TAX FREE

We invite every smoker in this city to take advantage of this startling offer.

We've told you about Lucky Strike superiority.

Your friends have told you. Now know for yourself the value of the toasting process!

We make this proposition to win new friends:

The regular price of a tin of 100 Lucky Strikes is 75¢

You pay the dealer only 45¢

We pay the Government Tax of 30¢

Act quickly, as the dealer's allotment at this price is limited.

Get one tin [only one to a person] for home or for office.

The regular price will be in effect when the dealer's supply on this offer is sold.

Smoke these 100 Lucky Strikes. Then you'll know how the 45-minute toasting process adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

Cleanliness and Care in Manufacture

Every Lucky Strike factory is a model of sanitation. Read how Alfred W. McCann, the noted food expert describes one of our factories: "White walls and ceilings, floors as clean as freshly chiseled marble, cutting machines and wrapping machines that take away from the human hand all detail and leave nothing to the human supervision but the watchfulness of trained eyes."

WE call particular attention to the statements made in the advertisement adjoining this editorial column.

This advertisement, the purpose of which is to win new friends for Lucky Strike cigarettes, incidentally emphasizes the matter of high taxes on cigarettes.

To those who are intimate with such matters there is, of course, no surprising statement made.

To the general public, though, we believe it will be surprising to learn that nearly half of what they pay for cigarettes goes to the government for taxes.

The internal revenue stamp on a package of twenty Lucky Strike cigarettes costs you six cents. On a tin of one hundred the revenue stamp costs you thirty cents.

So nearly fifty cents out of every dollar you spend for cigarettes is spent by you for taxes.

This is certainly the heaviest tax on an article of daily and universal consumption.

The Tobacco Industry and Taxes

The aggregate tax paid by the tobacco business is with one exception, income taxes, the largest item of internal revenue the federal government receives. Last (fiscal) year it amounted to $309,014,050.84.

Of this enormous amount of money the cigarette industry paid $182,715,735.93, or nearly two-thirds of the total tax paid by the entire tobacco business.

The immediately important point of the foregoing is the following: We believe you will appreciate that when nearly fifty cents of every dollar paid by you for cigarettes goes to the government, you must receive in cigarettes a value in return for your money that is rarely given in any commodity.

That the public generally appreciates this great value is shown by the enormous increase in the consumption of cigarettes.

Our reasons for this tax free offer

We know this offer induces men to try Lucky Strikes—it "Wins New Friends."

We know that a large percentage of those who get acquainted with Lucky Strikes adopt them.

This isn't philanthropy nor propaganda—just good business, as you'll agree.

The offer is limited. We cannot afford to keep it up.

We make it sensationally generous so as to attract attention.

We are not giving money away for the offer accomplishes its purposes: Lucky Strike "Wins New Friends." Our volume increases.

Super-quality

It is only by immense volume that we can produce such an aristocratic cigarette as Lucky Strike at such a democratic price.

Its quality is supreme because it has that costly, extra process, toasting, which improves the flavor and adds to the taste of even the finest tobaccos that are used in Lucky Strikes.

We urge you to participate in this offer—we want you to get acquainted with Lucky Strikes.

We know a trial will make you a permanent customer of ours.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 2

"Well, get out the ropes, boys," shouted the captain. "And two of you put on the gloves and let's see who's the best fighter." The sailors spread in a hurry and soon had a place squared off with ropes. Two husky sailors took off their shirts and slipped the big boxing gloves on.

Jack was selected as the referee. He stood in one corner, holding a watch in his hand. "Any time you're ready, we are!" smiled one of the boxers. Jack suddenly shouted "time," which meant for the sailors to start boxing. In an instant they were mixing together in great shape.

The boxing match was very exciting and Jack's pet dog, Flip, stood by his master's side and barked loudly as the men battled. Jack had seen prize fights before and he knew that each round is for three minutes. Suddenly he shouted "time" again and the boxers went to opposite corners. (Continued.)

HAVERHILL, Aug. 19.—Roy Rice, age 25, 68 Pecker street, died at the Gale hospital at 1 this morning from a fractured skull, shock and hemorrhage following injuries sustained two hours before in an auto accident on Broadway, near Coolidge avenue.

Walter Blanchard, Broadway, driver of the car, who received several cuts, was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and more serious charges may be brought later, the police say. Blanchard and Rice were found lying in the roadway by the police. A witness said that an auto headed toward Salem, N. H., side-swiped the Blanchard car, failing to stop.

TRANSCONTINENTAL TRIP

Local Interest in "Coast-to-Coast" Excursion by Chamber of Commerce

Numerous Attractions to Be Provided—Lowell Will Be Well Represented

New England as a territory is, perhaps, more intensively industrialized than any other section of our country, but as trade centers and trade population increase in other parts of the country, just as fast will competitive manufacturing, from a New England viewpoint, arise in those centers.

There is a very real rivalry, more apparent now than ever before, between industrial development in New England and the growth of many centers of population and trade elsewhere in the United States. The Lowell chamber of commerce believes that if representatives of local industries, finance and commerce can come into personal contact with conditions in the different parts of the country and listen to what men of understanding and reputation have to say of them, and if, at the same time, these representatives have the opportunity of telling the truth about Lowell and other cities in Massachusetts and New England to our western friends by conversation, type and advertising, all factors in such an undertaking will be greatly benefited.

That is one of the great reasons for the coming Pullman train tour of cross-country—from "coast-to-coast"—to be undertaken by 142 representative citizens and business men of New England, starting from Boston on Sept. 8 at 6:30 p. m. from the North station, visiting Canada and then moving to the farthest west and taking in Seattle, California cities, returning via Salt Lake City and St. Louis, Chicago and thence back to Boston via the Boston and Albany railroad, arriving at home on Oct. 5. The journey "de luxe" is being arranged under Massachusetts State Chamber of Commerce auspices, but every business organization affiliated with the state organization is heartily backing the impressive program.

Edward G. Flacy of Boston, attached to state chamber headquarters, is the active manager and booster for the coming "coast-to-coast" excursion. He has made several visits to Lowell and has expressed himself as pleased with the interest being taken in the trip locally. Secretary Manager Wells of the Lowell chamber, announced today that Mr. Flacy was expected to visit the city again later in the week. He will be at chamber headquarters between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. and is prepared to meet any citizen of Lowell who desires to secure information concerning the excursion.

Provided for the cross-country trip not shown on the official itinerary, but shown on the "De Luxe" train after the visit to Montreal on the westward journey, the "De Luxe" train will move to Minneapolis, where the Lowell chamber prosperity boosters and ladies will be guests of the chamber of commerce for luncheon. The Spokane chamber is also preparing to tender the travelers a similar reception.

In Vancouver, the board of trade, with one of the largest membership organizations in the list of similar associations of business men and women, will receive the New England delegation. A typical English city—Victoria—will also be visited. In Seattle the chamber of commerce members will be the hosts. Guides will be waiting to show the ladies Seattle's wonderful shops and stores, fine as anything in America. The Hudson Bay Fur company has arranged to

Went to Burlington, Vt. For Connection With Robbery of St. Mary's Church

Arrested For Failure to Pay Lawyer Who Acted For Him in White Slave Case

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 19.—Gordon Ryder, national investigator of the Ku Klux Klan came to Burlington yesterday to assist officials, he said, to capture William Meyer, Klan organizer, who disappeared following the robbery in St. Mary's cathedral here a week ago Saturday, but landed in jail only an hour after his appearance. Ryder was stationed here with the United States Signal Corps during the war when he eloped with a young girl and later was found guilty of violating the white slave act in the United States district court. He paid his fine but failed to pay his lawyers' fees for which he was arrested here yesterday.

He was admitted to bail and his hearing will be held some time during the week.

REICHSTAG TO DISCUSS LONDON NEGOTIATIONS

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—It is generally expected that the reichstag will meet Friday and that its decision on the results of the London reparations conference will be taken at the end of next week.

Yesterday's meeting of the cabinet under the chairmanship of President Ebert, unanimously approved the German delegation's attitude during the London negotiations, and the government is determined to dissolve the reichstag in the event of the latter failing to sanction the London pact.

Chancellor Marx expressed belief that M. Herriot would have made further concessions on the question of the Ruhr evacuation if political considerations had not prevented him.

According to the Berliner Tageblatt, the representatives of the government parties came to the conclusion that the German delegation achieved in London all that could have been achieved.

TRIMMINGS
Rhinestones, silver lace and silver ribbon are the most effective trimmings for youthful dancing frocks of pink or white satin.

LEATHER FURNITURE
Leather furniture and upholstery that is very dark may be polished with oil and turpentine.

Exhibit some of its prized merchandise gathered from fur-bearing animal territories within the Arctic circle.

In all the other western cities flourishing today as never before in their vigorous growth and strict adaptation to modern ways and devices, the New Englanders will be welcomed, entertained and shown "the sights." The Pullman "De Luxe" train moves on its eastward return journey via Los Angeles, San Diego and thence to Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs and Denver. In each city, special entertainments are to be provided by chamber of commerce bodies and other organizations affiliated with the trades.

Acting in co-operation with the Massachusetts state chamber of commerce, the Lowell chamber organization invites its members and friends to participate as passengers in what will be a most enjoyable and instructive journey.

EVACUATION COMPLETED WITHOUT INCIDENT

PARIS, Aug. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The evacuation, begun yesterday morning by French troops of the Baden towns of Offenbourg and Appenweier was completed last night without incident. The French war department announced today.

The two squadrons of the Eighth Hussars from Strasbourg and a company of the 107th infantry from Kehl, which formed the entire occupying force, numbering something less than 200 men, have rejoined their garrisons.

Lowell Legionnaires To Attend Convention

to be the most important gathering of its kind that the state legionnaires have ever held. Local veterans are very enthusiastic over the proposition and are planning to attend in large numbers.

A full complement of Lowell duly elected delegates and alternates, together with a large number of members of the local post's rank and file, will participate in the annual state convention proceedings, take prominent parts in the business sessions and assist in entertainment to be conducted on a lavish scale.

Although the convention does not formally start until Thursday morning, most of the legionnaires are going to Pittsfield tomorrow, for on Wednesday evening there are very important county organization meetings to be held separately, when candidates for state department of veterans and administrative committees are to be selected for the official balloting to come.

Lowell post official delegates are as follows: Commander Colin C. Macdonald, J. Henry Gilbride, John J. Walsh, Joseph M. Dinneen, Capt. Joseph A. Molloy, George A. McCarthy, Henry J. Sullivan, James P. McCreedy, Robert J. Rutledge.

Alternates: John P. O'Grady, James P. Conway, Archie Kennebeck, Hugh Flannery.

Most of the local legion members will leave Lowell tomorrow morning on or about 9 o'clock. The majority plan to make the trip in automobiles, to Pittsfield and back. There will be a group of members leaving the city when they please. Lowell headquarters in Pittsfield will be Hotel Wendell. All legionnaires will register at convention headquarters upon arrival.

Tomorrow evening, local legionnaires will attend an important meeting of the Middlesex council, which meets in midnight session. The members will hold a caucus to decide upon a list of candidates to be presented in the annual election of officers for the coming year. Great interest centers always in the "county caucuses."

Lowell veterans have several candidates in mind for department offices. The local organization had no representative last year in state department executive offices and the members feel that it is high time for Lowell to be duly recognized.

Members hope to secure a place for some Lowell legionnaire on the state organization executive board, at least. Past 87 members received the official programs of the coming state convention this morning. The Berkshire city is preparing a glorious welcome for the World War heroes and guests. The principal buildings of Pittsfield are to be decorated lavishly with flags and other patriotic emblems. A great array of rare brilliancy and interest is being arranged in the grand concert and ball to be given in the state armory in Pittsfield, Thursday evening, as one of the municipality's reception entertainment features.

Pittsfield post, American legion, is undertaking the entire responsibility of welcoming the delegates. Senators, generals, congressmen, lawyers, majors of many cities, representatives of the state and nation of high official rank, as well as many of the highest officers of the veterans' organization, will attend the convention proceedings and participate in the social functions. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, retiring legion state commander, is to be given a big welcome when he arrives from Boston with a party of regular army officers and national guardsmen.

ELECTED TREASURER OF ROXBURY JUDGE LOANS

BOSTON, August 19.—When Henry Sulkin of Roxbury respectfully told Central court yesterday that he would only $5, not expecting the fine would be $10 for parking his car too long in Blackstone street, Judge Laurie, knowing the defendant he had just fined, loaned back to a convenient angle where he could reach in his own pocket and produced and tendered to the accused the extra $5 bill.

"Thank you," said Sulkin, "I will return it this afternoon."

"Any time at all," returned Judge Laurie—"Next case."

MORE PAY THAN THE SUPERINTENDENT

A situation unique in Lowell political history was brought to the attention of the board of public service in a formal report yesterday afternoon. A carpenter was hired a week ago by the board to repair fences around the reservoirs and do other odd jobs. It developed yesterday that for his tinkering he is being paid more money than the superintendent of the water department.

The carpenter is given 90 cents an hour, the union wage for carpenters in the employ of the municipality. And he gets paid, unlike his less fortunate fellow craftsmen, for every day, rain or shine. A carpenter in the city employ gets in a full 48-hour week every week.

The superintendent of the water department gets 87 cents an hour and he works eight hours a day, seven days a week, a total of 56 hours.

REVISED LIST OF PRECINCT OFFICERS

The municipal elections board will, within the week, issue a revised list of precinct officials which is awaited with interest. Changes for the most part will be in the democratic personnel. It was stated today on what is deemed good authority, the only changes in the republican ranks contemplated being the filling of vacancies.

Dominick Molloy, democratic member of the board, is said by politicians to have asserted his right to change some of the officers and his fellow members are believed ready to acquiesce to his wishes. Mr. Molloy was appointed to succeed Joseph H. McGuire.

Lowell District Court

On William P. Desllets of Plinston, N. H., for attempting to steal the automobile of Ralph S. Harlow of Tyngsboro. Attorney Charles A. Donahue asked the court to give defendant another chance in view of the fact that he had never been arrested before, and when the complainant agreed to this, Judge Enright imposed the suspended sentence, adding that defendant should consider himself a lucky man to get off so lightly.

Walter Kargota, who tore Patrolman John Murphy's coat while under arrest last Sunday, agreed to make compensation for the coat. A charge of assaulting an officer, therefore, was placed on probation.

Suspended sentences of four months each in the house of correction were imposed on John R. Thornton and Mary B. Moran, both charged with being drunk.

John J. Dunlavy, drunkenness and operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, was continued to Aug. 28.

CHAMPIONSHIP FOR LOWELL PLAYGROUND

The championship for the Lowell playground is to be held on Wednesday afternoon on the Allen street playground between the North team and the Greenhedge, each team having won five and lost one game. The winner of this game is to represent Lowell in the Lowell-Haverhill baseball game on August 25th in Lowell.

There is the list that was "selected as candidates" nearly a month ago on July 26—and which is not approved by many legionnaires, representing many sections of the state, including Lowell:

For commander, Leo M. Harlow, North Boston; first vice-commander, Francis J. Good, Cambridge; second vice-commander, William McGinnis, Lawrence; third vice-commander, A. C. Janssen, Pittsfield; William Miller, North Andover; Matthew Boyle, East Boston; Frank Pope, Quincy; Richard Paul, Canton; John Guinasso, Westfield.

For adjutant, Leo A. Spillane, Jamaica Plain; treasurer, Margaret Mitchell, Boston; historian, Dr. Claude M. Funes, Andover; chaplain, D. C. Healey, Medford; delegates at large, Ralph Robert (D.C.), Cambridge; Squillotti, Boston; Julius Haller, Needham.

MAN HALF OF FINE

A special meeting of the St. Antonio Portuguese society was held in the clubrooms last evening to take action on the death of Antonio Picanço, who had served in the capacity of treasurer.

The two squadrons of the Eighth Hussars from Strasbourg and a company of the 107th infantry from Kehl, which formed the entire occupying force, numbering something less than 200 men, have rejoined their garrisons.

VISCOUNT GREY OUT U. S. FLIERS IN SMASHUP

Retires From Liberal Leadership of House of Lords For Personal Reasons

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Viscount Grey of Fallodon has retired from the liberal leadership of the House of Lords for personal reasons, it was announced today.

Viscount Grey, who was secretary of state for foreign affairs from 1905 to 1916, and British ambassador to the United States temporarily in 1919, was created a viscount in 1916. He has been a liberal member of the house of commons for Berwick-on-Tweed from 1885 until he was elevated to the peerage. He is, in his 63rd year.

Both Planes Suffered Damage in an Attempted Start for Greenland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The American army fliers will be unable to leave Iceland for Greenland for at least three days more, owing to damage suffered by both planes in an attempted start.

Lieutenants Lowell H. Smith and Erik Nelson, the pilots, with their mechanics, Lieutenants Leslie Arnold and John Harding, Jr., rose early yesterday, enthused by the prospect of continuing the flight, after a tedious wait here for favorable weather conditions and the establishment of a suitable landing place on the Greenland coast.

Their machines were heavily loaded with fuel for the hop of more than 500 miles to Frederiksdaal, and it was this extra weight that caused the trouble, as the planes refused to lift from the water. Repeated efforts to get off were in vain, and the strain caused the spreader bar on Lieutenant Smith's plane to break, while the propeller of the other machine was shattered.

Repairs wait on the arrival here of the cruiser Richmond, with spare parts. The cruiser which had put to sea in anticipation of the flight is expected to return tomorrow.

The— Kelvinator

"The Ice That Never Melts"

Think how pleased you would be if you could place a block of ice in your refrigerator now that would last summer long.

A KELVINATOR placed in the ice chamber of your refrigerator will maintain an even temperature (colder than possible with ice) and free you of warm weather worries over the preservation of food.

Our own men, factory trained, are constantly installing Kelvinators in ever increasing numbers in residences in all sections of the city and surrounding towns. Let us quote you figures.
